book explores the puzzling phenomenon of new veiling practices among lower middle class women in Cairo Egypt Although these women are part of a modernizing middle class they also voluntarily adopt a traditional symbol of female subordination How can this paradox be explained An explanation emerges which reconceptualizes what appears to be reactionary behavior as a new style of political struggle as accommodating protest These women most of them clerical workers in the large government bureaucracy are ambivalent about working outside the home considering it a change which brings new burdens as well as some important benefits At the same time they realize that leaving home and family is creating an intolerable situation of the erosion of their social status and the loss of their traditional identity The new veiling expresses women s protest against this MacLeod argues that the symbolism of the new veiling emerges from this tense subcultural dilemma involving elements of both resistance and acquiescence      Web of Life Galit Hasan-Rokem,2000 Web of Life weaves its suggestive interpretation of Jewish culture in the Palestine of late antiquity on the warp of a singular breathtakingly tragic and sublime rabbinic text Lamentations Rabbah The textual analyses that form the core of the book are informed by a range of theoretical paradigms rarely brought to bear on rabbinic literature structural analysis of mythologies and folktales performative approaches to textual production feminist theory psychoanalytical analysis of culture cultural criticism and folk narrative genre analysis The concept of context as the hermeneutic basis for literary interpretation reactivates the written text and subverts the hierarchical structures with which it has been traditionally identified This book reinterprets rabbinic culture as an arena of multiple dialogues that traverse traditional concepts of identity regarding gender nation religion and territory The author s approach is permeated by the idea that scholarly writing about ancient texts is invigorated by an existential hermeneutic rooted in the universality of human experience She thus resorts to personal experience as an idiom of communication between author and reader and between human beings of our time and of the past This research acknowledges the overlap of poetic and analytical language as well as the language of analysis and everyday life In eliciting folk narrative discourses inside the rabbinic text the book challenges traditional views about the social basis that engendered these texts It suggests the subversive potential of the constitutive texts of Jewish culture from late antiquity to the present by pointing out the inherent multi vocality of the text adding to the conventionally acknowledged synagogue and academy the home the marketplace and other private and public socializing institutions      Conservative Judaism ,2000
