Robertson Davies A Mingling Of Contrarities:

Robertson Davies Camille R. La Bossière, Linda M. Morra, 2001 This collection of essays on the writing of Robertson Davies addresses the basic problems in reading his work by looking at the topics of doubling disguise irony paradox and dwelling in gaps or spaces in between The essays present new insights on a broad range of topics in Davies oeuvre and represent one of the first major discussions devoted to Davies work since his death in 1995 Published in English

Robertson Davies Nicholas Maes, 2009-03-23 Born in Thamesville Ontario a student at Queen's University in Kingston in the 1930s and editor and later publisher of the Peterborough Examiner from the 1940s to the mid 1960s playwright essayist critic professor and novelist Robertson Davies 1913-1995 was one of Canada's pre-eminent literary voices for more than a half century Davies with his generous beard and donnish manner was the very epitome of the man of letters a term he abhorred Best known for his Deptford Trilogy of novels Fifth Business The Manticore World of Wonders he also wrote two other trilogies Salterton and Cornish and was at work on the third volume of another trilogy Toronto when he died With a life as rich in character and colour as that found in his fiction and essays Davies had a great fondness for magic and myth both of which are found in abundance in his work along with a prodigious streak of wry humour The Routledge Companion to Theatre-Fiction Graham Wolfe, 2023-11-14 Novelists have long been attracted to theatre Some have pursued success on the stage but many have sought to combine these worlds entering theatre through their fiction setting stages on their novels pages and casting actors directors and playwrights as their protagonists The Routledge Companion to Theatre Fiction has convened an international community of scholars to explore the remarkable array of novelists from many eras and parts of the world who have created fiction from the stuff of theatre asking what happens to theatre on the pages of novels and what happens to novels when they collaborate with theatre From J W Goethe to Louisa May Alcott Mikhail Bulgakov Virginia Woolf and Margaret Atwood some of history's most influential novelists have written theatre fiction and this Companion discusses many of these figures from new angles But it also spotlights writers who have received less critical attention such as Dorothy Leighton Agustín de Rojas Villandrando Ronald Firbank Syed Mustafa Siraj Li Yu and Vicente Blasco Ibáñez bringing their work into conversation with a vital field A valuable resource for students scholars and admirers of both theatre and novels The Routledge Companion to Theatre Fiction offers a wealth of new perspectives on topics of increasing critical concern including intermediality theatricality antitheatricality mimesis diegesis and performativity Robertson Davies's Cornish Trilogy Victor J. Lams, 2008 Robertson Davies's Cornish Trilogy A Reader's Guide is the first book-length study of Davies's best work The Rebel Angels What's Bred in the Bone and The Lyre of Orpheus In The Rebel Angels Maria and Darcourt alternate in narrating the novel's theme obsession before escaping from its grip by their mutual assistance while other characters are less fortunate What's Bred in the Bone narrates the artistic development of Canadian painter Francis Cornish which is crowned by his stunning Marriage at Cana an iconographic presentation of his personal myth a color reproduction of Bronzino's Allegory exemplifies their stylistic kinship. While The Lyre of Orpheus is ostensibly focused on the completion and staging of an unfinished Hoffmann opera, it narrates the ameliorative personal development of the characters who interact during that project.

Emergence and Empire John Bonnett, 2013-11-01 Harold Innis was one of the most profound thinkers that Canada ever produced. Such was his influence on the field of communication that Marshall McLuhan once declared his own work was a mere footnote to Innis. But over the past sixty years, scholars have had a hard time explaining his brilliance in large measure because Innis's dense elliptical writing style has hindered easy explication and interpretation. But behind the dense verbiage lies a profound philosophy of history. In Emergence and Empire, John Bonnett offers a fresh take on Innis's work by demonstrating that his purpose was to understand the impact of self-organizing emergent change on economies and societies. Innis's interest in emergent change induced him to craft an original and bold philosophy of history informed by concepts as diverse as information, Kantian idealism, and business cycle theory. Bonnett provides a close reading of Innis's oeuvre that connects works of communication and economic history to present a fuller understanding of Innis's influences and influence. Emergence and Empire presents a portrait of an original and prescient thinker who anticipated the importance of developments such as information visualization and whose understanding of change is remarkably similar to that which is promoted by the science of complexity today.

Essay and General Literature Index Minnie Earl Sears, Marian Shaw, Dorothy Herbert West, 2003 Includes List of books indexed published also separately Majesty in Canada Colin Coates, 2006-02-04 On the occasion of the fiftieth anniversary of Queen Elizabeth's accession to the throne, the Centre of Canadian Studies of the University of Edinburgh hosted its annual conference on the theme Majesty in Canada. The essays that were presented at that conference reflect the wide-ranging recognitions of the different roles that monarchs and their representatives have played in Canada. The essays examine how Canadians have understood their ties to royalty and how the regal principle formed an important part of the national identity. Royal tours, vice-regal initiatives, representations of the sovereign's power, and Canadian appeals to monarchical sentiments comprise the themes of these engaging essays, providing an up-to-date look at the historical and current personal influence of the Crown in Canada.

American Writers Elizabeth H. Oakes, 2004 American Writers focuses on the rich diversity of American novelists.

Canadian Literature Faye Hammill, 2007-09-13 An important critical study of Canadian literature placing internationally successful anglophone Canadian authors in the context of their national literary history. While the focus of the book is on twentieth-century and contemporary writing, it also charts the historical development of Canadian literature and discusses important eighteenth and nineteenth-century authors. The chapters focus on four central topics in Canadian culture: Ethnicity, Race, Colonisation, Wildernesses, Cities, Regions, Desire, and Histories and Stories. Each chapter combines case studies of five key texts with a broad discussion of concepts and approaches, including postcolonial and postmodern reading strategies and theories of space, place, and desire. Authors chosen for close analysis include Margaret Atwood, Michael Ondaatje, Alice Munro, Leonard Cohen.

Thomas King and Carol Shields      Canadian Scholars Bundle Nicholas Maes, Judith Fitzgerald, T.F. Rigelhof, Deborah Cowley, 2013-12-16 Presenting four titles in the Quest Biography series that profiles prominent people in Canada's history. In these books we explore Canada's rich academic and philosophical history through the fascinating lives of some of its most influential figures. Profiled are prescient media guru Marshall McLuhan, physician Lucille Teasdale, political philosopher George Grant, and novelist and literary theorist Robertson Davies. Includes George Grant, Lucille Teasdale, Marshall McLuhan, Robertson Davies      Home-work Cynthia Conchita Sugars, 2004-06-22 Canadian literature and specifically the teaching of Canadian literature has emerged from a colonial duty to a nationalist enterprise and into the current territory of postcolonialism. From practical discussions related to specific texts to more theoretical discussions about pedagogical practice regarding issues of nationalism and identity, Home Work constitutes a major investigation and reassessment of the influence of postcolonial theory on Canadian literary pedagogy from some of the top scholars in the field      At the Speed of Light There is Only Illumination John Moss, Linda M. Morra, 2004-06-01 At the Speed of Light There is Only Illumination collects a dozen re-evaluative essays on Marshall McLuhan and his critical and theoretical legacy from intellectual adventurer creating a complex architecture of ideas to cultural icon standing in line in Woody Allen's Annie Hall. Given McLuhan's prominent status in many academic disciplines, the contributors reflect a multi-disciplinary background. John Moss and Linda Morra chose the essays from a gathering of McLuhan's academic devotees. The contribution from McLuhan as Medium and McLuhan in Space to What McLuhan Got Wrong and Trouble in the Global Village to provide a kaleidoscope of new views. As Moss writes of the collected essays: Some are big and some are small, some exegetic and some confessional, some stand as major statements and others are sidelong glances, some resonate with the concerns of public discourse and others are private or privileged or impious and provocative. Each consists of many parts, each a design on its own. They speak to each other; they may have come together as one version of what happened. Published in English      The Routledge Concise History of Canadian Literature Richard J. Lane, 2012-04-27 The Routledge Concise History of Canadian Literature introduces the fiction, poetry, and drama of Canada in its historical, political, and cultural contexts. In this clear and structured volume, Richard Lane outlines the history of Canadian literature from colonial times to the present, key texts for Canadian First Peoples and the literature of Quebec, the impact of English translation and the Canadian immigrant experience, critical themes such as landscape, ethnicity, orality, textuality, war, and nationhood, contemporary debate on the canon, feminism, postcoloniality, queer theory, and cultural and ethnic diversity, the work of canonical and lesser-known writers from Catherine Parr Traill and Susanna Moodie to Robert Service, Maria Campbell, and Douglas Coupland. Written in an engaging and accessible style and offering a glossary, maps, and further reading sections, this guidebook is a crucial resource for students working in the field of Canadian Literature      Double-Takes David R. Jarraway, 2013-05-25 The widest ranging exploration to date of the interaction between English Canadian literature and film      The Ivory Thought Gerald Lynch, 2008-02-28 If one poet can be said to be the Canadian poet that poet is Al Purdy 1918 2000 Numerous eminent scholars and writers have attested to this pre eminent status George Bowering described him as the world s most Canadian poet 1970 while Sam Solecki titled his book length study of Purdy The Last Canadian Poet 1999 In The Ivory Thought Essays on Al Purdy a group of seventeen scholars critics writers and educators appraise and reappraise Purdy s contribution to English literature They explore Purdy s continuing significance to contemporary writers the life he dedicated to literature and the persona he crafted the influences acting on his development as a poet the ongoing scholarly projects of editing and publishing his writing particular poems and individual books of poetry fiction and non fiction and the larger themes in his work such as the Canadian North and the predominant importance of place In addition two contemporary poets pay tribute with original poems

Windows and Words Aïda Hudson, Susan-Ann Cooper, 2003-08-13 This collection of essays confirms and celebrates the artistry of Canadian children s literature Contributors include Janet Lunn and Tim Wynne Jones Windows and Words is a collection of seventeen essays that confirms and celebrates the artistry of Canadian Children s Literature There are essays that survey a wealth of English language fiction from the internationally acclaimed work of Lucy Maud Montgomery the aboriginal adolescent novel to the increasingly multi cultural character of children s books Others examine book illustration visual literacy and the creative partnership seen in the picture book and its art design With contributions by two Governor General s Award winning authors Janet Lunn and Tim Wynne Jones and a final commentary by Elizabeth Waterson the heart of this collection offers a unique perspective on the artistry of writing for children and claims a rightful place for Canadian children s literature as literature Published in English

The Canadian Modernists Meet Dean Irvine, 2005-07-12 The Canadian Modernists Meet is a collection of new critical essays on major and rediscovered Canadian writers of the early to mid twentieth century F R Scott s well known poem The Canadian Authors Meet sets the theme for the volume a revisiting of English Canada s formative movements in modernist poetry fiction and drama As did Scott s poem Dean Irvine s collection raises questions about modernism and antimodernism nationalism and antinationalism gender and class originality and influence that remain central to contemporary research on early to mid twentieth century English Canadian literature Published in English

Re: Reading the Postmodern Robert David Stacey, 2010 Bringing together many of the country s most significant critics including several of the originators of postmodern thought in Canada this book marks a first step towards a history of Canadian postmodernism exploring the development of the idea of the postmodern debates about its meaning and its applicability to various genres of Canadian writing and charting its decline in recent years as a favoured critical trope book cover

Northrop Frye David Rampton, 2009 More than fifty years after the publication of Anatomy of Criticism Northrop Frye remains one of Canada s most influential intellectuals This reappraisal reasserts the relevance of his work to the study of literature and illuminates its fruitful intersection with a variety of other fields including film cultural studies linguistics and feminism Many of the contributors draw upon the early essays correspondence and diaries recently published as part of the Collected Works of Northrop Frye series in order to explore the development of his extraordinary intellectual range and the implications of his imaginative syntheses They refute postmodernist arguments that Frye's literary criticism is obsolete and propose his wide ranging and non linear ways of thinking as a model for twenty first century readers searching for innovative ways of understanding literature and its relevance to contiguous disciplines The volume provides an in depth examination of Frye's work on a range of literary questions periods and genres as well as a consideration of his contributions to literary theory philosophy and theology The portrait that emerges is that of a writer who still has much to offer those interested in literature and the ways it represents and transforms our world The book's overall argument is that Frye's case for the centrality of the imagination has never been more important where understanding history reconciling science and culture or reconceptualizing social change is concerned Published in English
