her material goods and powers this book delivers a new approach It shows how the unique barriers Beijing is facing are preventing the country from taking the traditional paths of territorial expansion and political economic domination in order to develop as a great power One of these barriers is the United States and its inherent military and economic strength The other is the existence of nuclear weapons which makes direct great power conflict unacceptably costly China has therefore opted for a new path using institutions as stepping stones to great power status This book will be of great interest to students and scholars of international relations world politics world history and Asia

Chinese Foreign Relations Robert G. Sutter,2010 A third edition of this book is now available This comprehensive and thoroughly updated introduction to Chinese foreign relations discerns the opportunities and limits China faces as it seeks increased international influence Tracing the record of twists and turns in Chinese foreign relations since the end of the Cold War Robert G Sutter provides a nuanced analysis that shows that despite popular perceptions of its growing power Beijing is hampered by both domestic and international constraints This text's balanced and meticulous assessment shows China's leaders exerting more influence in world affairs but remaining far from dominant Facing numerous contradictions and tradeoffs they move cautiously as they deal with a complex global environment

Emerging Powers, Emerging Markets, Emerging Societies Steen Fryba Christensen,Li Xing,2016-04-08 The rise of emerging or new powers has recently become one of the most researched areas in International Relations While most studies focus on relations between traditional and emerging powers this edited collection turns the focus 180 degrees and asks how countries outside these two power sets have reacted to the emerging new world order Are emerging powers creating a united front in a struggle to change the global order or are they more concerned with national interests Are we seeing major changes in the global order or simply an adjustment by the traditional powers to the emergence of new contenders In order to answer these questions the authors take a broad thematic approach in analyzing recent trends in the interplay between states markets and societies concentrating in particular on Latin America Africa the Middle East and Europe and on the three major emerging powers China India and Brazil
