Undercover Asian Leilani Nishime, 2014-01-30 In this first book length study of media images of multiracial Asian Americans Leilani Nishime traces the codes that alternatively enable and prevent audiences from recognizing the multiracial status of Asian Americans Nishime s perceptive readings of popular media movies television shows magazine articles and artwork indicate how and why the viewing public often fails to identify multiracial Asian Americans Using actor Keanu Reeves and the Matrix trilogy golfer Tiger Woods as examples Nishime suggests that this failure is tied to gender sexuality and post racial politics Also considering alternative images such as reality TV star Kimora Lee Simmons the television show Battlestar Galactica and the artwork of Kip Fulbeck this incisive study offers nuanced interpretations that open the door to a new and productive understanding of race in America

The Postmodern Sacred Emily McAvan, 2012-10-09 From The Matrix and Harry Potter to Stargate SG 1 and The X Files recent science fiction and fantasy offerings both reflect and produce a sense of the religious This work examines this pop culture spirituality or postmodern sacred showing how consumers use the symbols contained in explicitly unreal texts to gain a secondhand experience of transcendence and belief Topics include how media technologies like CGI have blurred the lines between real and unreal the polytheisms of Buffy and Xena the New Age Gnosticism of The DaVinci Code the Islamic Other and science fiction s response to 9 11 and the Christian Right and popular culture Today s pervasive saturated media culture this work shows has utterly collapsed the sacred profane binary so that popular culture is not only powerfully shaped by the discourses of religion but also shapes how the religious appears and is experienced in the contemporary world

Spectacular Posthumanism Drew Ayers, 2019-04-18 Spectacular Posthumanism examines the ways in which VFX imagery fantasizes about digital disembodiment while simultaneously reasserting the importance of the lived body Analyzing a wide range of case studies including the films of David Cronenberg and Stanley Kubrick image technologies such as performance capture and crowd simulation Game of Thrones Terminator Genisys Planet Earth and 300 Ayers builds on Miriam Hansen s concept of vernacular modernism to argue that the vernacular posthumanism of these media objects has a phenomenological impact on viewers As classical Hollywood cinema initiated viewers into the experience of modernism so too does the VFX image initiate viewers into digital posthuman modes of thinking and being Ayers s innovative close reading of popular mass market media objects reveals the complex ways that these popular media struggle to make sense of humanity s place within the contemporary world Spectacular Posthumanism argues that special and visual effects images produce a digital posthuman vernacular one which generates competing fantasies about the utopian and dystopian potential of a nonhuman future As humanity grapples with such heady issues as catastrophic climate change threats of anonymous cyber warfare an increasing reliance on autonomous computing systems genetic manipulation of both humans and nonhumans and the promise of technologically enhanced bodies the anxieties related to these issues register in popular culture Through the process of compositing humans and nonhumans into a seemingly seamless whole digital images visualize a utopian fantasy in which flesh and information might easily coexist and cohabitate with each other These images however also exhibit the dystopic anxieties that develop around this fantasy Relevant to our contemporary moment Spectacular Posthumanism both diagnoses and offers a critique of this fantasy arguing that this posthuman imagination overlooks the importance of embodiment and lived experience
