Money In The Family Financial Organisation And Womens Responsibility:

Money in the Family Gail Wilson, 1987 Wealth and Poverty in Close Personal Relationships Susan Millns, Simone Wong, 2017-07-14 At a time of global and domestic economic crisis the financial aspects of domestic and familial relationships are more important and more strained than ever before The focus of this book is on the distribution of wealth and poverty in traditional and non traditional familial relationships The volume takes an interdisciplinary approach to explore the way in which money matters are structured and governed within close personal relationships and the extent to which they have an impact on the nature and economic dynamics of relationships As such the key areas of investigation are the extent to which participation in the labour market unpaid caregiving inheritance pensions and welfare reform have an impact on familial relationships The authors also explore governmental and legal responses by investigating the privileging of certain types of domestic relationships through fiscal and non fiscal measures and the differential provision on relationship breakdown The impact of budget and welfare cuts is also examined for their effect on equality in domestic relationships The Economic Psychology of Everyday Life Paul Webley, Carole Burgoyne, Stephen Lea, Brian Young, 2002-01-04 From childhood through to adulthood retirement and finally death The Economic Psychology of Everyday Life uniquely explores the economic problems all individuals have to solve across the course of their lives Webley Burgoyne Lea and Young begin by introducing the concept of economic behaviour and its study They then examine the main economic issues faced at each life stage including the impact of advertising on children buying a first house and setting up home changing family roles and gender linked inequality redundancy and unemployment coping on a pension obituaries wills and inheritance Finally they draw together the commonalities of economic problems across the lifespan discuss generational and cultural changes in economic behaviour and examine the significance of other non economic constraints upon individuals The Economic Psychology of Everyday Life provides a much needed comprehensive and accessible guide to economic psychology which will be of great interest to researchers and students The Gender of Capital Céline Bessière, Sibylle Gollac, 2023-03-07 In countries with officially egalitarian property law women still accumulate less wealth than men Combining quantitative ethnographic and archival research The Gender of Capital explains how and why women of all classes are economically disadvantaged at crucial junctures in family life such as divorce inheritance and succession Family, State and Social Policy Lorraine Fox Harding, 1995-12-13 Family State and Social Policy brings together two important themes the changing nature of the family and the relationship between family and state as it is expressed in social policy The book explores and clarifies the significance both of family change for policy and of policy for families outlining models that can be used in order to understand the state s approach and response to families Ageing, Independence, and the Life Course Sara Arber, 1993 Using a life course approach which emphasises the importance of recognising the effects of different life experiences on different groups of individuals and the interlinkage between phases of the life course the book explores the ways in which bases of structural advantage and disadvantage have cumulative impacts on the situation of older people

Beyond the Resources of Poverty Sebnem Eroglu, 2016-04-08 This groundbreaking volume researches the lives of gecekondu settlers in the capital city of Turkey in order to understand how households cope with poverty and why some households are more successful than others in reducing their deprivation It takes a critical stance towards existing conceptions such as household survival livelihood and coping strategy and develops an alternative model based on four types of household response to poverty income generation income allocation consumption and investment In explaining household responses and their outcomes for poverty the book demonstrates the role of different resources beyond income including social economic and cultural capital It emphasises broader structural factors such as labour market processes and state policies which influence the availability and or benefit delivery capacity of household resources and thereby moves beyond the dominant view which overemphasises the resilience of the poor Gender divisions within the household are also examined The book adopts an innovative method for measuring poverty The new method combines objective and subjective dimensions of deprivation to develop a unique way of addressing two central questions what are those standards of living whose absence indicates deprivation and how can the value of each standard of living be determined

Gender, 'Race' and Patriarchy Kalwant Bhopal, 2019-01-15 The book offers one of the first detailed studies of South Asian women it provides new empirical data on the issues apparent in South Asian women s lives by giving voice to a group of women who would otherwise remain silent It is based upon an ethnographic study of a small South Asian community in an inner city The book offers a new and compelling account of South Asian women as well as focussing on the ways in which gender and race interact in women s lives The book offers an important theoretical contribution to the area of feminist theory The concept of patriarchy is contested and reworked and applied to the study of South Asian women and their cultural experiences In this sense practices such as arranged marriages dowries domestic labour and domestic finance are analyzed as different influences of patriarchy inside the household as well as education and the labour market as influences of patriarchy outside the household

Understanding Family Process Carlfred B. Broderick, 1993-03-09 Systems theory is the basic theoretical model underlying most contemporary family therapy In this accessible introduction the author traces how systems theory gave rise to family systems theory outlines the basic propositions of family systems and links it both to other family theory literature and to clinical practice Among the topics covered are relational space family boundaries family stratification and child socialization Family meanings and such shared realities as family folklore stories myths and memorabilia are discussed Family rituals are also explored

Theorizing Patriarchy Sylvia Walby, 1991-01-08 Sylvia Walby provides an overview of recent theoretical debates Marxism radical and liberal feminism post structuralism and dual systems theory She shows how each can be applied to a range of substantive topics from paid work housework and the state to culture sexuality and violence relying on the most up to date empirical findings Arguing that patriarchy has been vigorously adaptable to the changes in women's position and that some of women's hard won social gains have been transformed into new traps Walby proposes a combination of class analysis with radical feminist theory to explain gender relations in terms of both patriarchal and capitalist structure
