Negro Slave Songs in the United States Miles Mark Fisher, 1963 Negro Slave Songs in the United States, Etc Miles Mark FISHER, 1953 The African Presence in Black America Jacob U. Gordon, 2004 Accepting the basic premise that Africa is the ancestral homeland of black Americans raises questions as to how much if any of African cultural heritage remains within that community Some claim that the severity of the plantation system and the acculturation process of the slaves could not have left any Africanism in the New World while others argue that African cultural heritage can still be seen today in many aspects of American life and thought This volume revisits the debate examining the ways in which this alleged cultural heritage manifests itself Slave Songs of the United States William Francis Allen, Charles Pickard Ware, Lucy McKim Garrison, Irving Schlein, 1867 Slavery in America Kenneth Morgan, 2005 Designed specially for undergraduate course use this new textbook is both an introduction to the study of American slavery and a reader of core texts on the subject No other volume that combines both primary and secondary readings covers such a span of time from the early seventeenth century to the Civil War The book begins with a substantial introduction to the entire volume that gives an overview of slavery in North America Each of the twelve chapters that follow has an introduction that discusses the leading secondary books and articles on the topic in question followed by an essay and three primary documents Questions for further study and discussion are included in the chapter introduction while further readings are suggested in the chapter bibliography Topics covered include slave culture the slave based economy slavery and the law slave resistance pro slavery ideology abolition and emancipation The essays by such eminent historians as Drew Gilpin Faust Don E Fehrenbacher Eric Foner John Hope Franklin and Sylvia R Frey have been selected for their teaching value and ability to provoke discussion Drawing on black and white male and female experiences the primary documents come from a wide variety of sources diaries letters laws debates oral testimonies travelers accounts inventories journals autobiographies petitions and novels The Cross of Christ in African American Christian Religious Experience Demetrius K. Williams, 2023-10-03 In The Cross of Christ in African American Christian Religious Experience Piety Politics and Protest Demetrius K Williams examines and explores the ideational importance and rhetorical function of cross language and terminology in Black religious experience through an ideological lens Williams argues that for the first time in Christian history the European nation of Portugal under the guidance of Prince Henry used the theology of the cross to justify and sustain an exclusive trade of Sub Saharan African peoples Claiming that Jesus died on the cross only to save lost souls provided a convincing rationale for Henry's exploratory voyages of discovery to West Africa to exclusively enslave Black bodies With the confirmation of Catholic Popes and the competition of other European nations this same rationale would inspire empire building colonization and slave trading justified on their newly constructed ideological narrative of compassionate evangelism to save lost souls Over time with massive conversions to the faith of their enslavers Black people's Christian religious experiences would articulate a response to the world that held them in thrall That response would be articulated most consistently and effectively through their understanding of the cross of Christ Williams affirms Howard Thurman's claim that by some amazing but vastly creative spiritual insight the slave undertook the redemption of a religion that the master had profaned in his midst The Motif of Hope in African American Preaching during Slavery and the Post-Civil War Era Wayne E. Croft Sr., 2017-10-16 The Motif of Hope in African American Preaching during Slavery and the Post Civil War Era There's a Bright Side Somewhere explores the use of the motif of hope within African American preaching during slavery 1803-1865 and the post Civil War era 1865-1896 It discusses the presentation of the motif of hope in African American preaching from an historical perspective and how this motif changed while in some instances remained the same with the changing of its historical context Furthermore this discussion illuminates a reality that hope has been a theme of importance throughout the history of African American preaching Black Poets of the United States Jean Wagner, 1973 Traces the evolution of Afro American poetry highlighting individual poets up to the time of the Harlem Renaissance Theorizing Scriptures Vincent L. Wimbush, 2008 Historically religious scriptures are defined as holy texts that are considered to be beyond the abilities of the layperson to interpret Their content is most frequently analyzed by clerics who do not question the underlying political or social implications of the text but use the writing to convey messages to their congregations about how to live a holy existence In this innovative collection of essays that aims to turn the traditional bible study definition of scriptures on its head Vincent L. Wimbush leads an in depth look at the social cultural and racial meanings invested in these texts
