Queensland Frontier:

Colonial frontiers Lynette Russell, 2017-03-01 Cross cultural encounters produce boundaries and frontiers This book explores the formation structure and maintenance of boundaries and frontiers in settler colonies The southern nations of Australia New Zealand and South Africa have a common military heritage as all three united to fight for the British Empire during the Boer and First World Wars The book focuses on the southern latitudes and especially Australia and Australian historiography Looking at cross cultural interactions in the settler colonies the book illuminates the formation of new boundaries and the interaction between settler societies and indigenous groups It contends that the frontier zone is a hybrid space a place where both indigene and invader come together on land that each one believes to be their own The best way to approach the northern Cape frontier zone is via an understanding of the significance of the frontier in South African history The book explores some ways in which discourses of a natural prehistoric Aboriginality inform colonial representations of the Australian landscape and its inhabitants both indigenous and immigrant The missions of the London Missionary Society LMS in Polynesia and Australia are examined to explore the ways in which frontiers between British and antipodean cultures were negotiated in colonial textuality The role of the Treaty of Waitangi in New Zealand society is possibly the most important and controversial issue facing modern New Zealanders The book also presents valuable insights into sexual politics Aboriginal sovereignty economics of Torres Strait maritime and nomadism

Conspiracy of Silence Timothy Bottoms, 2013-05-27 As Europeans moved into new lands in Queensland in the 19th century violent encounters with local Aboriginals mostly followed Drawing on extensive original research Timothy Bottoms tells the story of the most violent frontier in Australian colonial history

Civilian-Driven Violence and the Genocide of Indigenous Peoples in Settler Societies Mohamed Adhikari, 2021-07-12 Existing studies of settler colonial genocides explicitly consider the roles of metropolitan and colonial states and their military forces in the perpetration of exterminatory violence in settler colonial situations yet rarely pay specific attention to the dynamics around civilian driven mass violence against indigenous peoples In many cases however civilians were major if not the main perpetrators of such violence The focus of this book is thus on the role of civilians as perpetrators of exterminatory violence and on those elements within settler colonial situations that promoted mass violence on their part

Queensland Lords Janet Spillman, 2015-09-10 Edward and Eliza Lord came to Moreton Bay in 1844 arriving as the remote convict outpost was opened up for free settlement Members of Lancashire merchant families they had invested their inheritances in NSW lands and a Sydney merchant firm just before the drought and crash of 1841 They moved north to rebuild their fortunes settling at Kangaroo Point before moving to the Darling Downs to start new commercial interests Although financial success continued to elude them the Lord family contributed to the settlement of colonial Queensland Edward and Eliza s great great grand daughter Janet Spillman explores the way Queensland moulded the Lord family s lives and the way family members contributed to the colony s development

From the Edge Mark

McKenna,2016-10-03 In March 1797 five British sailors and 12 Bengali seamen struggled ashore after their longboat broke apart in a storm Their fellow survivors from the wreck of the Sydney Cove were stranded more than 500 kilometres southeast in Bass Strait To rescue their mates and to save themselves the 19 men must walk 700 kilometres north to Sydney That remarkable walk is a story of endurance but also of unexpected Aboriginal help From the Edge Australia s Lost Histories recounts four such extraordinary and largely forgotten stories the walk of shipwreck survivors the founding of a new Singapore in western Arnhem Land in the 1840s Australia s largest industrial development project nestled amongst outstanding Indigenous rock art in the Pilbara and the ever changing story of James Cook s time in Cooktown in 1770 This new telling of the central drama of Australian history the encounter between Aboriginal and non Aboriginal Australians may hold the key to understanding this land and its people Historical Dictionary of Australian Aborigines Mitchell

Rolls,Murray Johnson,2019-11-05 The Aboriginal Australians first arrived on the continent at least 60 000 years ago occupying and adapting to a range of environmental conditions from tropical estuarine habitats densely forested regions open plains and arid desert country to cold mountainous and often wet and snowy high country Cultures adapted according to the different conditions and adapted again to environmental changes brought about by rising sea levels at the end of the last ice age European colonization of the island continent in 1788 not only introduced diseases to which Aborigines had no immunity but also began an enduring and at times violent conflict over land and resources Reconciliation between Aborigines and the settler population remains unresolved This second edition of the Historical Dictionary of Australian Aborigines contains a chronology an introduction an extensive bibliography and more than 300 cross referenced entries on the politics economy foreign relations religion and culture of the Aborigines This book is an excellent resource for students researchers and anyone wanting to know more about the indigenous people of Australia Genocide and Propaganda Paul R.

Bartrop,2025-01-23 Perpetrators of genocidal violence have regularly orchestrated propaganda campaigns using newspapers radio televisions the internet and other means to justify mass killings Through 50 primary sources readers will learn about 11 genocides spanning the 19th and 20th centuries including campaigns against Native Americans the Holocaust and more recent tragedies in Bosnia Herzegovina and Rwanda During these periods of history propaganda was used to alienate the target population provide reasons for the necessary persecution of the group and reinforce the authority of the perpetrating government Each section begins with an introductory essay exploring the course of the genocide giving readers the background knowledge needed to understand the documents that follow Each piece of propaganda is accompanied by a brief introduction that provides key contextual information as well as in depth analysis of the impact that propaganda had Augmenting the main text are a collection of 19 high interest sidebars and an end of volume bibliography Imperial

Crime and Punishment Emma D. Watkins,Eleanor Bland,2025-10-06 Seeking to redress the traditional focus of historical criminology on the West and Global North Imperial Crime and Punishment brings a fresh perspective to this burgeoning field by drawing instead on imperial contexts The ^AOxford Handbook of the Archaeology of Indigenous Australia and New Guinea Ian J. McNiven, Bruno David, 2023-12-05 The Oxford Handbook of the Archaeology of Indigenous Australia and New Guinea reviews and brings together the latest findings on the archaeology of the Australia New Guinea region In 42 new chapters commissioned for this book 77 leading researchers present the archaeological evidence for Australia and New Guinea s deep time history The stories told reveal the astounding richness of Australia and New Guinea s Indigenous cultural history stories of tens of thousands of years of Aboriginal Torres Strait Islander and New Guinean adaptation cultural know how and creative ingenuity Educating Indigenous Children in Australian Juvenile Justice Systems Bronwyn Ewing, Grace Sarra, 2023-02-06 This book addresses key issues in the context of the national policy of educating children accused of crimes in Juvenile Courts in Australia For several decades National and State Governments in Australia have struggled to define education constantly seeking to improve the way society applies the concept This book presents an accurate portrayal of consequences of the education policy of trying to educate troubled children and young people in trouble with the law It describes the work of juvenile detention centre mathematics teachers and their teaching contexts It portrays teachers as learners who ventured with researchers with a theoretical perspective This book focuses on culturally responsive pedagogies that seek to understand the ways Indigenous children and young people in juvenile detention make sense of their mathematical learning which until the time of detention has been plagued by failure It examines how the underperformance of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander students and students from low socioeconomic backgrounds are strong determinants of their overrepresentation in the juvenile justice system in Australia This book presents the argument that if the students literacy and numeracy levels can be improved there is opportunity to build better futures away from involvement in the juvenile justice system and towards productive employment to improve life chances Genocide in the Age of the Nation State Mark Levene, 2005-08-26 Most books on genocide consider it primarily as a twentieth century phenomenon In The Rise of the West and the Coming of Genocide Levene argues that this approach fails to grasp its true origins Genocide developed out of modernity and the striving for the nation state both essentially Western experiences It was European expansion into all hemispheres between the fifteenth and nineteenth centuries that provided the main stimulus to its pre 1914 manifestations One critical outcome on the cusp of modernity was the French revolutionary destruction of the Vend e Levene finishes this volume at the 1914 watershed with the destabilising effects of the rise of the West on older Ottoman Chinese Russian and Austrian empires Very impressive Eric Hobsbawm Genocide on Settler Frontiers Mohamed Adhikari, 2015-06-01 European colonial conquest included many instances of indigenous peoples being exterminated Cases where invading commercial stock farmers clashed with hunter gatherers were particularly destructive often resulting in a degree of dispossession and slaughter that destroyed the ability of these societies to reproduce themselves The experience of aboriginal peoples in the settler colonies of southern Africa Australia North America and Latin America bears this out The frequency with which encounters of this kind resulted in the annihilation of forager societies raises the question of whether these conflicts were inherently genocidal an issue not yet addressed by scholars in a systematic way Aboriginal Family and the State Sally Babidge,2016-03-23 Aboriginal Family and the State examines the contemporary relations and history of Indigenous families in Australia specifically referencing issues of government control and recent official recognition of Aboriginal traditional owners Drawing on detailed empirical research it develops a discussion of the anthropological issues of kinship and relatedness within colonial and postcolonial contexts This volume explores the conditions affecting the formation of family among indigenous people in rural northern Australia as well as the contingencies of family in the legal and political context of contemporary indigenous claims to land With a rich discussion of the production practice and inscription of social relations this volume examines everyday expressions of family and events such as meetings and funerals demonstrating that kinship is formed and reformed through a complicated social practice of competing demands on identity Arsenic Flower Dakota Feirer,2025-09-30 A stunning poetry collection from black write fellowship winner Dakota Feirer In this breathtaking debut collection Bundjalung and Gumbaynggirr man Dakota Feirer potently explores the legacy of generational trauma and the cultural wisdom of First Nations people In a landscape of loss his words act as both spear and shield With dazzling imagery and rhythms inspired by lo fi hip hop these poems confront the violence of colonialism that echoes still in the complexities of black masculinity Drawing on cultural memories sprung from stolen Country bloodstained soil broken promises and poisoned waterholes Feirer s words roar and whisper as he gives voice to silenced histories Arsenic Flower is a stunning mosaic of intimate poetry These words are spears pointing toward truth and shattering the myth that we are all equal on stolen land Dakota Feirer s writing carries the force of a lightning strike and the flow of an ancient river current This collection is overflowing with rhythm wisdom and urgency A startlingly fresh voice JAZZ MONEY A powerful diverse original and very heartfelt collection of poems JEANINE LEANE With his award winning debut collection Dakota Feirer summons his Ancestors and yours Expect to be haunted and held as you gather by the river for ritual remembrance and reckoning KIRLI SAUNDERS Dakota Feirer is a poet of great skill Each work in this collection is a song every line a layer of our sense of selves as Mob Feirer is also a poet who respects those who have walked and written before him I know this through his words TONY BIRCH Tender and intimate Feirer writes with a biting subversive edge clear in language and boldly creative in form BOOKS PUBLISHING Exquisite profound and deeply moving VOGUE AUSTRALIA Indentured Labour in the British Empire, 1834-1920 Kay Saunders,2018-03-14 First published in 1984 Indentured labour migration in the nineteenth century intersects many of the most serious issues of our own time racism Third World poverty and the arrogance of a great world powers Indenture suggests lack of freedom and the exploitation of people formed into exile or misadventure Coming as it did after the abolition of slavery in the British Empire in 1834 in many respects it can be regarded as a replacement of the slave labour system Indeed both concerned humanitarians and officials in the nineteenth century and many historians subsequently have regarded indentured labour merely as a new system of slavery Many of the articles in this book address themselves to this assertion whilst investigating the particular variations inherent in their geographic area The differing patterns of Indian indenture in the West Indies and British Guiana coming almost immediately after slavery forms the first section of this book Attention is given to the Indians engaged in the sugar industries in Mauritius and Fiji and the rubber industry in Malaya The use of Pacific Islanders in the Queensland industry is also examined particularly in the sugar industry which by the early twentieth century contained the unique pattern of white expensive unionized labour Other groups dealt with include the aboriginal workers in Australia and the Chinese workers in the Transvaal Overall this book is comprehensive and far reaching in its scope and the complex issues which it raises Castaway Robert Macklin, 2019-06-25

In 1858 14 year old Narcisse Pelletier sailed from Marseilles in the French trader Saint Paul With a cargo of Bordeaux wine they stopped in Bombay then Hong Kong and from there they set sail with more than 300 Chinese prospectors bound for the goldfields of Ballarat and Bendigo Around the eastern tip of New Guinea however the ship became engulfed in fog struck reefs and ran aground Scrambling aboard a longboat the survivors undertook a perilous voyage crossing almost 1000 kilometres of the Coral Sea before reaching the shores of the Daintree region in far north Queensland where abandoned by his shipmates and left for dead Narcisse was rescued by the local Aboriginal people For seventeen years he lived with them growing to manhood and participating fully in their world until in 1875 he was discovered by the crew of a pearling lugger and wrenched from his Aboriginal family Taken back to his real life in France he became a lighthouse keeper married and had another family all the while dreaming of what he had left behind Drawing from firsthand interviews with Narcisse after his return to France and other contemporary accounts of exploration and survival and documenting the spread of European settlement in Queensland and the brutal frontier wars that followed Robert Macklin weaves an unforgettable tale of a young man caught between two cultures in a time of transformation and upheaval Professional Savages Roslyn

Poignant, 2004-01-01 In August 1882 the circus impresario P T Barnum called for examples of all the uncivilized races in existence In response the showman R A Cunningham shipped two groups of Australian Aborigines to the United States They were displayed as cannibals in circuses dime museums fairgrounds and other showplaces in America and Europe and examined and photographed by anthropologists Roslyn Poignant tells the fascinating and often searing story of the transformation of the Aboriginal travelers into accomplished performers professional savages who survived at least for a short time by virtue of the strengths they drew from their own culture and their individual adaptability Most died somewhere on tour A century later the mummified body of Tambo the first to die was discovered in the basement of a recently closed funeral home in Cleveland Ohio Poignant recounts how Tambo's posthumous repatriation stimulated a cultural renewal within the community from which he came exposing the roots of present social and economic injustices experienced by indigenous Australians Aboriginal Dreaming Paths and Trading Routes Dr Dale Kerwin, 2011-12-07 Highlights the contribution Aboriginal people made in assisting European explorers surveyors and stockmen to open the country for colonisation and explores the interface between Aboriginal possession of the Australian continent and European colonisation and appropriation Destroying to Replace Mohamed Adhikari, 2022-03-01 This book explores settler colonial genocides in a global perspective and over the long dur e It does so systematically and compellingly as it investigates how settler colonial expansion at times created conditions for genocidal violence and the ways in which genocide was at times perpetrated on settler colonial frontiers This volume will prove invaluable to teachers and students of imperialism colonialism and human rights Lorenzo Veracini Swinburne University of Technology and author of The World Turned Inside Out Settler Colonialism as a Political Idea Empire and Indigeneity Richard Price, 2021-05-30 Indigeneity is inseparable from empire and the way empire responds to the Indigenous presence is a key historical factor in shaping the flow of imperial history This book is about the consequences of the encounter in the early nineteenth century between the British imperial presence and the First Peoples of what were to become Australia and New Zealand However the shape of social relations between Indigenous peoples and the forces of empire does not remain constant over time The book tracks how the creation of empire in this part of the world possessed long lasting legacies both for the settler colonies that emerged and for the wider history of British imperial culture
