Raging Bull:

Perspectives on Raging Bull Steven G. Kellman, 1994 Winner of the 1980 Academy Award for Best Picture Raging Bull earned mostly scathing denunciations from many of its earliest reviewers. Now considered the most celebrated film of the decade, Martin Scorsese's portrait of Jake LaMotta continues to elicit strong critical and popular reactions. This collection of writings on the film includes an introductory essay surveying the reception of the film and the changing critical response, a scene by scene scan of the film, a sampling of the most important reviews and articles, and essays focusing on such major themes as gender and sexuality, language and boxing as metaphor.

The Making of Raging Bull Mike Evans, 2006 Based on the autobiography of boxer Jake La Motta, Raging Bull has been hailed as director Martin Scorsese's masterwork by many critics. Looking at the film both in the context of American cinema in the late seventies and early eighties and its place in Scorsese's work before and since, The Making Of Raging Bull is a unique analysis of a classic. Exploring the actual shooting and editing of the gritty black and white film, the book also looks at past screen treatments of a subject which is violent by its very nature and the effect the role had on the lead star Robert De Niro's subsequent career.

Martin Scorsese's Raging Bull Kevin J. Hayes, 2005-02-07 Raging Bull 1980 represents American film making at its best. Since its initial release, the film has been called the greatest film of the 1980s, the greatest boxing film ever made, the greatest sports film ever made, and indeed one of the greatest films of all time. Raging Bull A Cambridge Film Handbook presents the fullest critical appreciation of Scorsese's film available. The introduction tells the story of how the film came about, examining its inspirations and positioning Raging Bull within the history of cinema. Subsequent chapters, each written by contributors from different disciplines (film studies, literary history, theater history), discuss the film from a variety of perspectives. Though primarily directed toward undergraduate and graduate film courses, this collection should enhance appreciation of Raging Bull for all readers. Contributors to this volume have been issued a challenge to write chapters that contain fundamental information for students, to include new information and ideas for seasoned film scholars, and to write in a jargon-free style that all readers can appreciate.

The New York Times Guide to the Best 1,000 Movies Ever Made Peter M. Nichols, 2004-02-21 From the film critics of The New York Times come these uncut original reviews of the most popular and influential movies ever made, from the Talkies to blockbuster megahits like Chicago and The Wizard of Oz, from timeless classics like Casablanca and Notorious to beloved foreign films by Truffaut and Kurosawa, Fellini and Almodovar. The reviews, eloquent, incisive, and intuitive, reflect Hollywood history at its best, must-have reading for movie lovers or students. In addition, this essential volume includes full cast and production credits for every movie, the 10 Best lists for every year from 1931 to the present, an index of films by genre, and an index of foreign films by country of origin. This edition is thoroughly updated to include all the important movies of the past several years, as well as a new introduction by A Times film critic A. O. Scott.
