Rebellious Frasers Nol Yorkes Magazine In The Days Of Maginn Thackeray And Carlyle:

Visions of Science James A. Secord, 2015-04-03 The first half of the nineteenth century witnessed an extraordinary transformation in British political literary and intellectual life There was widespread social unrest and debates raged regarding education the lives of the working class and the new industrial machine governed world At the same time modern science emerged in Europe in more or less its current form as new disciplines and revolutionary concepts including evolution and the vastness of geologic time began to take shape In Visions of Science James A Secord offers a new way to capture this unique moment of change He explores seven key books among them Charles Babbage's Reflections on the Decline of Science Charles Lyell's Principles of Geology Mary Somerville's Connexion of the Physical Sciences and Thomas Carlyle's Sartor Resartus and shows how literature that reflects on the wider meaning of science can be revelatory when granted the kind of close reading usually reserved for fiction and poetry These books considered the meanings of science and its place in modern life looking to the future coordinating and connecting the sciences and forging knowledge that would be appropriate for the new age Their aim was often philosophical but Secord shows it was just as often imaginative projective and practical to suggest not only how to think about the natural world but also to indicate modes of action and potential consequences in an era of unparalleled change Visions of Science opens our eyes to how genteel ladies working men and the literary elite responded to these remarkable works It reveals the importance of understanding the physical qualities of books and the key role of printers and publishers from factories pouring out cheap compendia to fashionable publishing houses in London's West End Secord's vivid account takes us to the heart of an information revolution that was to have profound consequences for the making of the modern world

Lives of Victorian Literary Figures, Part V, Volume 3 Ralph Pite, William Baker, Judith L Fisher, Andrew Gasson, Andrew Maunder, 2024-05-31 Considers the reputations and biographical portrayal of three innovative and controversial writers Mary Elizabeth Braddon Wilkie Collins and William Thackeray These anthologies of contemporary biographical material shed light on the processes at work in the establishment of a public image and a critical reputation

Becoming a Woman of Letters Linda Peterson, 2021-06-08 During the nineteenth century women authors for the first time achieved professional status secure income and public fame How did these women enter the literary profession meet the demands of editors publishers booksellers and reviewers and achieve distinction as women of letters Becoming a Woman of Letters examines the various ways women writers negotiated the market realities of authorship and looks at the myths and models women writers constructed to elevate their place in the profession Drawing from letters contracts and other archival material Linda Peterson details the careers of various women authors from the Victorian period Some like Harriet Martineau adopted the practices of their male counterparts and wrote for periodicals before producing a best seller others like Mary Howitt and Alice Meynell began in literary partnerships with their husbands and pursued independent careers later in life and yet others like Charlotte Bront and her successors Charlotte Riddell and Mary

Cholmondeley wrote from obscure parsonages or isolated villages hoping an acclaimed novel might spark a meteoric rise to fame Peterson considers these women authors successes and failures the critical esteem that led to financial rewards and lasting reputations as well as the initial successes undermined by publishing trends and pressures Exploring the burgeoning print culture and the rise of new genres available to Victorian women authors this book provides a comprehensive account of the flowering of literary professionalism in the nineteenth century The Lure of Illustration in the Nineteenth Century L.

Brake, M. Demoor, 2009-01-15 This volume tackles the subject of illustration technically metaphorically and historically in nineteenth century periodicals displaying the ubiquity of the visual in the press the articles cover material illustration graphics and design and metaphorical use of images in the letterpress offering specific examples and theoretical approaches

The Architectural Novel Nicola Minott-Ahl, 2021-09-22 Scholars in disciplines from architecture and the fine arts to the various branches of history and social studies will find this study timely given contemporary European controversies over what constitutes national identity and what parts are played by race philosophy and religion economics immigration and invasion Many major European national identities barely predate the nineteenth century and were shaped not just by wars philosophies industrial change and governmental policies but also by artistic manipulation of how people perceived public spaces landscapes cityscapes religious and cultural structures museums and monuments commemorating conflict Among the most masterful manipulators of the day were popular nineteenth century French and British novelists who gave famous buildings a special prominence in their writing Some like Victor Hugo are still read and respected by scholars Others like Alexandre Dumas though still widely read are undervalued by contemporary critics Still others like William Harrison Ainsworth a prolific English writer are all but forgotten These three writers authored architectural novels which gave major ancient Gothic buildings a new and portable cultural presence well beyond their physical location During these revolutionary times when national symbolism was being questioned and challenged the threatened rupture with the past was admirably addressed through their art Reflections on the Classical Canon in Economics Evelyn L. Forget, Sandra

Peart, 2000-09-28 In this discipline defining volume some of the leading international scholars in the history of economic thought re examine the concepts of classical economics and the canon illuminating the roots and evolution of the contemporary discipline Silver Fork Society Alison Adburgham, 2012-06-19 During the years when George IV ruled the

United Kingdom first as Prince Regent then as King his extravagant tastes served to characterize the times the Regency period being identified strongly with new trends in British architecture fashion and culture The literary expression of this era was the genre of so called silver fork novels set in fashionable London society Initially devoured as authentic insights into the rarefied world of the best social circles these novels were thus serving as etiquette primers for growing numbers of nouveaux riches The detail and decor of the novels gives them an enduring socio historical interest hence the value of Alison Adburgham's study first published in 1983 which offers astute readings of such silver fork specialists as Disraeli Bulwer

Lytton and Catherine Gore With an assured eye for the social context of these works Adburgham explores the class tensions and complex social interactions behind the high sheen of the silver fork Literature and Medicine in the Nineteenth-Century Periodical Press Megan Coyer,2016-12-05 In the early nineteenth century Edinburgh was the leading centre of medical education and research in Britain It also laid claim to a thriving periodical culture which served as a significant medium for the dissemination and exchange of medical and literary ideas throughout Britain the colonies and beyond Literature and Medicine in the Nineteenth Century Periodical Press explores the relationship between the medical culture of Romantic era Scotland and the periodical press by examining several medically trained contributors to Blackwood s Edinburgh Magazine the most influential and innovative literary periodical of the era Portraits of Coleridge Morton D. Paley,1999 What do the portraits of a great poet tell us about his life his image of himself and the ideas of him held by his friends and his public Portraits of Coleridge attempts to answer this question with respect to the author of The Rime of the Ancient Mariner and Kubla Khan It also provides a critical and scholarly study of the portraits as works of art considering the place of each in the career of the artist who produced it All the life portraits are discussed in detail catalogued and wherever there is an extant photograph reproduced As many verbal descriptions by contemporaries as possible are reprinted for the sake of comparison A concluding essay on posthumous portraits of Coleridge considers how they reflect changes in the public s attitude toward their subject Both a contribution to the biography of Coleridge and an essay in the history of literary and artistic taste this book is for readers interested in English poetry in Romantic portraiture and in the relationship between literature and the visual arts A List of American Doctoral Dissertations Printed in [1912-]1938 Library of Congress.
