Betwixt and Between David Johnston, Stephen Kelly, 2009-10-02 Betwixt and Between place and cultural translation examines the often fraught relationship between conceptions of place and the attempt to translate them critically politically and ethnographically for native and non native audiences Examining translation in a number of key contemporary geo political contexts including Northern Ireland Venezuela India Italy Canada Germany France and the Middle East and in a variety of genres including poetry drama film television advertising and the novel in multiple languages Betwixt and Between argues for the curiously fruitful dislocation of translation as a discourse and practice Contributors argue that by attending to the curiously placeless place of the translator translation studies might better police the quiet pieties of nationalism ethnic singularity and cultural homogeneity which have so destructively determined the politics of the last two centuries and which threaten to overwhelm our understanding of current cultural and political antagonisms

The Long Space Peter Hitchcock, 2009-12-01 The resurgence of world literature as a category of study seems to coincide with what we understand as globalization but how does postcolonial writing fit into this picture Beyond the content of this novel or that what elements of postcolonial fiction might challenge the assumption that its main aim is to circulate native information globally The Long Space provides a fresh look at the importance of postcolonial writing by examining how it articulates history and place both in content and form Not only does it offer a new theoretical model for understanding decolonization s impact on duration in writing but through a series of case studies of Guyanese Somali Indonesian and Algerian writers it urges a more protracted engagement with time and space in postcolonial narrative Although each writer Wilson Harris Nuruddin Farah Pramodya Ananta Toer and Assia Djebar explores a unique understanding of postcoloniality each also makes a more general assertion about the difference of time and space in decolonization Taken together they herald a transnationalism beyond the contaminated coordinates of globalization as currently construed
