Recent Advances In Groundwater Hydrology:

Recent Advances in the Modeling of Hydrologic Systems D.S Bowles,P. Enda O'Connell,2012-12-06 Modeling of the rainfall runoff process is of both scientific and practical significance Many of the currently used mathematical models of hydrologic systems were developed a generation ago Much of the effort since then has focused on refining these models rather than on developing new models based on improved scientific understanding In the past few years however a renewed effort has been made to improve both our fundamental understanding of hydrologic processes and to exploit technological advances in computing and remote sensing It is against this background that the NATO Advanced Study Institute on Recent Advances in the Modeling of Hydrologic Systems was organized The idea for holding a NATO ASI on this topic grew out of an informal discussion between one of the co directors and Professor Francisco Nunes Correia at a previous NATO ASI held at Tucson Arizona in 1985 The Special Program Panel on Global Transport Mechanisms in the Geo Sciences of the NATO Scientific Affairs Division agreed to sponsor the ASI and an organizing committee was formed The committee comprised the co directors Professor David S Bowles U S A and Professor P Enda O Connell U K and Professor Francisco Nunes Correia Portugal Dr Donn G DeCoursey U S A and Professor Ezio Todini Italy Recent Advances in Ground-water Hydrology ,1989

Delleur,2010-12-12 Due to the increasing demand for adequate water supply caused by the augmenting global population groundwater production has acquired a new importance In many areas surface waters are not available in sufficient quantity or quality Thus an increasing demand for groundwater has resulted However the residence of time of groundwater can be of the order of thousands of years while surface waters is of the order of days Therefore substantially more attention is warranted for transport processes and pollution remediation in groundwater than for surface waters Similarly pollution remediation problems in groundwater are generally complex This excellent timely resource covers the field of groundwater from an engineering perspective comprehensively addressing the range of subjects related to subsurface hydrology It provides a practical treatment of the flow of groundwater the transport of substances the construction of wells and well fields the production of groundwater and site characterization and remediation of groundwater pollution No other reference specializes in groundwater engineering to such a broad range of subjects Its use extends to The engineer designing a well or well field The engineer designing or operating a landfill facility for municipal or hazardous wastes The hydrogeologist investigating a contaminant plume The engineer examining the remediation of a groundwater pollution problem The engineer or lawyer studying the laws and regulations related to groundwater quality The scientist analyzing the mechanics of solute transport The geohydrologist assessing the regional modeling of aquifers The geophysicist determining the characterization of an aquifer The cartographer mapping aquifer characteristics The practitioner planning a monitoring network
