Dworkin,2015-02-27 Billy the Kid Wyatt Earp and Joaquin Murrieta are fixed in the American imagination as towering legends of the Old West But that has not always been the case There was a time when these men were largely forgotten relics of a bygone era Then in the early twentieth century an obscure Chicago newspaperman changed all that Walter Noble Burns 1872 1932 served with the First Kentucky Infantry during the Spanish American War and covered General John J Pershing's pursuit of Pancho Villa in Mexico as a correspondent for the Chicago Tribune However history making these forays may seem they were only the beginning In the last six years of his life Burns wrote three books that propelled New Mexico outlaw Billy the Kid Tombstone marshal Wyatt Earp and California bandit Joaquin Murrieta into the realm of legend Despite Burns's remarkable command of his subjects based on exhaustive research and interviews he has been largely ignored by scholars because of the popular even occasionally fictional approach he employed In American Mythmaker the first literary biography of Burns Mark J Dworkin brings Burns out of the shadows Through careful analysis of The Saga of Billy the Kid 1926 Tombstone An Iliad of the Southwest 1927 and The Robin Hood of Eldorado The Saga of Joaquin Murrieta 1932 and their reception Dworkin shows how Burns used his journalistic training to introduce the history of the American West to his era's general readership In the process Burns made his subjects household names Are Burns's books fact or fiction Was he a historian or a novelist Dworkin considers these questions as he uncovers the story behind Burns's mythmaking works A long overdue biography of a writer who shaped our idea of western history American Mythmaker documents in fascinating detail the fashioning of some of the greatest American legends Making Our Beasts Elana Shever,2025-12-30 A free ebook version of this title is available through Luminos University of California Press's Open Access publishing program Visit www.luminosoa.org to learn more Making Our Beasts is an ethnography of science in action that uses a familiar topic dinosaurs to lead readers to understand science and its objects in new ways Through fieldwork and interviews conducted at laboratories dig sites museums and entertainment sites Elana Shever explores vertebrate paleontology in the United States showing how the practices of scientists and the materiality of fossils together shape the social world and also are shaped by it Foregrounding elements of scientific inquiry that have been sidelined including affect touch material agency and the labor of volunteers technicians and other nonscientists Shever reveals how paleontology continues to be structured by race gender and colonialism Susan's Journal. King's Fountain by a Teenage Girl Arthur Eedle, Children's Book Review Index 85-94 V 3 George Baer,1995-12-04 A Friend to Teens Pat

Dinda,2013-11-19 A Friend to Teens continues with the life of Pat Lupton as he deals with the ever present reality of drugs drug abuse sex peer pressure and suicide on high school students Pat Lupton had a tumultuous upbringing that prepared him well for his present position He is a reformed drug user who was abused by his father Overcoming his disabilities earned him the experience necessary to effectively help others As he settles into his life in Stowell Texas he finds satisfaction through his work with the students A Friend to Teens chronicles Luptons successes and failures Influenced by his caustic origins and fighting to overcome his prejudices and fears we find a compelling drama of development that turns negative influences into positive societal contributions The Forsythe Saga John Galsworthy,1922 Frithiof's Saga Esaias Tegnér,1908

Bloodshot Alwyn Dow,2013-06-14 The novel 100 000 words is in 4 parts and follows the life of Sue Parker a Police Officer in the Avon and Somerset Police force as she attempts to get to grips with crime and her own personal love life that usually seems to come out second best as work takes priority Part 1 Title above begins and ends in Bath but takes many twists and turns along the way usually following the reminiscences of a suspect Africa features but so do Tokyo Munich and Washington over decades Questions of conscience arise in different scenarios Sue is a PC Part 2 is called Croquet at Chateau Chevalier and sees Sue embroiled in a murder at a Management Motivational weekend in a country hotel run by a company called Muck Brass a term that alludes to their penchant for outdoor trials such as Quad Bikes There are so many suspects but here the onus is on lack of conscience as people make their decisions Sue has been moved up to Sergeant Part 3 is Troublesome Talk at River Walk and is set in Frome a small town near Bath where Sue has been promoted to Inspector It begins with the suspicious death of an old lady and goes on to explore her background in the Spanish Civil War and in the Resistance in World War Two This story highlights the dilemma that is faced by individuals when competing definitions of right and wrong clash Part 4 is Flotsam and Jetsum Sue is retired but gets involved on holiday when a body on a beach near Portsmouth leads her into a dangerous International Conspiracy in the Baltic Sea and beyond even into Russia itself An absence of guilt once more leads Sue to identify her suspect but she also finds Silver Linings in her love life again Silence and Listening as Rhetorical Arts Cheryl Glenn,Krista Ratcliffe,2011-01-05 In Silence and Listening as Rhetorical Arts editors Cheryl Glenn and Krista Ratcliffe bring together seventeen essays by new and established scholars that demonstrate the value and importance of silence and listening to the study and practice of rhetoric Building on the editors groundbreaking research which respects the power of the spoken word while challenging the marginalized status of silence and listening this volumemakes a strong case for placing these overlooked concepts and their intersections at the forefront of rhetorical arts within rhetoric and composition studies Divided into three parts History Theory and Criticism and Praxes this book reimagines traditional histories and theories of rhetoric and incorporates contemporary interests such as race gender and cross cultural concerns into scholarly conversations about rhetorical history theory criticism and praxes For the editors and the other contributors to this volume silence is not simply the absence of sound and listening is not a passive act When used strategically and with purpose together and separately silence and listening are powerful rhetorical devices integral to effective communication The essays cover a wide range of subjects including women rhetors from ancient Greece and medieval and Renaissance Europe African philosophy and African American rhetoric contemporary antiwar protests in the United States activist conflict resolution in Israel and Palestine and feminist and second language pedagogies Taken together the essays in this volume advance the argument that silence and listening are as important to rhetoric and composition studies as the more traditionally emphasized arts of reading writing and speaking and are particularly effective for theorizing historicizing analyzing and teaching An extremely valuable resource for instructors and students in rhetoric composition and communication studies Silence and Listening as Rhetorical Arts will also have applications beyond academia helping individuals cultural groups and nations more productively discern and implement appropriate actions when all parties agree to engage in rhetorical situations that include not only respectful speaking reading and writing but also productive silence and rhetorical listening
