Organisational Economics Histories and Theories of the Firm and Production delves into a range of key topics to do with the history of the mainstream approach to the theory of production and the theory of the firm This includes the frameworks used to analyse production the division of labour and its application to the firm and the development of the neoclassical model of production The first topic explored is the change from a normative approach to a largely positive approach to the analysis of the theory of production which occurred around the seventeenth century The next topic is an examination of the relationship or the lack of a relationship between the division of labour and the theory of the firm In the fourth chapter the focus is on the development of the proto neoclassical approach to production Here the development of the theories of monopoly oligopoly and perfect competition are discussed as well as the theory of input utilisation Chapter 5 looks at Marshall s idea of the representative firm which was the main early neoclassical approach to the theory of industry level production The penultimate chapter considers the criticisms made of the neoclassical model between 1940 and 1970 This work is an illuminating reference for students and researchers of the history of economic thought industrial organisation microeconomic theory and organisational studies

Cooperative Models in International Relations Research Michael D.

Intriligator, Urs Luterbacher, 2012-12-06 Cooperative Models in International Relations Michael D Intriligator and Urs Luterbacher Cooperation problems in international relations research have been associated with a variety of approaches Game theoretical and rational choice perspectives have been used extensively to analyze international conflict at a bilateral two actor level Problems of deterrence and conflict escalation and deterrence maintaining and conflict dilemma solving strategies have been studied with a variety of game theoretical constructs These range from two by two games in normal form Axelrod 1984 to sequential games It is obvious that the analysis of conflict solving strategies and metastrategies deals implicitly and some times explicitly with cooperation The emphasis on cooperation promoting strategies plays therefore an important role within rational choice analysis of two actor problems However problems of international cooperation have also been traditionally associated with literary and qualitative approaches This is especially true for studies carried out at a multilateral or systemic level of analysis The association between cooperation problems at the international level and the study of international organizations influenced by the international legal tradition have certainly contributed to this state of affairs The concept of international regime of cooperation Krasner 1983 which derives itself from legal studies has been developed entirely within the context of this literary
