Matisse Nouveau:

Matisse Nouveau Pierre Matisse, Andrews McMeel Publishing, 2003-03      Matisse's Poets Kathryn Brown, 2017-09-21

Throughout his career Henri Matisse used imagery as a means of engaging critically with poetry and prose by a diverse range of authors Kathryn Brown offers a groundbreaking account of Matisse's position in the literary cross currents of 20th century France and explores ways in which reading influenced the artist's work in a range of media This study argues that the livre d'artiste became the privileged means by which Matisse enfolded literature into his own idiom and demonstrated the centrality of his aesthetic to modernist debates about authorship and creativity By tracing the compositional and interpretive choices that Matisse made as a painter print maker and reader in the field of book production this study offers a new theoretical account of visual art's capacity to function as a form of literary criticism and extends debates about the gendering of 20th century bibliophilia Brown also demonstrates the importance of Matisse's self placement in relation to the French literary canon in the charged political climate of the Second World War and its aftermath Through a combination of archival resources art history and literary criticism this study offers a new interpretation of Matisse's artist's books and will be of interest to art historians literary scholars and researchers in book history and modernism      Art Nouveau Hans Hellmut Hofstätter, Władysława Jaworska, S. Hofstätter, 1984 This superbly presented book itself a classic tribute to the printer's craft gives a synopsis of European work on a scale never previously attempted      "Interior Portraiture and Masculine Identity in France, 1789-1914" Heather Belnap Jensen, 2017-07-05 Focusing specifically on portraiture as a genre this volume challenges scholarly assumptions that regard interior spaces as uniquely feminine Contributors analyze portraits of men in domestic and studio spaces in France during the long nineteenth century the preponderance of such portraits alone supports the book's premise that the alignment of men with public life is oversimplified and more myth than reality The volume offers analysis of works by a mix of artists from familiar names such as David Delacroix Courbet Manet Rodin and Matisse to less well known image makers including Dominique Doncre Constance Mayer Anders Zorn and Lucien Etienne Melingue The essays cover a range of media from paintings and prints to photographs and sculpture that allows exploration of the relation between masculinity and interiority across the visual culture of the period The home and other interior spaces emerge from these studies as rich and complex locations for both masculine self expression and artistic creativity Interior Portraiture and Masculine Identity in France 1789-1914 provides a much needed rethinking of modern masculinity in this period      Making Modernism Michael C. FitzGerald, 1996-01-01 Artists don't achieve financial success and critical acclaim during their lifetimes as a result of chance or luck Michael FitzGerald's assiduously researched book documents Picasso's courting of dealers critics collectors and curators as he established his reputation during the first forty years of the twentieth century FitzGerald describes the care patience and resourcefulness invested by Paul Rosenberg Picasso's dealer and close collaborator from 1918 to 1940 in building the financial value and public acceptance of Picasso's art The book is based on and quotes generously from previously unpublished correspondence between Picasso and dealers collectors and museum curators

The Still Life in the Fiction of A. S. Byatt Elizabeth Hicks,2010-08-11 This book explores the ways in which English writer A S Byatt s visual still lifes descriptions of real or imagined artworks and what are termed verbal still lifes scenes such as laid tables rooms and market stalls are informed by her veneration of both realism and writing It examines Byatt s adoption of the Barthesian concept of textual pleasure showing how her ekphrastic descriptions involve consumption and take time to unfold for the reader thereby highlighting the limitations of painting It also investigates the ways in which Byatt s still lifes demonstrate her debts to English modernist author Virginia Woolf French writer Marcel Proust and the Pre Raphaelite Brotherhood of nineteenth century Britain A number of Byatt s verbal still lifes are read as semiotic markers of her characters particularly with regard to economic status and class Further her descriptions uniting food and sexuality are perceived as part of her overall representation of pleasure Finally Byatt s employment of vanitas iconography in many of her portrayals of death is discussed showing how her recurring motif of Keats s Ode on a Grecian Urn teases out the still life s inherent tension between living passion and cold artwork

Picasso: A Cubist Commission in Brooklyn Anna Jozefacka,Lauren Rosati,2023-09-12 In 1910 Pablo Picasso began a series of 11 decorative paintings intended for the Brooklyn residence of American artist collector and critic Hamilton Easter Field This publication is the first in depth examination of this commission which despite never being completed offers new insights into a little known chapter in Picasso's art that coincided with a critical moment in the development of Cubism. Based on new research including letters and archival material from both Picasso and Field, this book shows how the unrealized commission challenged Picasso to move beyond easel painting and adapt Cubist forms to an immersive aesthetic experience. Authors investigate the progression of Cubist ideas and show how Picasso used Easter Field's proposal as a place of experimentation by both subverting and paying homage to decorative painting traditions. Published to coincide with Celebration Picasso marking the fiftieth anniversary of the artist's death, this compact volume provides a compelling look at what might have been as well as a fascinating portrait of art and patronage in the early twentieth century.

Biographical Dictionary of Literary Influences John Powell, 2000-10-30. Over the past two decades, the process of cultural development and in particular the role of reading has been of growing interest, but recent research has been episodic and idiosyncratic. In this biographical dictionary, research devoted specifically to the reading habits of 19th-century individuals who shaped Western culture is brought together for the first time. While giving prominent coverage to literary and political figures, the volume's 270 entries also include musicians, painters, educators, and explorers. Each entry includes brief biographical information, a concise summary of literary influences on the subject, and clear direction for further research. The book provides a practical tool for scholars wishing to trace the reading experience of important Western cultural figures. Subjects were selected from the people most responsible for the cultural development of Europe, Britain, and the British Empire, and the Americas between 1800 and 1914. Although selective, the sample of 270 figures is substantial enough to suggest broad cross-cultural habits and effects, enabling scholars to better understand the relationship between reading and culture. In an introductory essay, Powell explores the patterns and relationships that can be discerned from the entries. The first of three anticipated volumes, the book is an important step forward in researching the role of reading in cultural development.

A World Art History and Its Objects David Carrier, 2008-11-28. Is writing a world art history possible? Does the history of art as such even exist outside the Western tradition? Is it possible to consider the history of art in a way that is not fundamentally Eurocentric? In this highly readable and provocative book, David Carrier, a philosopher and art historian, does not attempt to write a world art history himself. Rather, he asks the question of how an art history of all cultures could be written or whether it is even possible to do so. He also engages the political and moral issues raised by the idea of a multicultural art history. Focusing on a consideration of intersecting artistic traditions, Carrier negotiates the way meaning and understanding shift or are altered when a visual object from one culture, for example, is inserted into the visual tradition of another culture. A World Art History and Its Objects proposes the use of temporal narrative as a way to begin to understand a multicultural art history     Matisse Rebecca A.
