Matthew Arnold Vol 1 Prose Writings:

Matthew Arnold Carl Dawson, John Pfordresher, 2013-10-31 The Critical Heritage gathers together a large body of critical sources on major figures in literature Each volume presents contemporary responses to a writer's work enabling students and researchers to read for themselves for example comments on early performances of Shakespeare's plays or reactions to the first publication of Jane Austen's novels The carefully selected sources range from landmark essays in the history of criticism to journalism and contemporary opinion and little published documentary material such as letters and diaries Significant pieces of criticism from later periods are also included in order to demonstrate the fluctuations in an author's reputation Each volume contains an introduction to the writer's published works a selected bibliography and an index of works authors and subjects The Collected Critical Heritage set will be available as a set of 68 volumes and the series will also be available in mini sets selected by period in slipcase boxes and as individual volumes Tiresian Poetics Ed

Madden, 2008 Blind seer articulate dead and mythic transsexual the figure of Tiresias has always represented a liminal identity and forms of knowledge associated with the crossing of epistemological and ontological boundaries In twentieth century literature the boundaries crossed and embodied by Tiresias are primarily sexual and the liminal and usually prophetic knowledge associated with Tiresias is based in sexual difference and sexual pleasure Indeed in literature of the twentieth century Tiresias has come to function as a cultural shorthand for queer sexualities This book argues for the emergence of a Tiresian poetics at the end of the nineteenth century As Victorian and modernist writers reimagined Ovid's tale of sex change and sexual judgment they also created a poetics that grounded artistic or performative power in figures of sexual difference most often a feminized often homosexual male body which this study links to the developing discourses of homosexuality and sexual identity BOOK JACKET

The Powers of Distance Amanda Anderson, 2018-06-05 Combining analysis of Victorian literature and culture with forceful theoretical argument The Powers of Distance examines the progressive potential of those forms of cultivated detachment associated with Enlightenment and modern thought Amanda Anderson explores a range of practices in nineteenth century British culture including methods of objectivity in social science practices of omniscience in artistic realism and the complex forms of affiliation in Victorian cosmopolitanism Anderson demonstrates that many writers including George Eliot John Stuart Mill Charlotte Brontë Matthew Arnold and Oscar Wilde thoughtfully address the challenging moral questions that attend stances of detachment In so doing she offers a revisionist account of Victorian culture and a tempered defense of detachment as an ongoing practice and aspiration The Powers of Distance illuminates its historical object of study and provides a powerful example for its theoretical argument showing that an ideal of critical detachment underlies the ironic modes of modernism and postmodernism as well as the tradition of Enlightenment thought and critical theory Its broad understanding of detachment and cultivated distance together with its focused historical analysis will appeal to theorists and critics across the humanities particularly those working in literary and cultural studies feminism and postcolonialism Original in scope and thesis this book constitutes a major contribution to literary history and contemporary theory Signs for the Times Chris Brooks, 2016-07-01 First published in 1984 Signs for the Times explores imaginative and creative relationships between three major areas of mid Victorian arts literature painting and architecture Through the detailed critical analysis of particular novels prose writings paintings and buildings Chris Brooks establishes a fusion of realistic and symbolic values that he sees as central to the Victorian creative imagination He argues that the creative achievement of the mid nineteenth century needs to be seen far more as a whole than it has previously and that fundamental imaginative terms are common to art and architecture to major theoretical writers such as Carlyle Ruskin and Rugin as well as to the central literary figure of Dickens All those interested in literature art or architecture will welcome this interpretation of symbolic realism within the mid Victorian world The English Poets: Wordsworth to Rossetti. 2d ed., rev Thomas Humphry Ward, 1888 Bewildered Travel Frederick J. Ruf, 2007 This book illustrates the truth of that statement The Nation, 1888 Writing the Poetry of Place in Britain, 1700-1807 Elizabeth R. Napier, 2022-11-30 This book discusses the intrusion often inadvertent of personal voice into the poetry of landscape in Britain 1700 1807 It argues that strong conventions such as those that inhere in topographical verse of the period invite original poets to overstep those bounds while also shielding them from the repercussions of self expression Working under cover of convention in this manner and because for many of these poets place is tied in significant ways to personal history poets of place may launch unexpected explorations into memory personhood and the workings of consciousness This book thus supplements past largely political readings of landscape poetry turning to questions of self articulation and self expression in order to argue that the autobiographical impulse is a distinctive and innovative feature of much great eighteenth century poetry of place Among the poets under examination are Pope Thomson Duck Gray Goldsmith Crabbe Cowper Smith and Wordsworth

Aristophanes in Performance, 421 BC-AD 2007 Edith Hall, Amanda Wrigley, 2007 This book traces the international performance history of Aristophanic comedy and its implication in aesthetic and political controversies from 421 BC to AD 2007 It includes Brechtian experiments in East Berlin and musical theatre from Gilbert and Sullivan to Stephen Sondheim

Twenty-First Century Perspectives on Victorian Literature Laurence W. Mazzeno, 2014-03-06 Victorian literature's fascination with the past its examination of social injustice and its struggle to deal with the dichotomy between scientific discoveries and religious faith continue to fascinate scholars and contemporary readers During the past hundred years traditional formalist and humanist criticism has been augmented by new critical approaches including feminism and gender studies psychological criticism cultural studies and others In Twenty First Century Perspectives on Victorian Literature twelve scholars offer new assessments of Victorian poetry novels and nonfiction Their essays examine several major authors and works and introduce discussions of many others that have received less scholarly attention in the past General reviews of the current status of Victorian literature in the academic world are followed by essays on such writers as Charles Dickens

Alfred Tennyson Thomas Hardy and the Bront sisters These are balanced by essays that focus on writing by women the development of the social problem novel and the continuity of Victorian writers with their Romantic forebears Most importantly the contributors to this volume approach Victorian literature from a decidedly contemporary scholarly angle and write for a wide audience of specialists and non specialists alike Their essays offer readers an idea of how critical commentary in recent years has influenced and in some cases changed radically our understanding of and approach to literary study in general and the Victorian period in particular Hence scholars teachers and students will find the volume a useful survey of contemporary commentary not just on Victorian literature but also on the period as a whole

Configurations of Comparative Poetics Zong-qi Cai, 2001-12-30 This comprehensive comparative study of Western and Chinese poetics begins with broad examinations of the two traditions over more than two and a half millennia From these parallel surveys a series of important theoretical questions arises How do Western and Chinese critics conceptualize the nature origin and function of literature What are the fundamental differences if any in their ways of thinking about literature Can we account for these differences by examining Western truth based and Chinese process based cosmological paradigms What are the major distinctive concepts of literature developed within Western and Chinese poetics How have these concepts impacted the development of the two traditions at various times After considering a wide range of major critical texts Configurations of Comparative Poetics presents bold and cogent answers to these questions while shedding light on the distinctive orientations of Western and Chinese poetics The second half of the book features four comparative case studies Plato and Confucius on poetry Wordsworth and Liu Xie on the creative process the twentieth century Imagists and their earlier Chinese counterparts on the relationship of the Chinese written character to poetics and Derrida and the Madhyamika Buddhists on language and onto theology The author not only identifies an array of critical concerns shared by Western and Chinese critics but also differentiates the conceptual models used by each and traces them to cosmological paradigms
