

The background of the slide is a reproduction of an Impressionist painting, likely by J.M.W. Turner. It depicts a harbor scene with several boats, including a large green boat and a smaller red boat. The water is rendered with visible brushstrokes in shades of blue, green, and yellow. A bright, circular light source, possibly the sun or moon, is visible in the upper left quadrant, creating a strong reflection on the water. The overall style is characteristic of Impressionism, with a focus on light and color over fine detail.
