Photographers Peter E. Palmquist, 2000 Britain and Tibet 1765-1947 Julie G. Marshall, 2005 This bibliography is a record of British relations with Tibet in the period 1765 to 1947 As such it also involves British relations with Russia and China and with the Himalayan states of Ladakh Lahul and Spiti Kumaon and Garhwal Nepal Sikkim Bhutan and Assam in so far as British policy towards these states was affected by her desire to establish relations with Tibet It also covers a subject of some importance in contemporary diplomacy It was the legacy of unresolved problems concerning Tibet and its borders bequeathed to India by Britain in 1947 which led to border disputes and ultimately to war between India and China in 1962 These borders are still in dispute today It also provides background information to Tibet's claims to independence an issue of current importance The work is divided into a number of sections and subsections based on chronology geography and events The introductions to each of the sections provide a condensed and informative history of the period and place the books and article in their historical context Most entries are also annotated This work is therefore both a history and a bibliography of the subject and provides a rapid entry into a complex area for scholars in the fields of international relations and military history as well as Asian history Kathmandu Thomas Bell, 2016-10-24 Kathmandu is the greatest city of the Himalayas a unique survival of cultural practices that died out in India 1000 years ago It is a carnival of sexual licence and hypocrisy a jewel of world art a hotbed of communist revolution a paradigm of failed democracy a case study in bungled Western intervention and an environmental catastrophe Closed to the outside world until 1951 and trapped in a medieval time warp Kathmandu's rapid modernization is an extreme version of what is happening elsewhere in many traditional societies The many layers of the city's developments are reflected in the successive generations of its gods and goddesses witches and ghosts the comforts of caste the ethos of aristocracy and kingship and of late the destabilizing spirits of consumer aspiration individuality egalitarianism communism and democracy Kathmandu follows the author's story over a decade in the city and unravels the city's history through successive reinventions of itself Erudite entertaining and accessible this is the distinctive chronicle of a fascinating city The Social Dynamics of Pronominal Systems Paul Bouissac, 2019-07-15 Personal pronouns have a special status in languages As indexical tools they are the means by which languages and persons intimately interface with each other within a particular social structure Pronouns involve more than mere grammatical functions in live communication acts They variously signal the gender of speakers as parts of utterances or in their anaphoric roles They also prominently indicate with a range of degrees the kind of social relationships that hold between speakers from intimacy to indifference from dominance to submission and from solidarity to hostility Languages greatly vary in the number of pronouns and other address terms they offer to their users with a distinct range of social values Children learn their relative position in their family and in their society through the correct use of pronouns When languages

come into contact because of population migrations or through the process of translation pronouns are the most sensitive zone of tension both psychologically and politically This volume endeavours to probe the comparative pragmatics of pronominal systems as social processes in a representative set from different language families and cultural areas

Suitably Modern Mark Liechty, 2020-11-10 Suitably Modern traces the growth of a new middle class in Kathmandu as urban Nepalis harness the modern cultural resources of mass media and consumer goods to build modern identities and pioneer a new sociocultural space in one of the world's least developed countries Since Nepal's opening in the 1950s a new urban population of bureaucrats service personnel small business owners and others have worked to make a space between Kathmandu's old and still privileged elites and its large and growing urban poor Mark Liechty looks at the cultural practices of this new middle class examining such phenomena as cinema and video viewing popular music film magazines local fashion systems and advertising He explores three interactive and mutually constitutive ethnographic terrains a burgeoning local consumer culture a growing mass mediated popular imagination and a recently emerging youth culture He shows how an array of local cultural narratives stories of honor value prestige and piety flow in and around global narratives of progress modernity and consumer fulfillment Urban Nepalis simultaneously adopt and critique these narrative strands braiding them into local middle class cultural life Building on both Marxian and Weberian understandings of class this study moves beyond them to describe the lived experience of middle classness how class is actually produced and reproduced in everyday practice It considers how people speak and act themselves into cultural existence carving out real and conceptual spaces in which to produce class culture
