Raincoast Chronicles 14:

Fish Hooks & Caulk Boots Florence Tickner, 1992 Growing up in a floating logging camp on the BC coast Boom & Bust Jennifer L. Butler, 2019-06-11 Received Honourable Mention for the 2019 Lieutenant Governor's Medal for Historical Writing Telegraph Cove one of Vancouver Island's most visited tourist destinations has humble origins as a one shack telegraph station established a century ago The community grew first with a salmon saltery and sawmill then with new industries developed by the ingenuity of the Cove's inhabitants From the 1920s Irish Chinese Japanese German Danish Italian and English community members along with other old and new Canadians were neighbours in a place accessible only by boat In this book more than 25 women tell their own stories and memories of life in the Cove They faced down the impacts of isolation hazardous terrain war occupation immigration internment social change economic development community decline and environmental degradation remarkable given that Telegraph Cove's population peaked at 60 From these lives come stories of resilience resourcefulness heartbreak humour and triumph Boom and Bust draws the reader in for an intimate view accompanied by never before published archival photographs International Books in Print, 1991

Canadian Books in Print. Author and Title Index, 1975 Canadian Books in Print, 2003 God's Little Ships Michael L. Hadley, 1995 The men and women of the Columbia Coast Mission ships legendary figures in the history of the BC coast are brought vividly to life in this readable well researched volume From 1904 to the mid 1970s the mission sent out ships in all kinds of weather delivering medical care and non sectarian spiritual support to logging camps Native villages and white settlements in 20 000 square miles of rugged coastline John Antle who founded the mission was a devout and practical Christian who measured his success in services to BC's outposts rather than material wealth or number of converts Immortalized in Margaret Craven's I Heard the Owl Call My Name and in the hearts and memories of families all over the coast the mission was a glad bold organization that could be as rough cut and unconventional as the individuals it served

Upcoast Summers Beth Hill, Francis Barrow, 1985 Francis and Amy Barrow spent the summers between 1933 and 1941 exploring the west coast in their little boat searching for and recording First Nations rock art and yarning with the homesteaders in remote bays and inlets Canadian Book Review Annual, 1993 BCLA Reporter British Columbia Library Association, 1992 Ocean of Destiny Arthur Lower, 2011-11-01 The modern history of the North Pacific began five hundred years ago when Europeans sailed into the ocean for the first time This discovery shaped the destinies of seven countries that now rim its Asiatic and North American shores Russia China Japan North Korea South Korea the United States and Canada Their history is an exciting epic of discovery the great expeditions of Marco Polo Drake and Magellan the quest for the spices of Cathay the early days of the fur trade the gold rush and the long treks westward across North America to first establish Canadian and American possessions on the Pacific shore Rivalry and confrontation were part of this epic From the sixteenth to the nineteenth century European powers contested for the riches of the East and the West the wealth of the ocean and territory to satiate colonial ambitions Since that time full blooded conflicts developed between Asian states and between Asia and the Western powers As a major trading power in the Pacific with no tradition of territorial expansion and as a respected peacekeeper Canada is in a unique position to view the history of the Pacific impartially This survey is doubly valuable not only as the first history of the North Pacific dealing with the concurrent events in the East and West but also as a history reflecting Canada's international outlook The Archaeology of Vernacular Watercraft Amanda M.

Evans,2016-04-19 This volume presents multiple idiographic archaeological studies of vernacular watercraft from North America and the Caribbean Rather than attempt to synthesize all vernacular types this volume focuses on ship construction data recovered through archaeological investigations that has been used to make inferences about culture This collection of case studies including many examples from cultural resource management and graduate student theses presents a thematic exploration of cultural adaptation as expressed through ship construction Paddling Through History Aileen

Stalker,Andrew Nolan,2005 Experience inner city paddling with a guide that tells the story of Vancouver and Victoria from water level Explore history with the tales behind the people bridges lighthouses museums and watercraft you will see as you explore these waterways Paddling Through History explains place names geology and other highlights and is illustrated with maps and photos Aboriginal People and Other Canadians Martin Thornton,Roy Todd,2001-12-06 In Aboriginal People and Other Canadians leading scholars discuss key issues in Native studies including social exclusion marginalization and identity justice equality and gender self help and empowerment in Aboriginal communities and in the cities and methodological and historiographical representations of social relationships This insightful analysis gauges whether the last decade of the twentieth century was a time of constructive transition and whether new patterns of relations emerged following challenges by First Nations to colonial legacy Published in English The Hot Springs Cove Story Michael

Kaehn,2019-05-18 Up until the 1930s Refuge Cove was one of the most remote places on the West Coast of Vancouver Island Tucked into Clayoquot Sound it sheltered boats from Pacific storms and its hot springs provided welcome relief for anyone waiting for bad weather to pass In spite of its natural wonders the cove was undeveloped and transiently populated But everything changed in 1933 when supply boat operator Ivan Clarke saw a business opportunity At the age of thirty Clarke pre-empted land in Refuge Cove and started a general store trading post out of a large canvas tent In only its first morning of business the store sold almost half its merchandise 250 dollars worth to weather bound fishermen and to a small group of Hesquiaht First Nation families Clarke was quickly able to expand his operation and started a fish buying camp a marine fuel business and a post office When enough of his eight children became school age he repurposed a former floating bunkhouse into a one room schoolhouse By 1950 over sixty people lived in Refuge Cove by then renamed Hot Springs Cove and it was a popular destination for tourists Clarke originally had plans to develop the hot springs into a health resort but in the end decided to donate part of his land to the people of British Columbia Thirty one acres of land beside the hot springs became

Maquinna Provincial Park in 1955 Today the park and the hot springs draw tens of thousands of people each year making them one of the top tourist attractions out of Tofino Meticulously researched and complete with historical photos and ephemera The Hot Springs Cove Story is the story of Ivan Clarke and his family's lives the story of a community and the story of a geographical wonder

Bootleggers and

Borders Stephen T. Moore, 2014-11-01 Between 1920 and 1933 the issue of prohibition proved to be the greatest challenge to Canada U S relations When the United States adopted national prohibition in 1920 ironically just as Canada was abandoning its own national and provincial experiments with prohibition U S tourists and dollars promptly headed north and Canadian liquor went south Despite repeated efforts Americans were unable to secure Canadian assistance in enforcing American prohibition laws until 1930 Bootleggers and Borders explores the important but surprisingly overlooked Canada U S relationship in the Pacific Northwest during Prohibition Stephen T Moore maintains that the reason Prohibition created such an intractable problem lies not with the relationship between Ottawa and Washington DC but with everyday operations experienced at the border level where foreign relations are conducted according to different methods and rules and are informed by different assumptions identities and cultural values Through an exploration of border relations in the Pacific Northwest Bootleggers and Borders offers insight into not only the Canada U S relationship but also the subtle but important differences in the tactics Canadians and Americans employed when confronted with similar problems Ultimately British Columbia s method of addressing temperance provided the United States with a model that would become central to its abandonment and replacement of Prohibition
