Fact and Fiction in Contemporary Narratives Jan Alber,Alice Bell,2021-05-11 This book explores the complex interrelationship between fact and fiction in narratives of the twenty first century Current cultural theory observes a cultural shift away from postmodernism to new forms of expression Rather than a radical break from the postmodern however postmodernist techniques are repurposed to express a new sincerity a purposeful self reflexivity a contemporary sense of togetherness and an associated commitment to reality In what the editors consider to be one manifestation of this general tendency this book explores the ways in which contemporary texts across different media play with the boundary between fact and fiction This includes the examination of novels autobiography autofiction film television mockumentary digital fiction advertising campaigns and media hoaxes The chapters engage with theories of what comes after postmodernism and analyse the narratological stylistic and or semiotic devices on which such texts rely The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of the European Journal of English Studies Gay Midlife and Maturity John Alan Lee,1991 Aging is stressful for anyone in youth oriented Western societies Elderly people encounter difficulties and discrimination

sometimes because of reduced income transportation and housing problems and failing health but often due to the persistent negative stereotypes that color others attitudes and behavior toward old people Gay men and lesbians experience these stresses as well as the numerous additional problems associated with their sexual orientation Gay Midlife and Maturity is a dynamic and positive volume that challenges the long held stereotype of the sad and lonely old homosexual A growing body of international literature much of which is featured in this book rejects this myth and illustrates that older gay men and lesbians cope well with the aging process and are comparable to younger homosexuals in social and psychological adjustment A much needed and major contribution Gay Midlife and Maturity contains an enormous amount of information for readers interested in gerontology and homosexuality Experts for the first time examine the relationship between the adjustment of gay people to later life and the age and sequence of the resolution of these typically early developmental processes raising many questions about traditional theories of gay development The existing contradictions and debates about gay men and accelerated aging are addressed Other valuable chapters focus on a theory of successful aging a comparison of the traditional gay community pre Stonewall versus the organized gay community the vital role of communication in gay relationships the sexual attitudes and behaviors of older gay men and much more Additional interesting and worthwhile chapters of this thought provoking new book include an in depth interview with Don Bachardy about his 33 year relationship Christopher Isherwood a renowned English writer who was 30 years his senior and a review of the growing literature on gay aging

Genuine Angela Hill, 2025-06-08 In matters of the heart love and relationships it is important to speak up when things in the friendship relationship is moving or are going too fast in a direction that doesn't work for both parties involved In matters of the heart love and relationships to avoid unnecessary heartbreak or pain don't let your flesh sex be the driving force to getting involved in a relationship that you are not ready for In matters of the heart love and relationships listen for healing of past situations and relationships because you don't want to add to anyone's pain If you or someone else hasn't healed from the anguish and pain of previous relationships whatever kind of relationships they are adding to your pain or someone else's pain could be detrimental In matters of the heart love and relationships when it comes to spirituality being close to or on the same page is important In matters of the heart love and relationships when you know what you want stick to it and stay with it

Promising Language

Randall Craig, 2000-01-01

Argues that Victorian legal, linguistic, and cultural attitudes toward promises, especially promises to marry, had a formative effect on novels of the period.

Scientific Realism and Human Emancipation Roy Bhaskar, 2009-01-26

Following on from Roy Bhaskar's first two books, A Realist Theory of Science and The Possibility of Naturalism, Scientific Realism and Human Emancipation establishes the conception of social science as explanatory and thence emancipatory critique. Scientific Realism and Human Emancipation starts from an assessment of the impasse of contemporary accounts of science as stemming from an incomplete critique of positivism. It then proceeds to a systematic exposition of scientific realism in the form of transcendental realism, highlighting a conception of science as explanatory of a structured, differentiated, and changing world. Turning to the social domain, the book argues for a view of the social order as conditioned by and emergent from nature. Advocating a critical naturalism, the author shows how the transformational model of social activity, together with the conception of social science as explanatory critique, which it entails, resolves the divisions and dualisms besetting orthodox social and normative theory between society and the individual, structure and agency.

meaning and behavior mind and body reason and cause fact and value and theory and practice The book then goes on to discuss the emancipatory implications of social science and sketches the nature of the depth investigation characteristically entailed In the highly innovative third part of the book Roy Bhaskar completes his critique of positivism by developing a theory of philosophical discourse and ideology on the basis of the transcendental realism and critical naturalism already developed showing how positivism functions as a restrictive ideology of and for science and other social practices
