Reason And The Contours Of Faith:

Reason & the Contours of Faith Richard Rice, 2013-05-17 Can reason and religion get together Should believers think Can thinking people believe Does religion have to make sense Does careful thinking help or hinder religious experience People have wrestled with such questions for hundreds of years and they are just as perplexing today as ever Reason the Contours of Faith explores the wide ranging issues these questions raise from biblical interpretation and proofs for God's existence to the nature of religious conversion Its central purpose is to find an alternative to both fideism the idea that reason has nothing to do with faith and rationalism the conviction that reason has everything to do with it Part One Reason and the Contents of Faith argues that reason contributes in important but limited ways to our understanding of religion Part Two Reason and the Experience of Faith shows that reason can support religious commitment but never produces it

Creation, Catastrophe & Calvary John Templeton Baldwin, 2000 In this scientific age what difference does it make whether I believe the world was created in six literal days and that the world was destroyed by a global flood In answering these questions Creation Catastrophe and Calvary shows how these beliefs are related to key issues such as the forgiveness of our sins and Sabbath observance Foreword Introduction Meet the Authors An Angel's Worldview The Days of Creation in Genesis 1 A Second Creation Account Biblical Evidence for the Universality of the Genesis Flood The Grand Canyon and the Genesis Flood The Geologic Column and Calvary The Rainbow Connection Implications for an Evangelical Understanding of the Atonement Evolution A Theory in Crisis The Role of Creation in Seventh day Adventist Theology Science and Theology Focusing the Complementary Lights of Jesus Scripture and Nature Faith and Reason Anthony Fisher, Hayden Ramsay, 2004 The first in a new series with Australian Catholic University this collection of essays deals with two important themes Faith and reason are heavily weighted words They point to elemental aspects of human existence The papers and discussions presented strive to clarify and correlate these basic activities or dimensions of human beings In all the complexities of the possible relationships and interweaving of faith and reason two kinds of questions keep recurring One the one hand what is the value of human intelligence and how is it endorsed and supported by faith On the other hand what is the distinctive intelligence or rationality of faith and how does it relate to the perennial search for wisdom represented in it various philosophical forms Contributors include Marilyn McCord Adams Raimond Gaita John Haldane John McDermott SJ Kevin Hart and Anthony Kelly CSsR Faith Has Its Reasons Kenneth Boa, Robert M. syntheses of Catholic teaching but each offers an account in accord with Catholic theology as it is expressed in the Second Vatican Council and authoritative documentation Part Two focuses on the historical development of Catholic Theology An initial section offers essays on some of Catholic theology's most important sources between 200 and 1870 and the final section of the collection considers all the main movements and developments in Catholic theology across the world since 1870 This comprehensive volume features fifty six original contributions by some of the best known names in current Catholic theology from the Americas Europe Asia and Africa The chapters are written in an engaging and easily comprehensible style functioning both as a scholarly reference and as a survey of the field There are no comparable studies available in one volume and the book will be an indispensable reference for students of Catholic theology at all levels and in all contexts

The God Who Trusts Wm. Curtis Holtzen, 2019-12-10 The Bible resounds with affirmations that God is faithful and trustworthy But might he also exhibit faith and trust Wm Curtis Holtzen contends that because God is a being of relational love and exists in relationship with humans then God is a God who trusts Holtzen argues that understanding the relationship between divine trust and human faith can give us a fuller truer picture of who God is and who we are

Two Wings Brian B. Clayton, Douglas Lee Kries, 2018-03-20 This work arises out of the efforts of two college teachers to explain to their beginning students how believing and reasoning are two human activities that may be integrated to form a complete Christian view of human existence Two Wings takes its title from the opening of John Paul II's encyclical Fides et Ratio which speaks of how the human spirit rises on the two wings of faith and reason to stretch toward truth The book offers a basic yet engaging encounter with traditional arguments for and against God's existence including such troubling topics as the question of evil and Christian belief It also grapples in non technical language with arguments arising from the encounter between contemporary natural science and traditional Christian theology These chapters include accessible discussions of the implications of Big Bang cosmology arguments from design and Darwinian evolution The final chapters of the book take up questions from ethics and politics that impact decisions on how we should structure our lives in light of the engagement between faith and reason This book is non dogmatic it seeks to probe and question the contours of the problems involved in the debate It addresses arguments supporting and opposing its own viewpoint and abounds in analogies designed to speak to non specialists Today even Christians who do not work in academic environments need to be familiar with such philosophical and theological arguments Two Wings provides the best available starting point for their efforts to engage with confidence the contemporary situation of Christian believers because it arises directly from the questions of the inquisitive The Necessity of Faith in Jesus Christ to Obtain Salvation Antoine Arnauld, 2011-05-19 There is no available information at this time Reason in the Service of Faith Paul Helm, 2023-03-01 Paul Helm is a distinguished philosopher with particular interests in the philosophy of religion His work covers some of the most important aspects of the field as it has developed in the last thirty years with particular contributions to metaphysics religious epistemology and philosophical theology In celebration of Helm's life's work Reason in the Service of Faith brings together a range of his essays which reflect these central concerns of his thought Over thirty of Helm's selected essays and four unpublished articles are gathered into five parts Metaphilosophical Issues Action Change and Personal Identity Epistemology God and Creation Providence and Prayer The volume is prefaced with a short editorial introduction and ends with an extensive bibliography of Helm's published works Demonstrating the important connection between Helm's theological and philosophical interests across his body of work this collection is a remarkable resource for scholars of religion philosophy and theology Thinking Theologically Fritz Guy, 1999 Religious commitment is a motivation not a substitute for careful thinking So writes Fritz Guy in Thinking Theologically Adventist Christianity and the Interpretation of Faith a new release from Andrews University Press and a work long awaited by his colleagues and students Guy offers his philosophy of how North American Seventh day Adventists ought to go about the business of doing theology The work is addressed to theological students pastors and serious general readers who are interested in what theological thinking is why it is important who needs to be doing it and how it should be done Preface What Theological Thinking Actually Is Basic vocabulary Basic characteristics More vocabulary Why Everyone Should Think Theologically An essential task An inclusive task A parable How Theological Thinking Should Begin Audiences and motivations Moral principles Methodological principles Why Theological Thinking is Open Ended Limitations and change Continuing discovery Kinds of development How to Think with Intellectual Integrity Criteria Application Theological fallacies Examining the ingredients How Scripture Should Function Priority over subsequent theological tradition Ellen White as an agent of scripture Scripture as a whole Theological Christocentricity Existential perspective What Else Is Involved Relation to scripture Varieties of ingredients How Culture Makes a Difference Secularity and secularism Underlying intuitions Theological implications Envisioning the work What Logical Presuppositions Need to Be Identified Meaning and validity Belief and trust Evidence and demonstration What Forms Theological Thinking Can Take Traditional systematic form Bibliographical excursus twentieth century systematic theology Other ways of organizing theology Components and dangers Why Tripolar Thinking is Essential Christian gospel Cultural context Adventist heritage The challenge of tripolarity Faith, Reason, and Beyond Reason Mark J. Boone, 2024-07-16 The relationship between faith and reason is multifaceted Faith transcends reason in that it is more than reason alone can contain or fully guarantee yet it is neither unreasonable nor something to which reason is irrelevant and reason says some pretty fine things about it This volume updates nine previously published articles on faith and reason by a Christian philosopher who has been studying these matters for two decades alongside one new essay and a philosophical dialogue These articles explain and integrate key ideas on faith and reason including Alvin Plantinga's account of how Christian belief can be knowledge even without evidence defenses of faith from Augustine and William James accounts of empirical evidence for faith from different world religions the distinction between faith and sight in the New Testament the structure of the evidence for the authority of the Bible the idea that faith transcends reason because some articles of faith are beyond human comprehension even if we have evidence that they are true and the nature of faith as a total commitment beyond what the evidence alone can guarantee The Nature of Theology Haight SJ, Roger ,2022-09-08 Describes the logic of Christian theology by sidestepping an abstract analysis of the discipline and offering a relatively clear structure of the discipline of theology that is responsive to our current situation

Salvation in the World Stephan van Erp, Christiane Alpers, Christopher Cimorelli, 2017-09-07 What happens when Edward Schillebeeckx's theology crosses paths with contemporary public theology This volume examines the theological heritage that Schillebeeckx has left behind as well as it critically assesses its relevance for temporary theological scene In tracing the ways in which Schillebeeckx observed and examined his own context's increasing secularization and concomitant development toward atheism the contributors to this volume indicate the potential directions for a contemporary public theology that pursues the path which Schillebeeckx has trodden The essays in the first part of this volume indicate a different theological self critique undertaken in response to developments in the public sphere This is followed by a thorough examination of the degree to which Schillebeeckx succeeded in leading Christian theology ahead without merely accommodating the Christian tradition to current societal trends The third part of the volume discusses the issues of climate change social conceptions of progress as well as the evolutionary understandings of the origins and purpose of religions The final part examines Schillebeeckx's soteriology to contemporary discussions about wholeness Andrews University Seminary Studies Andrews University. Seventh-Day Adventist Theological Seminary, 1993 Faith After Foundationalism D. Z. Phillips, 2018-02-02 Such is the clarity of its exposition and interest of its argument that it can be recommended to those seeking an introduction to recent work in epistemology The interest of the book however is greater than that For the discussion of foundationalism and of recent reactions to it is subtly interwoven into a discussion of recent and not so recent philosophy of religion Colin Lyas Philosophy Reasoning from Faith Justin Sands, 2018-01-16 An enlightening commentary on Merold Westphal's intricate thought and provokes new questions concerning the original project of his diverse philosophy B Keith Putt editor of The Future of Continental Philosophy of Religion Merold Westphal is considered to be one of the preeminent Continental philosophers of religion His articulation of faith as the task of a lifetime has become a touchstone in contemporary debates concerning faith's relationship to reason As Justin Sands explores his philosophy he illuminates how Westphal's concept of faith reveals the pastoral theological intent behind his thinking. Sands sees Westphal's philosophy as a powerful articulation of Protestant theology but one that is in ecumenical dialogue with questions concerning apologetics and faith's relationship to ethics and responsibility, a more Catholic point of view. By bringing out these features in Westphal's philosophy, Sands intends to find core philosophical methodologies as well as a passable bridge for philosophers to cross over into theological discourses. An engaging and illuminating work.

Richard Kearney, Charles B. Seelig Chair of Philosophy at Boston College. Faith and Learning David S. Dockery, 2012. Two dozen Christian higher education professionals thoroughly explore the question of the faith's place on the university campus, whether in administrative matters, the broader academic world, or in student life.

The Spark of Faith Fr. Wojciech Giertych, 2018-06-28. Faith is essential to our spiritual growth, yet too often good Catholics hold misconceptions about faith's meaning or role, misconceptions that can lead to spiritual stagnation. In these pages, Fr. Wojciech Giertych, OP, Theologian of the Papal Household, corrects prominent errors and clearly articulates what faith is, how it works, and how it may expand or wither within our soul. He explains that the initial moment, the spark of faith, which ignites our entire spiritual life, comes first from God. Because faith is a divine gift that is alive, we can explore the laws of its development and learn the principles of its nourishment in order to fully live a life of faith that influences our intellectual and moral life. Fr. Giertych's moving and practical reflections on the spiritual life bring ancient wisdom to bear on our modern age, teaching what it really means to have and grow in faith. You will come to understand the proper relationship between faith and reason, and you will deepen your understanding of the role of prayer in the life of faith. The Spark of Faith will help you focus your attention on God as the fundamental source of all the spiritual goods we need and cherish. Fr. Giertych has served as the Theologian of the Papal Household for two popes. His is wisdom you can trust.
