Exploring Aniconism Mikael Aktor, Milette Gaifman, 2020-05-21 This book explores the phenomenon of aniconism the denotation of the presence of gods saints or spiritual forces using non figural visual markers that do not resemble these supranatural entities The contributors show how various types of aniconism differ in how they mediate divine presence and relate to other modes of representation. Aniconism is rarely absolute; each aniconic form needs to be considered within a spectrum of visual modes ranging from the abstract to the anthropomorphic. The chapters examine aniconism in paleolithic cultures in ancient Egypt, Israel, and Greece; in early Christianity and Islam; in medieval and contemporary Hinduism; and in 17th–19th century Scottish Gaelic contexts. The volume also provides a critical historiography of aniconism as an academic concept, a new fine-tuned terminology, and some general characteristics of aniconic expressions in the context of the broader field of material religion. Offering a multi-faceted discussion of this important category of religious material culture, this book will be of interest to those with an interest in aniconism as well as those involved in the wider study of how religion intersects with art and anthropology. This book was originally published as a special issue of the Religion journal.

Perspectives on Panopolis: An Egyptian town from Alexander the Great to the Arab Conquest Egberts, Brian Muhs, Vliet, 2020-03-23. Panopolis, the modern town of Akhmim in Southern Egypt, was in Graeco-Roman times an important religious and cultural centre. Its gigantic temple was a stronghold of traditional Egyptian religion. In Late Antiquity it became a major centre of Hellenistic literature and learning, and at the same time of Coptic monasticism. The sources for Graeco-Roman Panopolis are numerous and diverse. They not only include numerous texts of all genres in various scripts and languages but archaeological artefacts too. This volume brings together seventeen contributions dealing with epigraphy, both hieroglyphic and Greek; Greek papyri; Demotic funerary texts; Coptic literature; and local monastic architecture. Without neglecting the heuristic problems which these various sources pose, they conjure up a vivid picture of a world marked by profound religious and cultural change.

The Eerdmans Encyclopedia of Early Christian Art and Archaeology Finney, 2017. One of the most widely respected theological dictionaries put into one volume in abridged form. Focusing on the theological meaning of each word, the abridgment contains English keywords for each entry, tables of English and Greek keywords, and a listing of the relevant volume and page numbers from the unabridged work at the end of each article or section.

Tod und Ritual in den christlichen Gemeinden der Antike Ulrich Volp, 2015-12-22. The development of Early Christian rituals in connection with death and burial has so far not sufficiently been explored. Volp's study focuses on the surviving literary sources, both pagan and Christian, together with inscriptions and other archaeological remains, while taking into account recent results from science and humanities. A summary of death and ritual in the ancient Mediterranean religions is followed by detailed analyses of the Christian sources from the 2nd to the 5th century. Thus, basic developments are being discovered which led to and accompanied the forming of Christian rituals, such as ritual purity or the social structure of family and society. Being the first such interdisciplinary approach, it also represents the first monographic work on the topic since 1941.

The Early Church in Its Context Abraham J. Malherbe, Frederick W. Norris, James W. Thompson, 2014-04-09. This volume honors Professor Everett Ferguson of Abilene Christian University on the occasion of his sixty-fifth birthday. Reflecting the interests of the honoree, the twenty-one contributions focus on various aspects of the early church and its environment Together the articles form a broad tapestry of interrelated topics informed from the disciplines of philosophy patristic theology archaeology rhetoric art Greco Roman religion and biblical studies Guide to the Study of Ancient Magic David Frankfurter,2019-03-19 In the midst of academic debates about the utility of the term magic and the cultural meaning of ancient words like mageia or khesheph this Guide to the Study of Ancient Magic seeks to advance the discussion by separating out three topics essential to the very idea of magic The three major sections of this volume address 1 indigenous terminologies for ambiguous or illicit ritual in antiquity 2 the ancient texts manuals and artifacts commonly designated magical or used to represent ancient magic and 3 a series of contexts from the written word to materiality itself to which the term magic might usefully pertain The individual essays in this volume cover most of Mediterranean and Near Eastern antiquity with essays by both established and emergent scholars of ancient religions In a burgeoning field of magic studies trying both to preserve and to justify critically the category itself this volume brings new clarity and provocative insights This will be an indispensable resource to all interested in magic in the Bible and the Ancient Near East ancient Greece and Rome Early Christianity and Judaism Egypt through the Christian period and also comparative and critical theory Contributors are Magali Bailliot Gideon Bohak Vronique Dasen Albert de Jong Jacco Dieleman Esther Eidinow David Frankfurter Fritz Graf Yuval Harari Naomi Janowitz Sarah Iles Johnston Roy D Kotansky Arpad M Nagy Daniel Schwemer Joseph E Sanzo Jacques van der Vliet Andrew Wilburn Coptic Christology in Practice Stephen J. Davis,2008-02-28 A pioneering study of ancient and medieval Christology Employing a range of interdisciplinary methods Stephen J Davis shows how Christian identity in Egypt was shaped by a set of replicable christological practices He thus enables readers to trace the Coptic church's theological and cultural transition from late antiquity to Dar al Islam Nag Hammadi Bibliography 1995-2006 David Scholer,Susan Wood,2009-01-31 This is the third volume of the immensely useful Nag Hammadi Bibliography the first volume of which covered 1948 1969 and was the first publication in the Nag Hammadi Studies series The second volume covered 1970 1994 This third volume provides a complete integration of Supplements II 1 II 8 to the Bibliography as published in Novum Testamentum 1998 2008 with additions and corrections This latest update contains 3 063 entries with the set of three volumes containing 11 580 entries Nag Hammadi and Gnostic studies continue to be of critical importance for the study of ancient religions in the Graeco Roman world and for the study of the world of early Christianity and the present bibliography provides an indispensable reference tool for work in these fields Late Antique Egyptian Funerary Sculpture Thelma K. Thomas,2000 Some of these sculptures were made for grand monumental tombs and commissioned by an urban land owning class with strong Hellenistic roots others were made for smaller and less imposing monuments and commissioned by distinctly different clienteles from monasteries and towns as well as by different socio economic classes within the cities The Boundaries of Art and Social Space in Rome Frederick Jones,2016-10-06 This volume focuses on four cultural phenomena in the Roman world of the late Republic the garden a garden painting tapestry and the domestic caged bird They accept or reject a categorisation as art in varying degrees but they show considerable overlaps in the ways in which they impinge on social space The study looks therefore at the borderlines between things that variously might or might not seem to be art forms It looks at boundaries in another sense too Boundaries between different social modes and contexts are embodied and represented in the garden and paintings of gardens reinforced by the domestic use of decorative textile work and replicated in the bird cage The boundaries thus thematised map on to broader boundaries in the Roman house city and wider world becoming part of the framework of the citizen s cognitive development and individual and civic identities Frederick Jones presents a novel analysis that uses the perspective of cognitive development in relation to how elements of domestic and urban visual culture and the broader world map on to each other His study for the first time understands the domestic caged bird as a cultural object and uniquely brings together four disparate cases under the umbrella of art
