Horror Film and Otherness Adam Lowenstein, 2022-07-19 What do horror films reveal about social difference in the everyday world Criticism of the genre often relies on a dichotomy between monstrosity and normality in which unearthly creatures and deranged killers are metaphors for society's fear of the others that threaten the normal The monstrous other might represent women Jews or Blacks as well as Indigenous queer poor elderly or disabled people The horror film's depiction of such minorities can be sympathetic to their exclusion or complicit in their oppression but ultimately these images are understood to stand in for the others that the majority dreads and marginalizes Adam Lowenstein offers a new account of horror and why it matters for understanding social otherness He argues that horror films reveal how the category of the other is not fixed Instead the genre captures ongoing metamorphoses across normal self and monstrous other This transformative otherness confronts viewers with the other's experience and challenges us to recognize that we are all vulnerable to becoming or being seen as the other Instead of settling into comforting certainties regarding monstrosity and normality horror exposes the ongoing struggle to acknowledge self and other as fundamentally intertwined Horror Film and Otherness features new interpretations of landmark films by directors including Tobe Hooper George A Romero John Carpenter David Cronenberg Stephanie Rothman Jennifer Kent Marina de Van and Jordan Peele Through close analysis of their engagement with different forms of otherness this book provides new perspectives on horror's significance for culture politics and art

The Dread of Difference Barry Keith Grant, 2015-04-01 The Dread of Difference is a classic Few film studies texts have been so widely read and so influential It's rarely on the shelf at my university library so continuously does it circulate Now this new edition expands the already comprehensive coverage of gender in the horror film with new essays on recent developments such as the Hostel series and torture porn Informative and enlightening this updated classic is an essential reference for fans and students of horror movies Stephen Prince editor of The Horror Film and author of Digital Visual Effects in Cinema The Seduction of Reality An impressive array of distinguished scholars gazes deeply into the darkness and then forms a Dionysian chorus reaffirming that sexuality and the monstrous are indeed mated in many horror films Choice An extremely useful introduction to recent thinking about gender issues within this genre Film Theory

Moyse Ferreira,2021-12-02 During the interwar years a proliferation of violence encroached upon the glossy idealistic world of fashion from the curiously common appearance of dismembered heads in fashion illustration to seemingly torturous techniques and devices advertised by beauty imagery even extending to garments designed to look assaulted and destroyed Danger in the Path of Chic brings this disturbing imagery to light for the first time proposing new directions for historians of fashion violence and culture in the interwar years Concentrating on London Paris and New York as fashion centres and political allies the volume explores why horror manifested itself in this way at this time and in a sphere that is usually perceived as being built on fantasy and escape In doing so Danger in the Path of Chic situates fashion within the very real social psychological economic and political traumas of the period The New Criterion ,1996 Syzygy, Beauty T. Fleischmann,2012 A book length lyric essay triangulating between contemporary art the construction of a house and the direct address of a lover Man Ray Arthur Lubow,2021-01-01 A biography of the elusive but celebrated Dada and Surrealist artist and photographer connecting his Jewish background to his life and art Man Ray 1890 1976 a founding father of Dada and a key player in French Surrealism is one of the central artists of the twentieth century He is also one of the most elusive In this new biography journalist and critic Arthur Lubow uses Man Ray s Jewish background as one filter to understand his life and art Man Ray began life as Emmanuel Radnitsky the eldest of four children born in Philadelphia to a mother from Minsk and a father from Kiev When he was seven the family moved to the Williamsburg section of Brooklyn where both parents worked as tailors Defying his parents expectations that he earn a university degree Man Ray instead pursued his vocation as an artist embracing the modernist creed of photographer and avant garde gallery owner Alfred Stieglitz When at the age of thirty Man Ray relocated to Paris he unlike Stieglitz made a clean break with his past
