New Zealand A Visual Souvenir:

New Zealand Gareth Eyres, 1999 Tourism and Souvenirs Jenny Cave, Lee Jolliffe, 2013-07-04 Souvenirs are part of global and local travel and tourism in all corners of the world This book portrays souvenirs as expressions of culture and as triggers of cultural change The volume provides critique and theorisation of souvenirs of places people and experiences in the context of lives lived at the margins of society politics tourism flows and urbanisation Case studies in sustainable tourism illustrate dynamic ways that consumers and suppliers use souvenirs to respond to resist and re interpret global and local influences upon cultures across informal hybrid and formal economies Visual Culture, Heritage and Identity: Using Rock Art to Reconnect Past and Present Andrzej Rozwadowski, Jamie Hampson, 2021-06-17 This book presents a fresh perspective on rock art by considering how ancient images function in the present It focuses on how ancient heritage is recognized and reified in the modern world and how rock art stimulates contemporary processes of cultural identity making Sound Souvenirs Karin Bijsterveld, José van Dijck, 2009 In recent decades the importance of sound for remembering the past and for creating a sense of belonging has been increasingly acknowledged We keep sound souvenirs such as cassette tapes and long play albums in our attics because we want to be able to recreate the music and everyday sounds we once cherished Artists and ordinary listeners deploy the newest digital audio technologies to recycle past sounds into present tunes Sound and memory are inextricably intertwined not just through the commercially exploited nostalgia on oldies radio stations but through the exchange of valued songs by means of pristine recordings and cultural practices such as collecting archiving and listing This book explores several types of cultural practices involving the remembrance and restoration of past sounds At the same time it theorizes the cultural meaning of collecting recycling reciting and remembering sound and music Tourism and Visual Culture Methods and cases Peter M. Burns, Cathy Palmer, Jo-Anne Lester, Lyn Bibbings, 2010 The study of tourism as a complex social phenomenon beyond simply business is increasing in importance Providing an examination of perceptions of culture and society in tourism destinations through the tourist s eyes this book discusses how destinations were and are created and perceived through the lens of the tourist s gaze New Zealand Through the Eyes of American Women Robyn Handel, 2009 New Zealand appeared relatively late on the general tourist map of the 19th century Famous for its exotic flora and fauna a visible native population and women s suffrage it also drew American tourists to its shores How did American travelers perceive New Zealand and its society Very few travel accounts by American women were published in this period but these historical documents offer subjective accounts of the author s time and present individual experiences and views on New Zealand New Zealand Craig Dowling, 2002 Includes maps and detailed information covering travel hotels and restaurants attractions national parks museums outdoor activities and more Also included are essays on the people of New Zealand their history culture arts and politics New Zealand's empire Katie Pickles, Catharine Coleborne, 2015-11-01 Both colonial and postcolonial historical approaches often sideline New Zealand as a peripheral player

This book redresses the balance and evaluates its role as an imperial power as both a powerful imperial envoy and a significant presence in the Pacific region One Flag, One Queen, One Tongue John A. B. Crawford, Ian C.

McGibbon, 2003 This is a collection of essays by New Zealand and Commonwealth historians on different aspects of New Zealand's involvement in the South African War of 1892-1902. It also includes essays of Australasian commandants and the war from an Australian perspective and the Montreal Flag Riot of 1900 Destination Branding Nigel Morgan, Annette Pritchard, Roger Pride, 2004 In today's highly competitive market many destinations from individual resorts to countries are adopting branding techniques similar to those used by Coca Cola, Nike and Sony in an effort to differentiate their identities and to emphasize the uniqueness of their product. By focusing on a range of global case studies, Destination Branding demonstrates that the adoption of a highly targeted consumer research based multi-agency mood branding initiative leads to success every time. Includes five completely new chapters authored by brand consultants, destination marketers and academics including Philip Kotler and Wally Olins. A more global coverage with new case studies and examples from the US, New Zealand, Australia and Asia. Considers the web as a channel of place branding promotion and its effects on the industry.

Vertical Living Julia Gatley, Paul Walker, 2014-09-01 In 1946 a group of students and idealists got together to realize their visions for a modern city. Over the following half century the Architectural Centre they founded helped shape the possibilities of modern life in urban New Zealand and profoundly influenced the remaking of the capital city of Wellington. More than just an association of architects, the Centre furthered education, published a magazine, Design Review, hosted modernist exhibitions in its gallery, staged an audacious campaign for political influence called the Project and fought for better planning, better design and better built environments in Wellington. Charting these activists and their projects over the years, Julia Gatley and Paul Walker also offer a history of urban Wellington from the 1940s to the 1990s and beyond. The book reminds us that in modernist ideology architecture and urban planning went hand in hand with visual and craft arts, graphic and industrial design. In recovering the multidisciplinary history, politics and planning of the Architectural Centre, Gatley and Walker begin writing the city back into the history of architecture in New Zealand Touring Pacific Cultures Kalissa Alexeyeff, John Taylor, 2016-12-15 Tourism is vital to the economies of most Pacific nations and as such is an important site for the meaningful production of shared and disputed cultural values and practices. This is especially the case when tourism intersects with other important arenas for cultural production, both directly and indirectly. Touring Pacific Cultures captures the central importance of tourism to the visual material and performed cultures of the Pacific region. In this volume we propose to explore new directions in understanding how culture is defined, produced, experienced and sustained through tourism-related practices across that region. We ask how is cultural value, ownership, performance and commodification negotiated and experienced in actual lived practice as it moves with people across the Pacific. This collection is a welcome addition to tourism studies or perhaps we should say post or para tourism. The essays bring out many facets and experiences.

too quickly bundled under a single label and focused exclusively on destinations visited by outsiders Tourism we see here actively involves many different populations societies and economies a range of local global regional engagements that can be both destructive and creative Western outsiders aren't the only ones on the move Unequal power neo colonial exploitation and capitalist commodification are very much part of the picture But so are desire adventure pleasure cultural reinvention and economic development The effect overall is an attitude of alert critical ambivalence with respect to a proliferating historical phenomenon A bumpy and rewarding ride James Clifford Professor Emeritus University of California Santa Cruz

Galleries of Maoriland Roger Blackley, 2018-10-18 Galleries of Maoriland introduces us to the many ways in which European colonists to New Zealand discovered created propagated and romanticised the Maori world summed up in a popular nickname describing New Zealand Maoriland But Blackley shows that Maori were not merely passive victims they too had a stake in this process of romanticisation What this book asks were some of the Maori purposes that were served by curio displays portrait collections and the wider ethnological culture Galleries of Maoriland looks at Maori prehistory in European art the enthusiasm of settlers and Maori for portraiture and recreations of ancient life the trade in Maori curios and the international exhibition of this colonial culture By illuminating New Zealand's artistic and ethnographic economy this book provides a new understanding of our art and our culture
