Newsmakers The People Behind Today's Headlines 1999 Issue :

Almanac of Famous People: Biographies ,2001 The Reception of Northrop Frye ,2021-08-31 The widespread opinion is that Northrop Frye's influence reached its zenith in the 1960s and 1970s after which point he became obsolete his work buried in obscurity This almost universal opinion is summed up in Terry Eagleton's 1983 rhetorical question Who now reads Frye In The Reception of Northrop Frye Robert D Denham catalogues what has been written about Frye books articles translations dissertations and theses and reviews in order to demonstrate that the attention Frye's work has received from the beginning has progressed at a geomantic rate Denham also explores what we can discover once we have a fairly complete record of Frye's reception in front of us such as Hayden White's theory of emplotments applied to historical writing and Byron Almén's theory of musical narrative The sheer quantity of what has been written about Frye reveals that the only valid response to Eagleton's rhetorical question is a very large and growing number the growth being not incremental but exponential Naked in Cyberspace Carole A. Lane,2002 Reveals the personal records available on the Internet examines Internet privacy and explores such sources of information as mailing lists telephone directories news databases bank records and consumer credit records Ulrich's Periodicals Directory 2003 Edgar H. during the Arab Spring Community based research in sport, exercise and health science Robert J. Schinke, Kerry McGannon, Brett Smith, 2016-01-08 Community based research has recently gained attention within the sport and exercise sciences When seeking to understand community based research methodologies one finds a diversity of approaches spanning a breadth of ontological views and equally diverse methodological approaches Though little is known about community based sport exercise and physical activity research these foci are beginning to gain scholarly attention in part through the emerging sport for development and peace literature This book features a conceptual introduction and eight pioneering examples of community based research from North American European and Oceanic scholars The topic matter reveals scholarship undertaken in relation to health physical activity youth sport and elite sport exemplifying work with mainstream and marginalized populations This book perhaps the first compilation of community based research relating to sport exercise and health will be of interest to sociologists of sport sport and exercise psychology scholars sport management scholars qualitative researchers health scholars and practitioners sport for development organizations and research ready communities seeking to engage in localized research projects This book was published as a special issue of Qualitative Research in Sport Exercise and Health The Mediated Politics of Europe Mats Ekström, Julie Firmstone, 2017-10-30 This edited collection makes a unique contribution to analyses of the changing nature and challenges of mediated political communication through a distinctive comparative discourse analytical approach The book explores how politics is performed and discursively constructed in television news and current affairs in five countries France Greece Italy Sweden and the UK and focuses on a moment in time in European politics characterized by challenging tensions increased Euroscepticism questioning of mainstream politics accentuated gaps between the elite and the citizens and polarizations between member states Emphasising the performative and discursive dimensions of political communication the chapters provide a detailed comparative analysis that is centred around three themes how symbolic representations of politics are shaped by journalistic practices genres and styles of news reporting the language and performances of mainstream and populist political leaders and the participation and representation of citizens voices NGOs as Newsmakers Matthew Powers, 2018-05-15 As traditional news outlets international coverage has waned several prominent nongovernmental organizations have taken on a growing number of seemingly journalistic functions Groups such as Amnesty International Human Rights Watch and Médecins Sans Frontières send reporters to gather information and provide analysis and assign photographers and videographers to boost the visibility of their work Digital technologies and social media have increased the potential for NGOs to communicate directly with the public bypassing traditional gatekeepers But have these efforts changed and expanded traditional news practices and coverage and are there consequences to blurring the lines between reporting and advocacy In NGOs as Newsmakers Matthew Powers analyzes the growing role NGOs play in shaping and sometimes directly producing international news Drawing on interviews observations and content analysis he charts the dramatic growth in

NGO news making efforts examines whether these efforts increase the organizations chances of garnering news coverage and analyzes the effects of digital technologies on publicity strategies Although the contemporary media environment offers NGOs greater opportunities to shape the news Powers finds it also subjects them to news media norms While advocacy groups can and do provide coverage of otherwise ignored places and topics they are still dependent on traditional media and political elites and influenced by the expectations of donors officials journalists and NGOs themselves Through an unprecedented glimpse into NGOs newsmaking efforts Powers portrays the possibilities and limits of NGOs as newsmakers amid the transformations of international news with important implications for the intersections of journalism and advocacy

Gender Setting Margaret Gallagher, 2001-06 What is the scope for independent citizen action in media and cultural policy formation How can audiences effectively voice critiques of media content In a market centred and consumer oriented media world what is the potential for monitoring lobbying and advocacy This book argues that there is a role for local action to defend and promote diversity in the content images symbols and values that people use in making sense of their lives It focuses on media portrayals of gender whose critique has been fundamental to the modern international women s movement Now research and activism have been brought together in the form of gender media monitoring systematic data collection aimed at policy critique and practical change The book brings together research findings and monitoring experiences from both North and South to demonstrate how women s groups have developed effective media monitoring models The Personalization of Politics in the European Union Katjana Gattermann, 2022-07-28 The personalization of politics whereby politicians increasingly become the main focus of political processes is a prominent phenomenon in modern democracies that has received considerable scholarly attention in national politics However little is known about the scope causes and consequences of personalization in European Union politics although recent institutional and political developments suggest that such a trend is underway This book sheds light onto this phenomenon by taking a comprehensive approach to understanding four key dimensions of personalization concerning institutions media politics and citizens In doing so it relies on an innovative longitudinal and cross country comparative research design and applies multiple methods It argues that institutional personalization is a necessary but not sufficient pre condition for media to increasingly report about individual politicians It shows that media personalization fluctuates across country and over time while Members of the European Parliament increasingly engage in personalized legislative and communicative behaviour These developments are conditional upon domestic media and electoral systems and have limited effects on citizen attitudes and political awareness The book concludes that as additional political actors gain formal individual responsibilities European Union politics also becomes more complex to disentangle Ultimately institutions provide more effective cues than individual politicians both for media to inform citizens about European Union politics and for the latter to acquire information that may help them understand and evaluate European Union politics These findings have important implications for the future of personalized politics in the European Union The Cumulative Book Index ,1999 International News in the 21st Century Chris Paterson,Annabelle Sreberny,2004 In the aftermath of September 11 the nature of international news has resumed a central place in media debates and political analysis In the first collection of its kind influential journalists and scholars probe the future of international news Topics include the conglomerates ethnocentric imbalances in news reporting the rise of non Anglo news channels approaches for reconstructing the international news agenda the impacts of new technologies of production and diffusion international news rhetoric and audiences imagination of the global and their perceptions of international news coverage In a dialogue that is both descriptive and prescriptive this book begins an encounter between media practitioners activists and academics constituencies that have tended to talk past each other but are now beginning to find some shared concerns Routledge Handbook of Humanitarian Communication Lilie Chouliaraki,Anne Vestergaard,2021-09-30 The Routledge Handbook of Humanitarian Communication is an authoritative and comprehensive guide to research in the academic sub field of humanitarian communication It is broadly focused on communication that presents human vulnerability as a cause for public concern and encompasses communication with respect to humanitarian aid and development as well as human rights and humanitarian wars Recent years have seen the expansion of critical scholarship on humanitarian communication across a range of academic fields sharing recognition of the centrality of media and communications to our understanding of humanitarianism as an agent of transnational power global governance and cosmopolitan solidarity The Handbook brings into dialogue these diverse fields their theoretical frameworks and methodological approaches as well as the public debates that lie at the heart of the contemporary politics of humanitarianism It consolidates existing knowledge and maps out this emerging field as an important site of interdisciplinary knowledge production on media communication and humanitarianism As such the Handbook is not simply a collection of texts sharing a similar theme It is a coherent intellectual contribution which systematizes current critical scholarship in terms of Domains Methods and Issues and sets an agenda of emerging and evolving research priorities in the field Consisting of 26 chapters written by international scholars who have contributed to laying the foundation of the field this volume provides an essential guide to the key ideas issues concepts and debates of humanitarian communication Contemporary Authors New Revision Pamela Dear,2000-06 This volume of Contemporary Authors R New Revision Series brings you up to date information on approximately 250 writers Editors have scoured dozens of leading journals magazines newspapers and online sources in search of the latest news and criticism Writers appearing in this volume include Gail Anderson Dargatz Valerie Martin Isidore Okpewho Philip Roth TV News Anchors and Journalistic Tradition Kimberly Meltzer,2010 Through the lens of TV news anchors this book examines the impact that television news has had on traditional journalistic standards and practices It provides a historical overview of the impact they have had on American journalism uncovering the changing values codes of behavior and boundaries of the journalistic community book cover
