Recollecting From The Past:

Seeing the Future Kourken Michaelian, Stanley B. Klein, Karl K. Szpunar, 2016-05-17 Episodic memory is a major area of research in psychology Initially viewed as a distinct store of information derived from experienced episodes episodic memory is understood today as a form of mental time travel into the personal past Recent research has revealed striking similarities between episodic memory past oriented mental time travel and future oriented mental time travel FMTT Seeing the Future Theoretical Perspectives on Future Oriented Mental Time Travel brings together leading contributors in both empirical and theoretical disciplines to present the first interdisciplinary look at the human ability to imagine future scenarios Chapters focus on the challenging conceptual and theoretical questions raised by FMTT covering themes such as varieties of future oriented cognition relationships between FMTT and episodic memory subjective temporality in FMTT the self in FMTT and functional evolutionary and comparative developmental and clinical perspectives on FMTT With its focus on the conceptual issues at the heart of fast developing research on FMTT this edited volume will serve graduate students to senior scholars working on or interested in FMTT and related areas as a synthesis of current theoretical thinking and a source of questions for future FMTT research

Feeling and Value, Willing and Action Marta Ubiali, Maren Wehrle, 2015-01-13 This volume explores the role and status of phenomena such as feelings values willing and action in the domain of perception and social cognition as well as the way in which they are related In its exploration the book takes Husserl's lifelong project Studien zur Struktur des Bewusstseins 1909 1930 as its point of departure and investigates these phenomena with Husserl but also beyond Husserl Divided into two parts the volume brings together essays that address the topics from different phenomenological philosophical and psychological perspectives They discuss Husserl's position in dialogue with historical and recent philosophical and psychological debates and develop phenomenological accounts and descriptions with the help of Geiger Heidegger Merleau Ponty Plessner Sartre Scheler Schopenhauer and Reinach

The Mind's Construction Matthew Soteriou, 2013-08-29 Philosophers working on the ontology of mind have highlighted various distinctions that can be drawn between the ways in which different aspects of our minds fill time For example they note that whereas some elements of our mental lives obtain over time others unfold over time and some continue to occur throughout intervals of time Matthew Soteriou explores ways in which such distinctions can be put to work in helping to inform philosophical accounts of both sensory and cognitive aspects of consciousness Part One of The Mind's Construction argues that work in the ontology of mind that focuses on distinctions of temporal character has much to contribute to philosophical accounts of the phenomenology of various elements of sensory consciousness e g the phenomenology of perceptual experience bodily sensation and perceptual imagination Part Two argues that these ontological considerations can inform our understanding of conscious thinking and the form of self conscious consciousness that we have as subjects capable of engaging in such activity by helping to account for and explain the respect in which agency is exercised in conscious thinking This in turn it is argued can illuminate the more general issue of the place and role of mental action in an account of the metaphysics of mind The Discourse on the All-embracing Net of Views Bhikkhu Bodhi, 2007-12-01 The Brahmajala one of the Buddha's most important discourses weaves a net of sixty-two cases capturing all the speculative views on the self and the world. The massive commentary and subcommentary allow for a close in-depth study of the work. The book contains a lengthy treatise on the Theravada conception of the Bodhisattva ideal. The long introduction is itself a modern philosophical commentary on the sutta.

The Story of Stone Jing Wang, 1992 In this pathbreaking study of three of the most familiar texts in the Chinese tradition all concerning stones endowed with magical properties Jing Wang develops a monumental reconstruction of ancient Chinese stone lore. Wang's thorough and systematic comparison of these classic works illuminates the various tellings of the stone story and provides new insight into major topics in traditional Chinese literature. Bringing together Chinese myth, religion, folklore, art, and literature, this book is the first in any language to amass the sources of stone myth and stone lore in Chinese culture. Uniting classical Chinese studies with contemporary Western theoretical concerns, Wang examines these stone narratives by analyzing intertextuality within Chinese traditions. She offers revelatory interpretations to long-standing critical issues such as the paradoxical character of the monkey in The Journey to the West, the circularity of narrative logic in The Dream of the Red Chamber, and the structural necessity of the stone tablet in Water Margin. By both challenging and incorporating traditional sinological scholarship, Wang's The Story of Stone reveals the ideological ramifications of these three literary works on Chinese cultural history and makes the past relevant to contemporary intellectual discourse. Specialists in Chinese literature and culture, comparative literature, literary theory, and religious studies will find much of interest in this outstanding work, which is sure to become a standard reference on the subject.

Handbook of Medieval Culture. Volume 2 Albrecht Classen, 2015-08-31 A follow-up publication to the Handbook of Medieval Studies, this new reference work turns to a different focus: medieval culture. Medieval research has grown tremendously in depth and breadth over the last decades. Particularly, our understanding of medieval culture of the basic living conditions and the specific value system prevalent at that time has considerably expanded to a point where we are in danger of no longer seeing the proverbial forest for the trees. The present innovative handbook offers compact articles on essential topics, ideals, specific knowledge, and concepts defining the medieval world as comprehensively as possible. The topics covered in this new handbook pertain to issues such as love and marriage, belief in God, hell, and the devil, education, lordship, and servitude, Christianity versus Judaism and Islam, health, medicine, the rural world, the rise of the urban class, travel, roads, and bridges, entertainment, games, and sport activities, numbers, measuring, the education system, the papacy, saints, the senses, death, and money.
