Reconstructing American Literary And Historical Studies:

Reconstructing American Literary and Historical Studies Günter H. Lenz, Hartmut Keil, Sabine Bröck-Sallah, 1990 The collection offers critical readings of the recent efforts in both American historiography and literary studies to revise the traditional canons to transcend pure pluralism and to write a new synthesis of American history in general and of American literature in particular

A Critical History of the New American Studies, 1970-1990 Günter H. Lenz, 2016-12-06 Starting in 2005 Gunter H Lenz began preparing a book length exploration of the transformation of the field of American Studies in the crucial years between 1970 and 1990 As a commentator on contributor to and participant in the intellectual and institutional changes in his field Lenz was well situated to offer a comprehensive and balanced interpretation of that seminal era Building on essays he wrote while these changes were ongoing he shows how the revolution in theory the emergence of postmodern socioeconomic conditions the increasing globalization of everyday life and postcolonial responses to continuing and new forms of colonial domination had transformed American Studies as a discipline focused on the distinctive qualities of the United States to a field encompassing the many different Americas in the Western Hemisphere as well as how this complex region influenced and was interpreted by the rest of the world In tracking the shift of American Studies from its exceptionalist bias to its unmanageable global responsibilities Lenz shows the crucial roles played by the 1930s Left in the U S the Frankfurt School in Germany and elsewhere between 1930 and 1960 Continental post structuralism neo Marxism and post colonialism Lenz s friends and colleagues now his editors present here his final backward glance at a critical period in American Studies and the birth of the Transnational

Archive, Slow Ideology and Egodocuments as Microhistorical Autobiography Sigurður Gylfi Magnússon, 2021-08-29 This book aims to demonstrate how scholars in recent times have been utilizing egodocuments from various angles and providing an opening for the multivocality of the sources to be fully appreciated The first part of the book is concerned with the significance of egodocuments both for the individual him herself who creates such documents and also for the other who receives them The author approaches the subject on the basis of his own personal experience and goes on to discuss the importance of such documents for the academic world emphasizing more general questions and issues within the fields of historiography philosophy of history microhistory and memory studies The second part of the book is based upon a photographic collection an archive that belonged to the author s grandfather who over decades accumulated photographs of vagabonds and outsiders This part seeks to explore what kind of knowledge can be applied when a single source an archive document letter illustration etc is examined and whether the knowledge derived may not be quite as good in its own context as in the broader perspective

The American Literary History Reader Gordon Hutner, 1995 American Literary History has emerged as the leading journal devoted to U S literary and cultural studies In this anthology 17 major scholars address subjects as diverse as Hawthorne s utopias Indian pictographs Emily Dickinson and class and the Black Arts Movement

Predicting the Past

Michael Boyden, 2009 Drawing from the social theories of Niklas Luhmann and Mary Douglas Predicting the Past advocates a reflexive understanding of the paradoxical institutional dynamic of American literary history as a professional discipline and field of study. Contrary to most disciplinary accounts, Michael Boyden resists the utopian impulse to offer supposedly definitive solutions for the legitimation crises besetting American literature studies by going beyond its inherited racist classist and sexist underpinnings. Approaching the existence of the American literary tradition as a typically modern problem generating diverse but functionally equivalent solutions, Boyden argues how its peculiarity does not, as is often supposed, reside in its restrictive exclusivity but rather in its massive inclusivity which drives it to constantly revert to a self-negating beyond perspective. Predicting the Past covers a broad range of literary histories and reference works from Rufus Griswold's 1847 Prose Writers of America to Sacvan Bercovitch's monumental Cambridge History of American Literature. Throughout, Boyden focuses on particular themes and topics illustrating the self-induced complexity of American literary history such as the early Anglocentric roots, theories of American literature, the debate on contemporary authors in the age of naturalism, the plurilingual ethnocentrism of the pioneer Americanists of the mid-twentieth century, and the genealogical misrepresentation of founding figures such as Jonathan Edwards, Emily Dickinson, and Robert Lowell.

From Modernism to Postmodernism

Gerhard Hoffmann, 2016-08-01 This systemic study discusses in its historical, cultural, and aesthetic context the postmodern American novel between the years of 1960 and 1980. A general overview of the various definitions of postmodernism in philosophy, cultural theory, and aesthetics provides the framework for the inquiry into more specific problems such as the broadening of aesthetics, the relationship between aesthetics and ethics, the transformation of the artistic tradition, the interdependence between modernism and postmodernism, and the change in the aesthetics of fiction. Other topics addressed here include situationalism, montage, the ordinary and the fantastic, the subject and the character, the imagination, comic modes, and the future of the postmodern strategies. The authors whose fiction is treated in some detail under the various aspects thematized are John Barth, Donald Barthelme, Richard Brautigan, Robert Coover, Stanley Elkin, Raymond Federman, William Gaddis, John Hawkes, Jerzy Kosinski, Thomas Pynchon, Ishmael Reed, Ronald Sukenick, and Kurt Vonnegut.

Canonization and Decanonization Toorn, A. van der Kooij, 2018-11-13 This volume contains the papers read at the Leiden Conference on Canonization and Decanonization of 9-10 January 1997. The emphasis in this rich and wide-ranging contribution to the subject is on the processes of canonization and decanonization in several religions and on the phenomenon of religious canons as well. It has two sections: Decanonization and the History of Religions and Decanonization and Modern Society. In the first section, processes out of which canons eventually emerge are highlighted in contributions devoted to particular religions: viz. African religions, Judaism, and Christianity, Islam, Buddhism, and Zoroastrianism. The articles of the second section are of particular relevance to the contemporary situation in the western world, dealing with aspects such as forms of the survival of a canon in processes of modernization, canonization, and the challenge of plurality and canonization and hermeneutics The reader may benefit even more from this volume as it contains also An Annotated Bibliography on the subject Emerson's Ghosts Randall Fuller,2007-09-07 It is increasingly commonplace to find scholars who circle back to Ralph Waldo Emerson and his intellectual heirs as a way of better understanding contemporary social and aesthetic contexts Why does Emerson s cultural legacy continue to influence writers so forcefully In this innovative study Randall Fuller examines the way pivotal twentieth century critics have understood and deployed Emerson as part of their own larger projects aimed at reconceiving America He examines previously unpublished material and original research on Van Wyck Brooks Perry Miller F O Matthiessen and Sacvan Bercovitch along with other supporting thinkers An engaging institutional history of American literary studies in the twentieth century Emerson s Ghosts reveals the unexpected convergent forces that have shaped American cultural history in lasting ways The Cambridge Companion to the Literature of the American Civil War and Reconstruction Kathleen Diffley,Coleman Hutchison,2022-08-18 The legacies of the Civil War and Reconstruction remain a central part of American life a century and a half later Drawing together leading scholars in literary studies and history this volume offers accessible treatments of major authors and genres of this period including Walt Whitman Frances Ellen Watkins Harper Rebecca Harding Davis Frederick Douglass and Charles Chesnutt as well as fiction poetry drama and life writing Although focused on literature this Companion also canvases battlefields homefronts and hospitals and discusses a range of topics including constitutional reform and presidential impeachment emancipation and Africa material culture and monuments education civil rights and reenactment The Cambridge Companion to the Literature of the American Civil War and Reconstruction speaks powerfully to literature s ability to help readers come to terms with a violent oppressive history while also imagining a different future
