After Cognitivism Karl Leidlmair, 2009-09-01 There is a basic perplexity in our times On the one hand we find a blind trust in technology and rationalism In our neo liberalistically dominated world only what can be rapidly exploited and commercialized seems to count The only opposing reaction to this kind of rationalism is an extreme rejection of all kinds of reasoning and sometimes attendant religious fundamentalism But instead of reflecting on the limits and possibilities of reasoning dialogue is replaced by a demagogic struggle between cultures One cause of the blind trust in technology is misunderstandings about the significance and the application of theories in the reception of the so called Enlightenment The Enlightenment is essentially characterized by two forces i the conception of society as a social contract and ii the new science Newtonian physics etc But as a result we lost ground Atomistic individualism nourished the illusion of a self contained ego prior to man's entering into a shared intersubjective world And in the new science our constructions of reality became autonomous and independent of our interventions Thus we became caught in the inherent dynamism of our computational constructions of reality Science as it is applied today operates with far too simple parameters and model theoretic constructions erroneously taking the latter the models as literal descriptions of reality

The Neuro-Image Patricia Pisters, 2012-07-11 Arguing that today's viewers move through a character's brain instead of looking through his or her eyes or mental landscape this book approaches twenty first century globalized cinema through the concept of the neuro image Pisters explains why this concept has emerged now and she elaborates its threefold nature through research from three domains Deleuzian schizoanalytic philosophy digital networked screen culture and neuroscientific research These domains return in the book's tripartite structure Part One on the brain as neuroscreen suggests rich connections between film theory mental illness and cognitive neuroscience Part Two explores neuro images from a philosophical perspective paying close attention to their ontological epistemological and aesthetic dimensions Political and ethical aspects of the neuro image are discussed in Part Three Topics covered along the way include the omnipresence of surveillance the blurring of the false and the real and the affective powers of the neo baroque and the use of neuro images in politics historical memory and war

Retrieving Realism Hubert Dreyfus, Charles Taylor, 2015-06-11 Retrieving

Realism offers a radical critique of the Cartesian epistemic picture that has captivated philosophy for too long and restores a realist view affirming our direct access to the everyday world and to the physical universe Dust jacket Pathways to a New Environmental Ethic Steven E. Alford, 2024-07-25 We live under the threat of humanity's self-inflicted extinction While technological approaches to climate mitigation are admirable our ecological crisis results ultimately from an inherited unexamined concept of selfhood and a misconceived view of nature The received idea that our self exists inside our skull engenders an assumption that nature is out there with devastating results This book explores three new ways of thinking about the interrelation of ourselves and nature Merleau-Ponty's notion of embodiment the connection between enactivism and affordances and object-oriented ontology These approaches to selfhood reorder our moral obligations What are our responsibilities to ourselves our children and nature itself An embodied ethic can transcend cultural biases and offer a new way of confronting climate change To meet environmental challenges we need to change our minds about our minds

Therapy and Beyond Martin Milton, 2010-10-26 Therapy and Beyond Counselling Psychology Contributions to Therapeutic and Social Issues presents an overview of the origins current practices and potential future of the discipline of counselling psychology Presents an up-to-date review of the knowledge base behind the discipline of counselling psychology that addresses the notion of human wellbeing and critiques the concept of psychopathology Includes an assessment of the contributions that counselling psychology makes to understanding people as individuals in their working lives and in wider social domains Offers an overview of counselling psychology's contributions beyond the consulting room including practices in the domain of spirituality the arts and creative media and the environmental movement Critiques contemporary challenges facing research as well as the role that research methods have in responding to questions about humanity and individual experience Sellars and Contemporary Philosophy David Pereplyotchik, Deborah R. Barnbaum, 2016-12-08 Wilfrid Sellars made profound and lasting contributions to nearly every area of philosophy The aim of this collection is to highlight the continuing importance of Sellars' work to contemporary debates The contributors include several luminaries in Sellars' scholarship as well as members of the new generation whose work demonstrates the lasting power of Sellars' ideas Papers by O'Shea and Koons develop Sellars' underexplored views concerning ethics practical reasoning and free will with an emphasis on his longstanding engagement with Kant Sachs Hicks and Pereplyotchik relate Sellars' views of mental phenomena to current topics in cognitive science and philosophy of mind Fink deVries Price Macbeth Christias and Brandom grapple with traditional Sellarsian themes including meaning truth existence and objectivity Brandhoff provides an original account of the evolution of Sellars' philosophy of language and his project of pure pragmatics The volume concludes with an author meets critics section centered around Robert Brandom's recent book From Empiricism to Expressivism Brandom Reads Sellars with original commentaries and replies
