Reconstructing The Canadian Family:

Reconstructing the Canadian Family Nancy Mandell, Ann Duffy, 1988-01-01      The Canadian Family in Crisis John F. Conway, 2003-08 In this book sociology professor John F Conway looks at families past present and future and examines the changing nature of family Figures from the first decade of the new millennium tell us that one marriage in two may well end in divorce Conway considers the implications of divorce the impact of social changes on men women and children and suggests how these issues might be better addressed through family policy The new edition addresses the harsh new reality facing Canadian families especially those most vulnerable as a result of the crisis of the family The Canadian Family in Crisis is the first book to examine the drastic changes in the Canadian family over the last thirty years      Canadian Family Policies Maureen Baker, 1995-01-01 With poverty unemployment and one parent families on the rise in most Western democracies government assistance presents an increasingly urgent and complex problem This is the first study to explore Canada's family policies in an international context Maureen Baker looks at the successes and failures of social programs in other countries in search of solutions that might work in Canada Baker has chosen seven industrialized countries for her comparative study Australia France Germany The Netherlands Sweden the United Kingdom and the United States These countries experience social and economic strains similar to those felt in Canada and though they share certain policy solutions major differences in policy remain Baker considers which of the policies in these countries are most effective in reducing poverty enhancing family life and improving the status of women then applies her findings to the Canadian situation Bringing together research and statistics from the fields of demography political science economics sociology women's studies and social policy this rich multidisciplinary study provides a unique resource for anyone interested in Canadian family policy      Changing Women, Changing History Diana Lynn Pedersen, 1996 Changing Women Changing History is a bibliographic guide to the scholarship both English and French on Canadian's women's history Organized under broad subject headings and accompanied by author and subject indices it is accessible and comprehensive      Restructuring Family Policies Maureen Baker, 2006-01-01 Recent years have seen significant changes in the social policies of many liberal welfare states this is especially true of social programs for families with children Increasingly governments are making family policy trade offs reducing support for some families but improving it for others Why are such trade offs occurring and how do governments differ in their approach to family social policy This study addresses these questions by examining the political demographic and socio economic factors influencing the restructuring of family related programs in OECD countries Adopting a feminist political economy approach Maureen Baker shows that while some governments encourage their citizens to see children as future resources and promote strong support for reproductive health programs child welfare services women's refuges subsidized childcare and pay equity others make these claims while simultaneously reducing family incomes through the deregulation of labour markets and restrictions on income support Ultimately Baker demonstrates that nation states with the best outcomes for families offer a variety of social supports which are increasingly important as global markets reduce economic security for some families while improving the financial situation of others This study also explores strategies employed by states to incorporate or resist international pressures and the reasons why some states tenaciously defend their family policy traditions while others restructure according to international guidelines Drawing from nation based research cross national studies and international data bases Restructuring Family Policies successfully integrates mainstream academic debates about restructuring welfare states with feminist research findings and current policy concerns

Telling Tales Catherine A. Cavanaugh, Randi R. Warne, 2011-11-01 Women played a vital role in the shaping of the West in Canada between the 1880s and 1940s Yet surprisingly little is known about their contributions or the differences sex and gender made to the opportunities and obstacles women encountered Telling Tales contributes to the rewriting of western Canada's past by integrating women into the shifting power matrix of class race and gender that undergirded its colonization and settlement This book covers a range of topics African American settlement on Vancouver Island prairie childbirth narratives and Mennonites as domestic servants are but three examples They focus on women of both minority and dominant cultures and reflect the West's characteristically mixed population Telling Tales challenges founding myths of the region and invites a retelling of the story of western Canadian colonization and settlement

A Diversity of Women Joy Parr, 1995-01-01 Our perception of women's roles has changed dramatically since 1945 In this collection Joy Parr has brought together ten studies from a variety of disciplines examining changing ideas about women Mariana Valverde writes about teenage girls in the immediate postwar years and finds that stereotypes of a supposedly simple secure politically quiescent and sexually conformist life do not really hold Joy Parr follows women shoppers of the early 1950s in their sometimes comical encounters with male designers manufacturers and retailers in search of the tools and totems of modernity for their homes Increasingly these homes were in suburban subdivisions whose pleasures and possibilities for women Veronica Strong Boag reconsiders Joan Sangster reminds us that wage earning mothers were numerous in the fifties and sixties and through a juxtaposition of their own stories with contemporary studies tells much about these self denying women's lives Franca Iacovetta discusses the experiences of immigrant and refugee women in northwestern and south central Ontario experiences that were interpreted through their starkly different European wartime memories Based upon her work among the rural women of southwestern Ontario Nora Cebotarev charts the changes that transformed farm families and finances from the sixties to the eighties Ester Reiter compares the recollections of women who had worked together during the 1960s in an auto parts plant in the Niagara Peninsula with contemporary newspaper accounts of a strike and leads us into a complex narrative of gender and militancy Nancy Adamson reconsiders the diversity of feminist organizing within the province over the decades since second wave feminism began she tracks the different needs and paths that brought women to the women's liberation movement and the ways in which their feminist analysis arose from their experience as community activists Linda

Cardinal writes about Franco Ontarian women charting the ways in which feminist activists challenged and were challenged as they worked with traditional farm and church based women s groups in northern and eastern Ontario Marlene Brant Castellano and Janice Hill introduce us to four aboriginal women Edna Manitowabi Jeannette Corbiere Lavell Sylvia Maracle and Emily Faries whose work has been to reclaim and build upon the knowledge and responsibilities long entrusted to the women of Ontario s First Nations

Population Reconstruction Gerrit Bloothoof, Peter Christen, Kees Mandemakers, Marijn Schraagen, 2015-07-22 This book addresses the problems that are encountered and solutions that have been proposed when we aim to identify people and to reconstruct populations under conditions where information is scarce ambiguous fuzzy and sometimes erroneous The process from handwritten registers to a reconstructed digitized population consists of three major phases reflected in the three main sections of this book The first phase involves transcribing and digitizing the data while structuring the information in a meaningful and efficient way In the second phase records that refer to the same person or group of persons are identified by a process of linkage In the third and final phase the information on an individual is combined into a reconstruction of their life course The studies and examples in this book originate from a range of countries each with its own cultural and administrative characteristics and from medieval charters through historical censuses and vital registration to the modern issue of privacy preservation Despite the diverse places and times addressed they all share the study of fundamental issues when it comes to model reasoning for population reconstruction and the possibilities and limitations of information technology to support this process It is thus not a single discipline that is involved in such an endeavor Historians social scientists and linguists represent the humanities through their knowledge of the complexity of the past the limitations of sources and the possible interpretations of information The availability of big data from digitized archives and the need for complex analyses to identify individuals calls for the involvement of computer scientists With contributions from all these fields often in direct cooperation this book is at the heart of the digital humanities and will hopefully offer a source of inspiration for future investigations

Reconstructed World Barbara Roberts, 1996-06-18 Born in Leicester England and raised in a working class family Richardson emigrated to northern Manitoba in 1911 She was influential in the women s and peace movements in both countries Devoutly religious she challenged orthodoxy and worked outside the mainstream churches for peace and social justice She cofounded one of the earliest suffrage groups in Manitoba and was a key activist in peace movements during the Boer War and World War I She also served as an information centre for international antiwar news and ran an internationally focused women s peace crusade in World War I from her Manitoba farmhouse via the post and newspaper columns Richardson was also a gifted writer and poet She wrote on a variety of women s movement issues for British and Canadian newspapers and magazines including Woman s Century the magazine of the National Council of Women of Canada Her outcries against war her indictment of militarism and her call for women and men to stand together for justice were powerful messages that still have resonance today Tragically poor health both mental and physical interfered with Richardson s work and prevented her from achieving the recognition attained by feminist contemporaries such as Nellie McClung Alternative Federal Budget 2004: Rebuilding the Foundations ,2004 Kyoto protocol and promote a sophisticated The AFB thus urges Paul Martin to base his environmentally sustainable economy budget projections on independent assessments rebuild and stabilize the funding for Cana conducted by the Auditor General enhancing da s national cultural institutions the transparency of federal budgets and hence restore and enhance the fairness of the tax the public A full 44% of the fiscal At the same time that it was repaying pub dividend enjoyed by the federal government lic debt the federal government implemented in the five years after balancing its books has 100 billion in tax cuts over five years as the gone to debt reduction with another 46% to key method of distributing and eliminating the tax cuts For years 2005 and beyond we use the Economic and Fiscal Up The Fiscal Outlook of the AFB date s estimates of real GDP growth 4 The interest rate is the final macroeconomic With these macroeconomic assumptions in variable that plays a decisive role in the federal place the second step of the AFB process is to budget However with the addi a capital asset the full expense of the asset is tional borrowing undertaken for CIFA the not recorded in the year in which the purchase total stock of federally guaranteed debt in is made It is important to note however that the pected life of 40 years out of its program spend federal debt burden including the CIFA falls ing budget 125 million would show up in throughout the AFB forecast as a share of GDP program expenses for each of the 40 years of from about 42% of GDP at present to 37 4% the expected life of the asset
