Reconstruction Of Palestinian Nationalism Between Revolution And Statehood:

The Reconstruction of Palestinian Nationalism Helena Lindholm Schulz, 1999 This text deals with the task of shedding light in the creation of Palestinian nationalism s and national identity It will be of interest to students and specialists concerned with the politics of nationalism and the politics of identity

Political cartoons and the Israeli-Palestinian conflict Ilan Danjoux, 2018-07-30 Do political cartoon predict violence To answer this question Ilan Danjoux examined over 1200 Israeli and Palestinian editorial cartoons to explore whether changes in their content anticipated the outbreak of the Al Aqsa Intifada in October of 2000 Despite stark differences in political economic and social pressures a notable shift in focus style and tone accompanied the violence With numerous illustrations and detailed methodology Political Cartoons and the Israeli Palestinian Conflict provides readers an engaging introduction to cartoon analysis and a novel insight into the Israeli Palestinian conflict In a region fraught with contested realities the cartoon s ability to capture the latent fears and unspoken beliefs of these antagonists offers a refreshing perspective on how both Israelis and Palestinians perceived each other and their chances for peace on the eve of the Second Intifada

Occupied Lives Nina Gren, 2015-11-20 Intense media coverage of the Israeli Palestinian conflict does not necessarily enhance one s knowledge or understanding of the Palestinians on the contrary they are more often than not reduced to either victims or perpetrators Similarly while many academic studies devote considerable effort to analyzing the political situation in the occupied territories there have been few sophisticated case studies of Palestinian refugees living under Israeli rule An ethnographic study of Palestinian refugees in Dheisheh refugee camp just south of Bethlehem Occupied Lives looks closely at the attempts of the camp inhabitants to survive and bounce back from the profound effects of political violence and Israeli military occupation on their daily lives Based on the author s extensive fieldwork conducted inside the camp including a year during 2003 2004 when she lived in Dheisheh this study examines the daily efforts of camp inhabitants to secure survival and meaning during the period of the al Aqsa Intifada It argues that the political developments and experiences of extensive violence at the time which left most refugees outside of direct activism caused many camp inhabitants to disengage from traditional forms of politics. Instead they became involved in alternative practices aimed at maintaining their sense of social worth and integrity by focusing on processes to establish a normal order, social continuity and morality. Nina Gren explores these processes and the ambiguities and dilemmas that necessarily arose from them and the ways in which the political and the existential are often intertwined in Dheisheh. Combining theoretical readings with field based case study, this book will be invaluable to scholars and students of social anthropology, sociology, international relations, refugee studies, religious studies and Middle East studies as well as to anyone with an interest in the Israeli-Palestinian issue.

Small-State Mediation in International Conflicts Jacob Eriksson, 2015-08-19. The Israeli-Palestinian conflict is one of the most prolonged, contentious and divisive in the modern era. But despite the volatile nature of the conflict which frequently flares up in armed confrontations between the two, there have been advancements towards a settlement through an admittedly protracted peace process. In this book, Jacob Eriksson argues that the impact of small states such as Sweden or Norway should not be ignored when it comes to the ongoing efforts to negotiate between Israel and Palestine. Although small states lack coercive power, the talks they have sponsored in this particular instance such as the Norwegian mediated Oslo Accords have transformed both the conflict and the conceptions of a solution to it. Of course, the diplomatic and financial power of larger states such as the USA is undoubtedly central to a negotiated solution. But by looking at conflict resolution from the perspective of the small state, Eriksson offers a unique analysis of power and diplomacy in the context of negotiations and efforts towards peace settlements.

Women's Political Activism in Palestine Sophie Richter-Devroe, 2018-09-19. During the last twenty years, Palestinian women have practiced creative and often informal, everyday forms of political activism. Sophie Richter-Devroe reflects on their struggles to bring about social and political change. Richter-Devroe's ethnographic approach draws from revealing in-depth interviews and participant observation in Palestine. The result is a forceful critique of mainstream conflict resolution methods and the failed woman-to-woman peacebuilding projects so lauded around the world. The liberal faith in dialogue as core of the political and the assumption that women's nurturing nature makes them superior peacemakers collapse in the face of past and ongoing Israeli state violence. Instead, women confront Israeli settler colonialism directly and indirectly in their popular and everyday acts of resistance. Richter-Devroe's analysis zooms in on the intricate dynamics of daily life in Palestine, tracing the emergent politics that women articulate and practice there. In shedding light on contemporary gendered politics from below in the region, the book invites a rethinking of the workings, shapes and boundaries of the political.

The social construction of Swedish neutrality Christine Agius, 2013-07-19. The end of the Cold War and the War on Terror has signalled a shift in the security policies of all states. It has also led to the reconsideration of the policy of neutrality and what being neutral means in the present age. This book examines the conceptualisation of neutrality from the Peloponnesian War to today, uncovering how neutrality has been a neglected and misunderstood subject.

in International Relations IR theory and politics By rethinking neutrality through constructivism this book argues that neutrality is intrinsically linked to identity Using Sweden as a case study it links identity sovereignty internationalism and solidarity to the debates about Swedish neutrality today and how neutrality has been central to Swedish identity and its worldview It also examines the challenges to Swedish neutrality and neutrality broadly in terms of European integration globalisation the decline of the state and sovereignty and new threats to security such as international terrorism arguing that the norms and values of neutrality can be reworked to contribute to a more cosmopolitan international order The Routledge Handbook of the Global Sixties Chen Jian, Martin Klimke, Masha Kirasirova, Mary Nolan, Marilyn Young, Joanna Waley-Cohen, 2018-02-06 This extraordinary collection is a game changer Featuring the cutting edge work of over forty scholars from across the globe The Routledge Handbook of the Global Sixties is breathtaking in its range incisive in analyses and revolutionary in method and evidence Here fifty years after that iconic 1968 Western Europe and North America are finally de centered if not provincialized and we have the basis for a complete remapping a thorough reinterpretation of the Sixties Jean Allman J H Hexter Professor in the Humanities Director Center for the Humanities Washington University in St Louis This is a landmark achievement It represents the most comprehensive effort to date to map out the myriad constitutive elements of the Global Sixties as a field of knowledge and inquiry Richly illustrated and meticulously curated this collection purposefully provincializes the United States and Western Europe while shifting the loci of interpretation to Africa the Middle East Asia and Latin America It will become both a benchmark reference text for instructors and a gateway to future historical research Eric Zolov Associate Professor of History Director Latin American Professor of Public Affairs and History The University of Texas at Austin As the fiftieth anniversary of 1968 approaches this book reassesses the global causes themes forms and legacies of that tumultuous period While existing scholarship continues to largely concentrate on the US and Western Europe this volume will focus on Asia Africa the Middle East and Eastern Europe International scholars from diverse disciplinary backgrounds explore the global sixties through the prism of topics that range from the economy decolonization and higher education to forms of protest transnational relations and the politics of memory Arab Family Studies Suad Joseph, 2018-07-10 Family remains the most powerful social idiom and one of the most powerful social structures throughout the Arab world To engender love of nation among its citizens national movements portray the nation as a family To motivate loyalty political leaders frame themselves as fathers mothers brothers or sisters to their clients parties or the citizenry To stimulate production economic actors evoke the sense of duty and mutual commitment of family obligation To sanctify their edicts clerics wrap religion in the moralities of family and family in the moralities of religion Social and political movements from the most secular to the most religious pull on the tender strings of family love to recruit and bind their members to each other To call someone family is to offer them almost the highest possible intimacy loyalty rights reciprocities and dignity In recognizing the significance of the concept of family this state of the art literature review captures the major theories

Shelef, 2020-07-15 Why are some territorial partitions accepted as the appropriate borders of a nation s homeland whereas in other places conflict continues despite or even because of division of territory In Homelands Nadav G Shelef develops a theory of what homelands are that acknowledges both their importance in domestic and international politics and their change over time These changes he argues driven by domestic political competition and help explain the variation in whether partitions resolve conflict Homelands also provides systematic comparable data about the homeland status of lost territory over time that allow it to bridge the persistent gap between constructivist theories of nationalism and positivist empirical analyses of international relations
