Recovering Bodies Illness Disability And Life Writing Wisconsin Studies In Autobiography:

Recovering Bodies G. Thomas Couser, 1997-11-01 This is a provocative look at writing by and about people with illness or disability in particular HIV AIDS breast cancer deafness and paralysis who challenge the stigmas attached to their conditions by telling their lives in their own ways and on their own terms Discussing memoirs diaries collaborative narratives photo documentaries essays and other forms of life writing G Thomas Couser shows that these books are not primarily records of medical conditions they are a means for individuals to recover their bodies or those of loved ones from marginalization and impersonal medical discourse Responding to the recent growth of illness and disability narratives in the United States such works as Juliet Wittman's Breast Cancer Journal John Hockenberry's Moving Violations Paul Monette's Borrowed Time An AIDS Memoir and Lou Ann Walker's A Loss for Words The Story of Deafness in a Family Couser addresses questions of both poetics and politics He examines why and under what circumstances individuals choose to write about illness or disability what role plot plays in such narratives how and whether closure is achieved who assumes the prerogative of narration which conditions are most often represented and which literary conventions lend themselves to representing particular conditions By tracing the development of new subgenres of personal narrative in our time this book explores how explicit consideration of illness and disability has enriched the repertoire of life writing In addition Couser's discussion of medical discourse joins the current debate about whether the biomedical model is entirely conducive to humane care for ill and disabled people With its sympathetic critique of the testimony of those most affected by these conditions Recovering Bodies contributes to an understanding of the relations among bodily dysfunction cultural conventions and identity in contemporary America Signifying Bodies G. Thomas Couser, 2009-10-22 Sheds new light on the memoir boom by asking Is the genre basically about disability

Handbook of Autobiography / Autofiction Martina Wagner-Egelhaaf, 2019-01-29 Autobiographical writings have been a major cultural genre from antiquity to the present time General questions of the literary as e g the relation between literature and reality truth and fiction the dependency of author narrator and figure or issues of individual and cultural styles etc can be studied preeminently in the autobiographical genre Yet the tradition of life writing has in the course of literary history developed manifold types and forms Especially in the globalized age where the media and other technological cultural factors contribute to a rapid transformation of lifestyles autobiographical writing has maintained even enhanced its popularity and importance By conceiving autobiography in a wide sense that includes memoirs diaries self portraits and autofiction as well as media transformations of the genre this three volume handbook offers a comprehensive survey of theoretical approaches systematic aspects and historical developments in an international and interdisciplinary perspective While autobiography is usually considered to be a European tradition special emphasis is placed on the modes of self representation in non Western cultures and on inter and transcultural perspectives of the genre The individual contributions are closely interconnected by a system of cross references The handbook addresses scholars of cultural and literary studies students as well as non academic readers Narrating Illness: Prospects and Constraints

Joanna Davidson,Yomna Saber,2019-07-22 This volume was first published by Inter Disciplinary Press in 2016 Telling the story of illness emerges from a landscape of pain grief and loss but its therapeutic value is indubitable This volume grapples with the potentials and limitations of such narratives as diverse cultural perceptions and realities are granted the voice to probe into those stories from literary and textual material as well as empirical ethnographic historical and personal bases Some of the chapters draw upon the capacity of storytelling to heal bodies and souls whereas others provide an important corrective to this overwhelmingly optimistic portrayal by focusing on the limits of storytelling and narrative to address physical and psychic trauma Despite the different approaches what ties these chapters together is a more focused textual and contextual analysis of the intersection between forms of storytelling and sharing the experience of illness as studied and witnessed and sometimes even lived by the authors of the volume New Essays on Life Writing and the Body Christopher

Stuart,Stephanie Todd,2009-03-26 In light of materialist revisions of the Cartesian dual self and the increased recognition of memoir and autobiography as a crucial cultural index the physical body has emerged in the last twenty five years as an increasingly inescapable object of inquiry speculation and theory that intersects all of the various subgenres of life writing New Essays on Life Writing and the Body thus offers a timely original focused and yet appropriately interdisciplinary study of life writing This collection brings together new work by established authorities in autobiography such as Timothy Dow Adams G Thomas Couser Cynthia Huff and others along with essays by emerging scholars in the field Subjects range from new interpretations of well known autobiographies by Edith Wharton Gertrude Stein and Lucy Grealy as well as scholarly surveys of more recently defined subgenres such as the numerous New Woman autobiographies of the late 19th century adoption narratives and sibling memoirs of the mentally impaired Due to their wide interdisciplinary focus these essay will prove valuable not only to more traditional literary scholars interested in the classic literary autobiography but also to those in Women s Studies Ethnic and African American Studies as well as in emerging fields such as Disability Studies and Cognitive Studies Embodied Politics in Visual Autobiography Sarah Brophy,Janice Hladki,2014-11-05 From reality television to film performance and video art autobiography is everywhere in today s image obsessed age With contributions by both artists and scholars Embodied Politics in Visual Autobiography is a unique examination of visual autobiography s involvement in the global cultural politics of health disability and the body This provocative collection looks at images of selfhood and embodiment in a variety of media and with a particular focus on bodily identities and practices that challenge the norm a pregnant man in cyberspace a fat activist performance troupe indigenous artists intervening in museums transnational selves who connect disability to war and many more The chapters in Embodied Politics in Visual Autobiography reflect several different theoretical approaches but share a common concern with the ways in which visual culture can generate resistance critique and creative interventions With contributions that investigate digital media installation art graphic memoir performance film reality television photography and video art the collection offers a wide ranging critical account of what is clearly becoming one of the most important issues in contemporary culture Living Through Pain Kristin M. Swenson, 2005 In Living Through Pain Kristin Swenson charts the multifaceted personal and social problems caused by chronic pain This book also surveys professional efforts to mitigate and manage pain Because the experience of pain involves all aspects of a person body mind spirit and community Swenson consults an ancient resource for wisdom perspective and insight Her close reading of selected psalms from the Hebrew Bible demonstrates that the challenge of living through pain is timeless Living Through Pain chronicles how these ancient texts offer a vocabulary and grammar for understanding and expressing the contemporary experience of pain Pain is a universal experience and this book invites readers to consider more fully what is involved in the process of healing BOOK JACKET The Disability Studies Reader Lennard J. Davis, 2013-05-02 The Fourth Edition of the Disability Studies Reader breaks new ground by emphasizing the global transgender homonational and posthuman conceptions of disability Including physical disabilities but exploring issues around pain mental disability and invisible disabilities this edition explores more varieties of bodily and mental experience New histories of the legal social and cultural give a broader picture of disability than ever before Now available for the first time in eBook format 978 0 203 07788 7

The Social Contexts of Disability Ministry Albert A. Herzog, 2017-09-29 This book provides pastors seminarians and interested laity with the background necessary to understand the need for disability ministry and the contexts out of which the church's ministry among people with disabilities must emerge This is true not only for descriptions of ministries over the past sixty years but also the challenges disability poses for biblical studies church history Christian theology and ethics Insights are gained not only from mainstream secular and religious sources but from evangelical and other conservative materials The blending of items from different religious resources reveals just how ubiquitous disability is and the need for disability ministry now and for many years into the future The book's format is such that either it can serve as a text for courses on disability ministry or individual chapters can be employed in various courses on selected topics in biblical studies history theology and ethics Pastors and lay leaders will enjoy the depth of coverage for each topic This is a book about a serious subject for serious readers Its materials are designed to inform stimulate and promote disability ministry as a topic worthy of serious study Reading Autobiography Sidonie Smith, Julia Watson, 2010-07-02 With the memoir boom life storytelling has become ubiquitous and emerged as a distinct field of study Reading Autobiography originally published in 2001 was the first comprehensive critical introduction to life writing in all its forms Widely adopted for undergraduate and graduate level courses it is an essential guide for students and scholars reading and interpreting autobiographical texts and methods across the humanities social sciences and visual and performing arts Thoroughly updated the second edition of Reading Autobiography is the most complete assessment of life narrative in its myriad forms It lays out a sophisticated theoretical approach to life writing and the components of autobiographical acts including memory experience identity embodiment space and agency Sidonie Smith and Julia Watson explore these components review the history of life writing and the foundations of autobiographical subjectivity and provide a toolkit for working with twenty three key concepts Their survey of innovative forms of life writing such as autographics and installation self portraiture charts recent shifts in autobiographical practice Especially useful for courses are the appendices a glossary covering dozens of distinct genres of life writing proposals for group and classroom projects and an extensive bibliography
