J. Washington, 2022-08-01 Sweet Mother of Christ Hallelujah Seems like an avalanche has rolled up to my door The mailbox was stuffed with letters from several different organizations and a couple of catalogs and being a Tuesday there was also a wad of junk mail Remembering the thick manila envelope I received from the VFW Veterans of Foreign Wars in mid January with an assortment of gifts a nice tablet size calculator all occasion cards address labels a couple of notepads a calendar even a gift bag My conscience just wouldn't let me rest after receiving all these cool little gifts I just had to send a donation to help with postage and handling I think that's what caused the avalanche of mail that landed at my door Deciding right then to keep a count of all incoming mail I began to write down the names and contents of each envelope thinking it couldn't possibly be too many more after this shipment Boy was I ever wrong I started receiving cards of all kind prayer booklets prayer relics rosaries crucifixes and medals Besides the letters the phone calls started so I started listing them too Within a couple of weeks I had accumulated several pages of organizations requesting help either by phone or postal service And the brain being the peculiar organ that it is my brain anyway it gets restless at times for more activity Firing up the computer I started a real list of all the charitable organizations I hear from daily and decided to make my list an open project Catalog of Copyright Entries, Third Series Library of Congress. Copyright Office, 1980 Includes index Blues, How Do You Do? Christian O'Connell, 2015-08-12 Recent revisionist scholarship has argued that representations by white outsider observers of black American music have distorted historical truths about how the blues came to be While these scholarly arguments have generated an interesting debate concerning how the music has been framed and disseminated they have so far only told an American story failing to acknowledge that in the post war era the blues had spread far beyond the borders of the United States As Christian O'Connell shows in Blues How Do You Do Paul Oliver's largely neglected scholarship and the unique transatlantic cultural context it provides is vital to understanding the blues O'Connell's study begins with Oliver's scholarship in his early days in London as a writer for the British jazz press and goes on to examine Oliver's encounters with visiting blues musicians his State Department supported field trip to the US in 1960 and the resulting photographs and oral history he produced including his epic blues narrative The Story of the Blues 1969 Blues How Do You Do thus aims to move away from debates that have been confined within the limits of national borders or relied on clichés of British bands popularizing American music in America to explore how Oliver's work demonstrates that the blues became a reified ideal constructed in opposition to the forces of modernity
