Redefining Motherhood Changing Identities And Patterns:

Redefining Motherhood Sharon Abbey, Andrea O'Reilly, 1998 Women have through choice and circumstance changed what it means to be a mother today No longer is there one clear and correct prescribed definition As economic social cultural and political conditions evolve women are revolutionizing concepts of mothering in a way unrecognizable short decades ago In this unique collection twenty three women teaching at colleges and universities throughout Canada explore how traditional views of motherhood have been influenced by changing social and cultural conditions Their essays unravel patriarchal constructions of motherhood and re present new definitions drawn from women s lived experiences From Motherhood to Mothering Andrea O'Reilly, 2012-02-01 In the years since the publication of Adrienne Rich s Of Woman Born the topic of motherhood has emerged as a central issue in feminist scholarship Arguably still the best feminist book on mothering and motherhood Of Woman Born is not only a wide ranging far reaching meditation on the meaning and experience of motherhood that draws from the disciplines of anthropology feminist theory psychology and literature but it also narrates Rich s personal reflections on her experiences of mothering Andrea O'Reilly gathers feminist scholars from diverse disciplines such as literature women s studies law sociology anthropology creative writing and critical theory and examines how Of Woman Born has informed and influenced the way feminist scholarship thinks and talks about motherhood The contributors explore the many ways in which Rich provides the analytical tools to study and report upon the meaning and experience of motherhood Matricentric Feminism Andrea O'Reilly, 2016-10-01 The book argues that the category of mother is distinct from the category of woman and that many of the problems mothers face social economic political cultural psychological and so forth are specific to women s role and identity as mothers Indeed mothers are oppressed under patriarchy as women and as mothers Consequently mothers need a feminism of their own one that positions mothers concerns as the starting point for a theory and politics of empowerment O'Reilly terms this new mode of feminism matricentric feminism and the book explores how it is represented and experienced in theory activism and practice The chapter on maternal theory examines the central theoretical concepts of maternal scholarship while the chapter on activism considers the twenty first century motherhood movement Feminist mothering is likewise examined as the specific practice of matricentric feminism and this chapter discusses various theories and strategies on and for maternal empowerment Matricentric feminism is also examined in relation to the larger field of academic feminism here O'Reilly persuasively shows how matricentric feminism has been marginalized in academic feminism and considers the reasons for such exclusion and how such may be challenged and changed Matricentric Feminism: Theory, Activism, Practice. The 2nd Edition Andrea O'Reilly, 2021-04-04 The 2nd edition includes a new preface that considers how matricentric feminism in positioning mothering as a verb affords a gender neutral understanding of motherwork and allows for an appreciation of how motherwork is deeply gendered and how this may be challenged and changed through empowered mothering The book argues that the category of mother is distinct from the category of woman and that many of the problems mothers face are specific to women's role and identity as mothers. Indeed, mothers are oppressed under patriarchy as women and as mothers. Consequently, mothers need a feminism of their own, one that positions mothers' concerns as the starting point for a theory and politics of empowerment. O'Reilly terms this new mode of feminism matricentric feminism, and the book explores how it is represented and experienced in theory, activism, and practice. Mothers and Children Susan E. Chase, Mary Frances

Rogers, 2001. Motherhood is a highly personal array of experiences with a uniquely public dimension preoccupying policymakers, advice givers, health care providers, religious leaders, child care workers, educators, and total strangers who feel entitled to judge mothers they see with their children in the neighborhood or on the TV news. Chase and Rogers of the University of Tulsa and Rogers of the University of West Florida approach motherhood and mothering as feminist sociologists focusing on questions such as how ideas about motherhood are shaped by social and historical conditions, how ideas about motherhood change over time and across social contexts, who has the power to make their definitions of motherhood stick, and what diverse groups of mothers themselves think. Textual Mothers/Maternal Texts Elizabeth Podnieks, Andrea O'Reilly, 2011-04-07. Textual Mothers/Maternal Texts focuses on mothers as subjects and as writers who produce autobiography, fiction, and poetry about maternity. International contributors examine the mother without child, with child, and in her multiple identities as grandmother, mother, and daughter. The collection examines how authors use textual spaces to accept, negotiate, resist, or challenge traditional conceptions of mothering and maternal roles, and how these texts offer alternative practices and visions for mothers. Further, it illuminates how textual representations both reflect and help to define or reshape the realities of women and families by examining how mothering and being a mother are political, personal, and creative narratives unfolding within both the pages of a book and the spaces of a life. The range of chapters maps a shift from the daughter-centric stories that have dominated the maternal tradition to the matrilineal and matrifocal perspectives that have emerged over the last few decades as the mother's voice moved from silence to speech. Contributors make aesthetic, cultural, and political claims and critiques about mothering and motherhood, illuminating in new and diverse ways how authors and the protagonists of the texts read their own maternal identities as well as the maternal scripts of their families, cultures, and nations in their quest for self-knowledge, agency, and artistic expression.

Mad Mothers, Bad Mothers, and What a "Good" Mother Would Do Sarah LaChance Adams, 2014-05-20. When a mother kills her child, we call her a bad mother, but as this book shows, even mothers who intend to do their children harm are not easily categorized as mad or bad. Maternal love is a complex emotion rich with contradictory impulses and desires, and motherhood is a conflicted state in which women constantly renegotiate the needs of mother and child, the self and the other. Applying care ethics, philosophy, and the work of Emmanuel, Levinas, Maurice Merleau-Ponty, and Simone de Beauvoir to real-world experiences of motherhood, Sarah LaChance Adams throws the inherent tensions of motherhood into sharp relief, drawing a more nuanced portrait of the mother and child relationship than previously conceived The maternal example is particularly instructive for ethical theory highlighting the dynamics of human interdependence while also affirming separate interests LaChance Adams particularly focuses on maternal ambivalence and its morally productive role in reinforcing the divergence between oneself and others helping to recognize the particularities of situation and negotiating the difference between one's own needs and the desires of others She ultimately argues maternal filicide is a social problem requiring a collective solution that ethical philosophy and philosophies of care can inform

In (M)other Words Andrea O'Reilly, 2024-04-30 Dr Andrea O'Reilly is internationally recognized as the founder of Motherhood Studies 2006 and its subfield Maternal Theory 2007 and creator of the concept of Matricentric Feminism a feminism for and about mothers 2016 and Matricritics a literary theory and practice for a reading of mother focused texts 2021 With this collection O'Reilly continues the conversation on the meaning and nature of motherhood initiated by Adrienne Rich in Of Woman Born close to fifty years ago In In Mother Words O'Reilly shares 25 of her chapters and articles published between 2009-2024 to examine the oppressive and empowering dimensions of mothering and to explore motherhood as institution experience subjectivity and empowerment The collection considers the central themes and theories of motherhood studies including normative motherhood feminist mothering maternal regret matricentric pedagogy young mothers academic motherhood matricentric feminism matricritics motherhood and feminism the motherhood memoir the twenty first century motherhood movement mothers and daughters mothers and sons pandemic mothering and the motherline

From Happy Homemaker to Desperate Housewives Rebecca Feasey, 2012-11-01 From Happy Homemaker to Desperate Housewives Motherhood and Popular Television is a comprehensive and accessible introduction to key debates concerning the representations of motherhood motherwork and the maternal role in contemporary television programming The volume looks at the construction of motherhood in the ostensibly female genre of soap opera the mother as housewife in the domestic situation comedy deviant desiring and delinquent motherwork in the teen drama the single working mother in the contemporary dramedy the fragile and failing mother of reality parenting television the serene and selfless celebrity motherhood profile and the new mother in reality pregnancy and childbirth television Motherhood and Popular Television examines the depiction of motherhood in this wide range of popular television genres in order to illustrate how the maternal role is being constructed circulated and interrogated in contemporary factual and fictional programming paying particular attention to the ways in which such images can be seen to challenge or conform to the ideal image of the good mother that dominates the contemporary cultural landscape

Families, Sport, Leisure and Social Justice Dawn E. Trussell, Ruth Jeanes, 2021-04-15 Through a social justice and equity lens this book examines how families sport and leisure connect to broader social issues in society It goes beyond describing oppression and disadvantaged identities and focuses on advocacy and ways forward to challenge the status quo Adopting an interdisciplinary approach the book draws upon different theories to present important new work on topics as diverse as the role of parents and siblings within youth sport the family in sport for development and peace and grandparent grandchild relationships in sport leisure and family tourism Several topics also bring attention to the multiplicity of family lives such as LGBTQ older adults as well as children and young people in the care of the state Together these studies provide important insight into how sport and leisure reflect and refract key contemporary social issues within the context of familial lives This is fascinating reading for any student or researcher with an interest in sport leisure education development sociology social work or social policy
