Reflecting Labor Images Of Myth And Origin Over 100 Years:

Nationalism, Labour and Ethnicity 1870-1939 Angel Smith, Stefan Berger, 1999 This text looks at the inter relationships between labour nationalist movements and ethnicity during the Age of Imperialism Two of the most debated contemporary issues focus on the decline of labour particularly socialist ideologies and the rise of nationalism It is sometimes assumed that the demise of one led to the triumph of the other It is also thought that labour as an internationalist movement underestimated and misunderstood the power of nationalism This text links these historical phenomena and sets the debate in more accurate historical context

Reflecting Labor Roger McDonald, 1991

Labour and the Countryside Clare V. J. Griffiths, 2007-05-10 The common reputation of the British Labour Party has always been as a thing of the town an essentially urban phenomenon which has failed to engage with the rural electorate or identify itself with rural issues Yet during the inter war years Labour viewed the countryside as a crucial electoral battleground even claiming that the party could never form a majority administration without winning a significant number of seats across rural Britain Committing itself to a series of campaigns in rural areas during the 1920s and 30s Labour developed a rural and often specifically agricultural programme on which to attract new support and members Labour and the Countryside takes this forgotten chapter in the party's history as a starting point for a fascinating and wide ranging re examination of the relationship between the British Left and rural Britain The first account of this aspect of Labour's history this book draws on extensive research across a wide variety of original source material from local party minutes and trade union archives to the records of Labour's first two periods in government Historical literary and visual representations of the countryside are also examined along with newspapers magazines and propaganda materials In reconstructing the contexts within which Labour attempted to redefine itself as a voice for the countryside the resulting study presents a fresh perspective on the political history of the inter war years
