Golden Age theatre to contemporary French literature and from Cuban film to German fiction the twelve essays in this volume provide a fresh look at Modern Language Studies highlighting in particular the interdisciplinary nature of this field On one level the volume speaks to those exploring Modern Language Studies for the first time for example undergraduate students who seek a greater understanding of the dialogue between language and culture However the individual essays also have the potential to attract experienced scholars either looking for new knowledge on specialist subjects or ways of approaching research in Modern Languages Through its central theme Reflections New Perspectives in Modern Languages and Cultures makes some suggestions about the way forward for Modern Language Studies

Adman's Dilemma Paul Rutherford, 2018-01-01 The Adman's Dilemma is a cultural biography that explores the rise and fall of the advertising man as a figure who became effectively a licensed deceiver in the process of governing the lives of American consumers Apparently this personage was caught up in a contradiction both compelled to deceive yet supposed to tell the truth It was this moral condition and its consequences that made the adman so interesting to critics novelists and eventually filmmakers The biography tracks his saga from its origins in the exaggerated doings of P T Barnum the emergence of a new profession in the 1920s the heyday of the adman's influence during the post WW2 era the later rebranding of the adman as artist until the apparent demise of the figure symbolized by the triumph of that consummate huckster Donald Trump In The Adman's Dilemma author Paul Rutherford explores how people inside and outside the advertising industry have understood the conflict between artifice and authenticity The book employs a range of fictional and nonfictional sources including memoirs novels movies TV shows websites and museum exhibits to suggest how the adman embodied some of the strange realities of modernity

Primitivism in Modern Art Robert Goldwater, 1986 This now classic study maps the profound effect of primitive art on modern as well as the primitivizing strain in modern art itself Robert Goldwater describes how and why works by primitive artists attracted modern painters and sculptors and he delineates the differences between what is truly primitive or archaic and what intentionally embodies such elements His analysis distinguishes the romanticism of Gauguin an emotional primitivism exemplified by the Brücke and Blaue Reiter groups in Germany the intellectual primitivism of Picasso and Modigliani and a primitivism of the subconscious in Miró and Dalí Two of Goldwater's related essays Judgments of Primitive Art 1905-1965 and Art History and Anthropology have been added for this new paperback edition

The Saints of Modern Art Charles A. Riley, 1998 Asceticism seen as a powerful force in the art and thought of our time

The Fricks Collect Ian Wardropper, 2025-03-04 Before his New York home became a museum Henry Clay Frick engaged some of his era's most important art dealers to build a notable collection and the best decorators to create suitable Gilded Age interiors to accommodate the works This story traces the journey that led to the creation of one of America's finest art collections. At its heart, this story centers on Frick and his daughter Helen Clay Frick, both pivotal figures in the formation of the renowned Frick Collection. The volume delves into the Fricks' exposure to and acquisition of some of the finest art of their time. With an exquisite blend of textual narrative and ample imagery showcasing masterpieces and the sumptuous interiors of homes in Pittsburgh and New York, the book offers a captivating narrative of ambition, wealth, and cultural patronage. White, Allom, Co., and Elsie de Wolfe worked with Frick on the decoration of his houses and influenced the choice of many furnishings the owner acquired, and that formed the backdrop for his paintings. As was commonplace at the time, decorators often collaborated with dealers in creating spaces suitable for the esteemed works of art. Further influential figures who shaped the era's cultural landscape include Frick's business partner Andrew Carnegie and noted art dealers Joseph Duveen in London and Charles Carstairs of M. Knoedler & Co. in New York. Presenting the glittering halls of their homes and the masterpieces adorning the walls of The Frick Collection, this volume is a testament to the enduring allure of art and the power of patronage in shaping cultural institutions.
