

Apprenticeship : from theory to implementation

- Youth Guarantee and the Apprenticeship reform
 - Two challenges at the same time
 - Apprenticeship reform : apprenticeship, but also professional education
 - Youth Guaranty plan : extra money that should be used efficiently
 - Possibly conflicting, should be made mutually reinforcing

- Making apprenticeship work : 6 challenges
 - Cooperation : a shared issue (education and labour market)
 - Information : long term skills information (supply and demand)
 - Matching : short term skills information (supply and demand)
 - Guiding : coordination between education and labour market institutions
 - Financing : too much worse than too few in current economic conditions
 - Outcomes : the real "solution" is not entering apprenticeship but finding a job

Doctoring the South Steven M. Stowe,2011-01-20 Offering a new perspective on medical progress in the nineteenth century Steven M Stowe provides an in depth study of the midcentury culture of everyday medicine in the South Reading deeply in the personal letters daybooks diaries bedside notes and published writings of doctors Stowe illuminates an entire world of sickness and remedy suffering and hope and the deep ties between medicine and regional culture In a distinct American region where climate race and slavery and assumptions about southernness profoundly shaped illness and healing in the lives of ordinary people Stowe argues that southern doctors inhabited a world of skills medicines and ideas about sickness that allowed them to play moral as well as practical roles in their communities Looking closely at medical education bedside encounters and medicine s larger social aims he describes a country orthodoxy of local social medical practice that highly valued the art of medicine While not modern in the sense of laboratory science a century later this country orthodoxy was in its own way modern Stowe argues providing a style of caregiving deeply rooted in individual experience moral values and a consciousness of place and time
