Christine Gledhill, 2004-01-12 No Marketing Blurb Reframing British Cinema, 1918-1928 Christine Gledhill, 2003 No Marketing Blurb How Stage Playwrights Saved the British Cinema, 1930-1956 David Cottis, 2024-12-26 Examines the film careers and work of British playwrights who worked as screenwriters between 1930 1956 During the period between the 1927 Cinematograph Films Act and the new drama of the 1950s many British writers associated with the stage also wrote for films bringing the techniques of the well made play with them Some like Bernard Shaw Noel Coward and Terence Rattigan were screenwriter stars part of the publicity of the films they worked on Pygmalion Brief Encounter The Way to the Stars Others were less celebrated but had long successful screen careers such as R C Sherriff author of Journey's End who worked on films as different as The Invisible Man The Four Feathers and The Dam Busters Using the authors original archives this book follows the way in which these writers adapted their stage skills for the screen contributing to the post war Golden Age of the British cinema and creating the classic form of screenplay that continues today Wartime cinema, Englishness and propaganda Ina Habermann, 2025-09-30 This book provides a fresh analysis of the wartime work of Michael Powell and Emeric Pressburger and their team the Archers It argues that in their earlier work Powell and Pressburger should be seen as middlebrow storytellers whose stories explore national identity in times of war Their wartime work is discussed in four phases the first phase covers their contributions to the phoney war the second traces their engagement with the people's war The third phase sees the Archers move beyond propaganda towards melodramas of Englishness The fourth phase dramatizes post war preoccupations with an increasing focus on memory and trauma The book also looks at Pressburger's later work including his two published novels Killing a Mouse on Sunday and The Glass Pearls The Routledge Companion to British Cinema History I.Q. Hunter, Laraine Porter, Justin Smith, 2017-01-12 This book offers a comprehensive and revisionist overview of British cinema as on the one hand a commercial entertainment industry and on the other a series of institutions centred on economics funding and relations to government The Cinema Book Bloomsbury Publishing, 2019-07-25 The Cinema Book is widely recognised as the ultimate guide to cinema Authoritative and comprehensive the third edition has been extensively revised updated and expanded in response to developments in cinema and cinema studies Lavishly illustrated in colour this edition features a wealth of exciting new sections and in depth case studies Sections address Hollywood and other World cinema histories key genres in both fiction and non fiction film issues such as stars technology and authorship and major theoretical approaches to understanding film E.A. Dupont and His Contribution to British Film Paul Matthew St. Pierre, 2010 The Cambridge Companion to English Melodrama Carolyn Williams, 2018-10-04 A lively and accessible account of the most popular form of nineteenth century English theatre and its continuing influence today British Silent Cinema and the Great War M. Hammond, M. Williams, 2011-10-04 This innovative book presents for the first time detailed histories of the impact of the Great War on British cinema in the silent period from actual war footage to fiction filmmaking In doing so it explores how cinema helped to shape the public memory of the war during the 1920s The Great War in Popular British Cinema of the 1920s L. Napper, 2015-04-20 This book discusses British cinema's representation of the Great War during the 1920s It argues that popular cinematic representations of the war offered surviving audiences a language through which to interpret their recent experience and traces the ways in which those interpretations changed during the decade British Film Jim Leach, 2004-08-30 This book explores British cinema in relation to its social political and cultural contexts Each chapter deals with a specific topic and includes close readings of key films from different historical periods Demonstrating the richness and variety of a national cinema that has traditionally struggled to define itself between the paradigms of Hollywood popular film and European art cinema British Film provides comprehensive coverage of British cinema and detailed discussion of specific films that can be used in tandem with screenings Transnational Trailblazers of Early Cinema Prof. Victoria Duckett, 2023-04-25 A free

ebook version of this title is available through Luminos University of California Press's Open Access publishing program Visit www.luminosoa.org to learn more At the forefront of the entertainment industries of the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries were singular actors Sarah Bernhardt Gabrielle Rjane and Mistinguett Talented and formidable women with global ambitions these performers forged connections with audiences across the world while pioneering the use of film and theatrics to gain international renown Transnational Trailblazers of Early Cinema traces how these women emerged from the Parisian periphery to become world famous stars Building upon extensive archival research in France England and the United States Victoria Duckett argues that through intrepid business prowess and the use of early multimedia to cultivate their celebrity image these three artists strengthened ties between countries continents and cultures during pivotal years of change

Directors in British and Irish Cinema Robert Murphy,2019-07-25 A guide to directors who have worked in the British and Irish film industries between 1895 and 2005 Each of its 980 entries on individuals directors gives a resume of the director's career evaluates their achievements and provides a complete filmography It is useful for those interested in film making in Britain and Ireland

Destination London Tim Bergfelder,Christian Cargnelli,2008-08-01 The legacy of emigrés in the British film industry from the silent film era until after the Second World War has been largely neglected in the scholarly literature Destination London is the first book to redress this imbalance Focusing on areas such as exile genre technological transfer professional training and education cross cultural exchange and representation it begins by mapping the reasons for this neglect before examining the contributions made to British cinema by emigré directors actors screenwriters cinematographers set designers and composers It goes on to assess the cultural and economic contexts of transnational industry collaborations in the 1920s artistic cosmopolitanism in the 1930s and anti Nazi propaganda in the 1940s

Early British Animation Malcolm Cook,2018-05-04 This book is the first history of British animated cartoons from the earliest period of cinema in the 1890s up to the late 1920s In this period cartoonists and performers from earlier traditions of print and stage entertainment came to film to expand their artistic practice bringing with them a range of techniques and ideas that shaped the development of British animation These were commercial rather than avant garde artists but they nevertheless saw the new medium of cinema as offering the potential to engage with modern concerns of the early 20th century be it the political and human turmoil of the First World War or new freedoms of the 1920s Cook's examination and reassessment of these films and their histories reveals their close attention and play with the way audiences saw the world As such this book offers new insight into the changing understanding of vision at that time as Britain's place in the world was reshaped in the early 20th century

Picturing home Hollie Price,2021-02-09 Picturing home examines the depiction of domestic life in British feature films made and released in the 1940s It explores how pictorial representations of home onscreen in this period re imagined modes of address that had been used during the interwar years to promote ideas about domestic modernity Picturing home provides a close analysis of domestic life as constructed in eight films contextualising them in relation to a broader offscreen culture surrounding the suburban home including magazines advertisements furniture catalogues and displays at the Daily Mail Ideal Home Exhibition In doing so it offers a new reading of British 1940s films which demonstrates how they trod a delicate path balancing prewar and postwar traditional and modern private and public concerns

Intercultural Screen Adaptation Michael Stewart,2020-03-27 Intercultural Screen Adaptation offers a wide ranging examination of how film and television adaptations and non adaptations interact with the cultural social and political environments of their national transnational and post national contexts With screen adaptations examined from across Britain Europe South America and Asia this book tests how examining the processes of adaptation across and within national frameworks challenges traditional debates around the concept of nation in film media and cultural studies With case studies of films such as Under the Skin 2013 and T2 Trainspotting 2017 as well as TV adaptations like War and Peace 2016 and Narcos 2015 2017 Intercultural Screen Adaptation offers readers an invigorating look at adaptations from a variety of critical perspectives incorporating the uses of landscape nostalgia and translation

The Art of Adapting Victorian Literature, 1848-1920 Dr Karen Laird,2015-08-28 In The Art of Adapting Victorian Literature 1848 1920 Karen E Laird alternates between readings of nineteenth century stage and twentieth century silent film adaptations to investigate the working practices of the first adapters of Victorian fiction Laird s juxtaposition between stage and screen brings to life the dynamic culture of literary adaptation as it developed throughout the long nineteenth century Focusing on Charlotte Bront s Jane Eyre Charles Dickens s David Copperfield and Wilkie Collins s The Woman in White Laird demonstrates how adaptations performed the valuable cultural work of expanding the original novel s readership across class and gender divides exporting the English novel to America and commemorating the novelists through adaptations that functioned as virtual literary tourism Bridging the divide between literary criticism film studies and theatre history Laird s book reveals how the Victorian adapters set the stage for our contemporary film adaptation industry

From silent screen to multi-screen Stuart Hanson,2019-01-04 Detailed and comprehensive this book is the first survey of cinema exhibition in Britain from its inception until the present Charting the development of cinema exhibition and cinema going in Britain from the first public film screening by the Lumi re Brothers at London s Regent Street Polytechnic in February 1896 through to the development of the multiplex and giant megaplex cinemas the history of cinema exhibition is placed in its wider social cultural and economic contexts Adopting a chronological structure this book takes into account how changes in the structure of the film industry especially regarding the exhibition sector impacted upon the cinema going experience From silent screen to multi screen will be valuable for social historians as well as scholars and students in film studies media studies and cultural history
