benefits to society only when there exists a cyclical integration of the three subsystems to enable appropriate linkages between technological design and the delivery platform so as to achieve optimal and sustained sanitation solutions. It also calls for the rethinking of sanitation to change the narrative towards more progressive trajectories such as resource recovery and reuse rather than just amelioration. It explores the contributions to food security, livelihood support, urban regeneration, rural development and even local economies. A new paradigm theory and ten principles for ensuring practical and effective sanitation solutions and management is presented. In addition, is a unique conceptual framework applicable to both developed and developing countries and to all stages, processes and cycles of delivering sanitation solutions that could critically evaluate, analyse and provide credible, adequate and appropriate sanitation solutions. All of which culminates in a strategic and practical application platform called Sanitation 4.0 that advocates for total rejuvenation and comprehensive overhaul with eight key strategic considerations for the implementation. Regenerative Sanitation: A New Paradigm For Sanitation 4.0 is inter and trans disciplinary and encourages collaboration between engineers, scientists, technologists, social scientists and others to provide effective and practical, user centred solutions. It includes relevant case studies, examples, exercise and future research recommendations. It is written as both a textbook for researchers and students as well as a practitioners guide for policymakers and professionals. Subject Guide to Books in Print, 2001
