Reunion Fleda Brown, 2007-03-15 The poems in Reunion insistently turn back toward sources toward home and the idea of home toward the body and toward objects that return us to ourselves They always surprise moving from quantum mechanics wildflowers and a Bobcat driver to a woman killed by a flying deer magma becoming rock and an invasion of flying ants Fleda Brown deftly unites daily frustrations and suffering with profound psychological physical and cosmic questions into some new importance This is a book of half states broken affiliations and dislocation The speaker leads the reader through the fragments of a flooded town that grows increasingly elusive the more one looks for it through a succession of Seoul love motels that further displace the outsider to unclaimed margins transformed into sites of creative invention through galleries of artwork where movement color and image are renewed through ekphrasis and through the world of the metatextual long poem The Cult Poem where good and bad moral binaries tangle into a rat s nest of our best and worst spiritual ambitions The poems and sequences of About Crows are marked by their artistic balance of the sublime and the profane of polyphony syntactical complexity clashing images cagey humor and unsettling sincerity all trying desperately to connect

Funny Jennifer Michael Hecht,2005 A tour de force Funny is a masterpiece of poetic as well as philosophic and comic invention It creates a musing world where the issues are philosophical but the focus is always on people on our most private ways of balancing our accounts The poems are psychological tender and humane and somehow ruthless This is poetry that swarms with ideas that revels in rhythmic intricacy and literary references but is also clear as a bell and tells marvelous stories
