Dictionary of Canadian Biography / Dictionnaire Biographique Du Canada Frances G. Halpenny, Jean

Hamelin, 1990-05 These biographies of Canadians are arranged chronologically by date of death Entries in each volume are listed alphabetically with bibliographies of source material and an index to names Northern Sandlots Colin D.

Howell, 1995-01-01 Northern Sandlots is the story of the rise and fall of regional baseball on the northeast coast of North America Colin Howell writes about the social and economic influence of baseball on community life in the Maritimes and New England during the past century from its earliest spread from cities and towns into the countryside to the advent of television and the withering of local semi pro leagues after the Second World War The history of sport is an important feature of the new social history Howell discusses how baseball has been deeply implicated in debates about class and gender race and ethnicity regionalism and nationalism work and play and the commercialization of leisure Baseball's often overlooked connection to medical and religious discourse is also explored Howell begins with the game's earliest days when it was being molded by progressive reformers to meet what they considered to be the needs of an emerging industrial society He then turns to the interwar years when baseball in the Maritimes became strictly amateur revealing an emerging sense of community solidarity and regional identity The game flourished at the community level after the Second World War before it eventually succumbed to the new commodified and nationally marketed sporting culture that accompanied the development of the modern consumer society Finally Howell shows that fundamental changes in the nature of capitalism after the war and in the economic and social reality of small towns and cities hastened the death of a century long tradition of competitive community level baseball Howell has written an informative and insightful social history that examines the transformation of Maritime community life from the 1860s to the late twentieth century CM ,1986 Sport in Canada Don Morrow, Kevin B.
