Parson Spaulding came in to preach his Christmas sermon he thought the house was a bit of the woods themselves But now the dear child looked truly and loyally into the old man s face as he went on from word to word and only thought of him and of how noble and true he was and of the Great Master whom he represented there and it was just as real to her and to Tom Cutts that they must look into the Heaven of heavens for life and strength as Parson Spaulding wanted it to be 18 And when Parson Spaulding had said the benediction and the Amen and when he had kissed Laura with her eyes full of tears and when he had given Tom Cutts joy then all the people came up in a double line and they all kissed Laura and they shook hands with Tom as if they would shake his hands off and in the half reticent methods of Tripp s Cove every lord and lady bright that was in Moses Marvel s parlor there said honored be the bravest knight beloved the fairest fair Christmas Eve on Lonesome Hell-Fer-Sartain and Other Stories... - Primary Source Edition John Fox Jr.,2014-02 This is a reproduction of a book published before 1923 This book may have occasional imperfections such as missing or blurred pages poor pictures errant marks etc that were either part of the original artifact or were introduced by the scanning process We believe this work is culturally important and despite the imperfections have elected to bring it back into print as part of our continuing commitment to the preservation of printed works worldwide We appreciate your understanding of the imperfections in the preservation process and hope you enjoy this valuable book The below data was compiled from various identification fields in the bibliographic record of this title This data is provided as an additional tool in helping to ensure edition identification Christmas Eve On Lonesome Hell Fer Sartain And Other Stories John Fox Jr Christmas Eve from "The Sketch-book" Washington Irving,1928
