Shape Of The Turtle Myth Art Cosmos:

The Shape of the Turtle Sarah Allan, 1991-02-21 Many Chinese philosophic concepts derive from an ancient cosmology. This work is the first reconstruction of the mythic thought of the Shang Dynasty ca 1700-1100 B.C. which laid the foundation for later Chinese patterns of thought. Allan regards the myth cosmology, divination, sacrificial ritual, and art of the Shang as different manifestations of a common religious system, and each is examined in turn, building up a coherent and consistent picture. Although primarily concerned with the Shang, this work also describes the manner in which Shang thought was transformed in the later textual tradition. Bulletin Östasiatiska museet, 1998 Encyclopedia of Historians and

Historical Writing Kelly Boyd, 2019-10-09 The Encyclopedia of Historians and Historical Writing contains over 800 entries ranging from Lord Acton and Anna Comnena to Howard Zinn and from Herodotus to Simon Schama. Over 300 contributors from around the world have composed critical assessments of historians from the beginning of historical writing to the present day, including individuals from related disciplines like Jürgen Habermas and Clifford Geertz, whose theoretical contributions have informed historical debate. Additionally, the Encyclopedia includes some 200 essays treating the development of national, regional, and topical historiographies from the Ancient Near East to the history of sexuality. In addition to the Western tradition, it includes substantial assessments of African, Asian, and Latin American historians and debates on gender and subaltern studies. The Ashgate Research Companion to Monsters and the Monstrous Asa Simon

Mittman, Peter J. Dendle, 2017-02-24 The field of monster studies has grown significantly over the past few years, and this companion provides a comprehensive guide to the study of monsters and the monstrous from historical, regional, and thematic perspectives. The collection reflects the truly multi-disciplinary nature of monster studies, bringing in scholars from literature, art history, religious studies, history, classics, and cultural and media studies. The companion will offer scholars and graduate students the first comprehensive and authoritative review of this emergent field. Encyclopedia of Chinese Philosophy

Antonio S. Cua, 2013-11-05 Featuring contributions from the world's most highly esteemed Asian philosophy scholars, this important new encyclopedia covers the complex and increasingly influential field of Chinese thought from earliest recorded times to the present day. Including coverage on the subject previously unavailable to English speakers, the Encyclopedia sheds light on the extensive range of concepts, movements, philosophical works, and thinkers that populate the field. It includes a thorough survey of the history of Chinese philosophy, entries on all major thinkers from Confucius to Mou Zongsan, essential topics such as aesthetics, moral philosophy, philosophy of government, and philosophy of literature, surveys of Confucianism in all historical periods, Zhou, Han, Tang, and onward, and in key regions outside China, schools of thought such as Mohism, Legalism, and Chinese Buddhism, trends in contemporary Chinese philosophy, and more. Of Tripod and Palate R.

Sterckx, 2005-10-06 Attitudes toward food and commensality constituted a central fiber in the social, religious, and political fabric of ancient Chinese society. The offering of sacrifices, the banqueting of guests, and the ritual preparation, prohibition, or consumption of food and drink were central elements in each of China's three main religious traditions: the Classicist Confucian tradition, religious Daoism, and Buddhism. What links late Shang and Zhou bronze vessels to Buddhist dietary codes or Daoist recipes for immortality is a poignant testimony that culinary activity, fasting and feasting governed not only human relationships but also fermented the communication between humans and the spirit world. In Of Tripod and Palate, leading scholars examine the relationship between secular and religious food culture in ancient China from various perspectives.

History of Science, History of Text Karine Chemla, 2005-08-01. Two main interacting ways they constitute that with which exploration into problems or questions is carried out. But they also constitute that which is exchanged between scholars or in other terms that which is shaped by one or by some for use by others. In these various dimensions, texts obviously depend on the means and technologies available for producing, reproducing, using, and organizing writings. In this regard, the contribution of a history of text is essential in helping us approach the various historical contexts from which our sources originate. However, there is more to it. While shaping texts as texts, the practitioners of the sciences may create new textual resources that intimately relate to the research carried on. One may think, for instance, of the process of introduction of formulas in mathematical texts. This aspect opens up a whole range of extremely interesting questions to which we will return at a later point. But practitioners of the sciences also rely on texts produced by themselves or others which they bring into play in various ways. More generally, they make use of textual resources of every kind that is available to them, reshaping them, restricting or enlarging them. Among these, one can think of ways of naming, syntax of statements or grammatical analysis, literary techniques, modes of shaping texts or parts of text, genres of text, and so on. In this sense, the practitioners depend on and draw on the textual cultures available to the social and professional groups to which they belong.

Buried Ideas Sarah Allan, 2015-10-21. Four Warring States texts discovered during recent decades challenge longstanding understandings of Chinese intellectual history. The discovery of previously unknown philosophical texts from the Axial Age is revolutionizing our understanding of Chinese intellectual history. Buried Ideas presents and discusses four texts found on brush-written slips of bamboo and their seemingly unprecedented political philosophy. Written in the regional script of Chu during the Warring States period (475–221 BCE), all of the works discuss Yao's abdication to Shun and are related to but differ significantly from the core texts of the classical period such as the Mencius and Zhuangzi. Notably, these works evince an unusually meritocratic stance and two even advocate abdication over hereditary succession as a political ideal. Sarah Allan includes full English translations and her own modern character editions of the four works examined: Tang Yizhi, Dao Ziga, Rongchengshi, and Baoxun. In addition, she provides an introduction to Chu script bamboo slip manuscripts and the complex issues inherent in deciphering them.

Making the New World Their Own Qiong Zhang, 2015-05-26. In Making the New World Their Own, Qiong Zhang offers a systematic study of how Chinese scholars in the late Ming and early Qing came to understand that the earth is shaped as a globe. This notion arose from their encounters with Matteo Ricci Giulio Aleni and other Jesuits These encounters formed a fascinating chapter in the early modern global integration of space It unfolded as a series of mutually constitutive and competing scholarly discourses that reverberated in fields from cosmology cartography and world geography to classical studies Zhang demonstrates how scholars such as Xiong Mingyu Fang Yizhi Jie Xuan Gu Yanwu and Hu Wei appropriated Jesuit ideas to rediscover China's place in the world and reconstitute their classical tradition Winner of the Chinese Historians in the United States CHUS 2015 Academic Excellence Award

Medieval Islamic Maps Karen C. Pinto, 2016-11-01 Hundreds of exceptional cartographic images are scattered throughout medieval and early modern Arabic Persian and Turkish manuscript collections The plethora of copies created around the Islamic world over the course of eight centuries testifies to the enduring importance of these medieval visions for the Muslim cartographic imagination With Medieval Islamic Maps historian Karen C Pinto brings us the first in depth exploration of medieval Islamic cartography from the mid tenth to the nineteenth century Pinto focuses on the distinct tradition of maps known collectively as the Book of Roads and Kingdoms Kitab al Masalik wa al Mamalik or KMMS examining them from three distinct angles iconography context and patronage She untangles the history of the KMMS maps traces their inception and evolution and analyzes them to reveal the identities of their creators painters and patrons as well as the vivid realities of the social and physical world they depicted In doing so Pinto develops innovative techniques for approaching the visual record of Islamic history explores how medieval Muslims perceived themselves and their world and brings Middle Eastern maps into the forefront of the study of the history of cartography
