Lectures on Modern Philosophy 1932-35 John Anderson, 2008-04-08 These lectures from the 1930s on David Hume Thomas Reid and William James trace the development of John Anderson's empirical realism helping to distinguish his position from English empiricism Scottish commonsense and direct realism radical empiricism and pragmatism They also demonstrate Anderson's approach to the study of the history of philosophy The lectures on David Hume place Anderson in direct opposition to his teacher and colleague at Edinburgh Norman Kemp Smith who heavily influenced the direction of Hume studies in the twentieth century The lectures on Thomas Reid are unique in Anderson's works in addressing this seminal figure in the Scottish philosophical tradition providing background reflections upon his own theory of mind as feeling and arguing for the critical importance of Freud for contemporary philosophical realists The lectures on William James offer a final accounting with this major American influence on Anderson's early philosophical development. For Anderson, there can be no reconciliation between rationalism and empiricism. The view of the development of modern philosophy as an emerging synthesis of these competing epistemological positions must be rejected. Rationalism is a persistent source of philosophical error, and the philosophies of the so-called empiricists are fundamentally weakened by their rationalist assumptions. The very idea of providing a foundation for knowledge in notions of self-certainty represents an inherently rationalist project and must be rejected by any truly empiricist philosophy.

Moonbeams of Mahamudra Dakpo Tashi Namgyal, 2019-03-12 A new translation of Tibet's most important manual for Mahamudra view and meditation. This classic Buddhist work, written in the sixteenth century, comprehensively presents the entire scope of the Tibetan Kagyu Mahamudra tradition. These profound yet accessible instructions focus on becoming familiar with the nature of one's mind as the primary means to realize ultimate reality and thus attain Buddhahood. Dakpo Tashi Namgyal's manual for the view and practice of Mahamudra is widely considered the single most important work on the subject, systematically introducing the view and associated meditation techniques in a progressive manner. Moonbeams of Mahamudra, along with the Ninth Karmapa Wangchuk Dorje's Dispelling the Darkness of Ignorance, are to this day some of the most studied texts on Mahamudra in the Kagyu monasteries throughout Tibet and the Himalayas. Elizabeth M. Callahan, a renowned translator of classical Kagyu literature, has provided new translations of these two texts along with ancillary materials and annotations, making this a genuine resource for both scholars and students of Tibetan Buddhism. This historic contribution therefore offers the necessary tools to properly study and apply the Mahamudra teachings in a modern context.
