The Science of Congregation Studies Leslie J. Francis, David W. Lankshear, 2022-01-01 During the past two decades the Science of Congregation Studies has blossomed significantly in the UK as well as within the USA and Australia In this illuminating and thought provoking volume Leslie J Francis research group draws on the Signs of Growth Survey conducted throughout the Anglican Diocese of Southwark to illustrate how the strength of combined qualitative and quantitative research methods can draw on the insights of psychological theory sociological theory and empirical theology to illuminate pressing questions of relevance to the sociology of religion psychology of religion practical theology and pastoral studies Individual chapters discuss the missing generation of young people the greying generation aged seventy and over how occasional churchgoers express belonging and commitment connections between psychological type and religious motivation and the distinctive characteristics of growing congregations 95 Questions to Shape the Future of Your Church Thomas G. Bandy, 2011-12-01 95 Questions to Shape the Future of Your Church is a comprehensive commentary on systemic change for the church It combines the spirit of Luther's 95 Theses with depth of insight akin to Luther's reformation catechism This book will be essential for every congregational denominational and seminary bookshelf Church leaders and members all yearn for a new Reformation that will realign Christian congregations with God's mission This book frames the right questions and focuses the right answers It helps church leaders do the hard work of assessment and planning The next Reformation will be an extraordinarily practical endeavor Leaders need to apply the tactics that will leverage the greatest change and guide the church deeper into the mystery of Christ and further in companionship with Christ We want to be faithful Now we know how to be faithful Making Disciples Sylvia Wilkey Collinson, 2007-01-01 The Christian faith community regards the making of disciples as a prime directive of Jesus himself though this theme is not dominant in contemporary models of teaching in the church This investigation seeks to develop a theory of discipling and to test its congruence as an effective educational strategy with the objectives of modern Christian faith communities After briefly examining the discipling model of teaching as practiced in the world of the Ancient Near East a detailed study of New Testament texts investigates the practice of discipling by Jesus and his followers and in the church of the first century An understanding of the concept of discipling is gained by gradually refining its definition as the study progresses through a contemporary examination of other informal models of education Religious and educational research findings are explored to enable the validity of the discipling model to be determined Finally the definition is used as a benchmark to examine various contemporary educational theories within the community of faith In contrast to the schooling model discipling has been shown to be an effective model for teaching attitudes values and behavior as well as knowledge and beliefs in today's church Its emphasis on commitment to learning relationships within a nurturing community and active involvement in the mission of Christ to the world and its capacity to adapt to differences in age culture ability and interests make it a model of teaching

Charting the Faith of Australians Philip Hughes, 2016-05 The last 50 years have seen more rapid change than at any time in human history Changes in technology have changed every aspect of life from contraception to computation from communication to community formation These changes have affected the ways in which Australians have sought meaning in their lives from the fulfilment of duty to the maximisation of subjective wellbeing They have affected deeply the role that religion has played in life with the focus moving from the preservation of tradition to personal spirituality Over the past 30 years the Christian Research

Association has charted these changes It has done so through the examination of census and survey data and through interviews with thousands of individuals It has examined these changes in youth culture and rural culture and has explored the impact of migration and the rise of the Pentecostal and charismatic movements It has suggested ways in which churches and schools might respond to these changes Part 1 of this book tells the story of these changes and how the Christian Research Association has charted them Part 2 contains contributions from various researchers discussing how the Christian Research Association has served the churches Part 3 explores some extensions of and parallels to the work of the Christian Research Association in relation to religious institutions migration and other research The story told in this book is a personal story for Dr Philip Hughes the senior research officer of the Christian Research Association from 1985 to 2016 But it is also a story of global significance as Christian and other religious institutions grapple with changes to their place in society and their roles in changing perceptions of life

Creating Generous Congregations David L. Heetland, 2020-07-21 A problem facing many churches today is the lack of strong leadership in the area of stewardship particularly the stewardship of financial resources Church leaders clergy and laity have had little or no training in this area and they feel uncomfortable and embarrassed in encouraging financial support for the church's ministries. Failure to provide decisive leadership in this area has had negative consequences for the church, including a decreasing percentage of charitable dollars directed toward churches and a growing lack of understanding among church members of the relationship between giving and spiritual growth. Creating Generous Congregations is written to assist church leaders in gaining necessary expertise in the stewardship of financial resources so that persons will be invited to grow spiritually and the various ministries of the church will flourish. Archiv Für Religionspsychologie, 2007 Sketch of T. The Local Church and Generational Change in Birmingham, 1945-2000 Dr. Ian Jones, 2012 An examination of how religious identity changed in twentieth century England using Birmingham as a case study to illuminate wider trends. The ongoing debate about secularisation and religious change in twentieth century Britain has paid little attention to the experience of those who swam against the cultural tide and continued to attend church. This study, based on extensive original archive and oral history research, redresses this imbalance with an exploration of church-based Christianity in post-war Birmingham, examining how churchgoers interpreted and responded to the changes that they saw in family, congregation, neighbourhood and wider society. One important theme is the significance of age and generational identity to patterns of religiosity amidst profound change in attitudes to youth, age and parenting, and growing evidence of a widening generation gap in Christian belief and practice. In addition to offering a new and distinctive perspective on the changing religious identity of late twentieth century English society, the book also provides a rare case study in the significance of age and generation in the social and cultural history of modern Britain. Ian Jones is the Director of the Saltley Trust, an educational charity, Birmingham. The Congregational Quarterly Joseph Sylvester Clark, Henry Martyn Dexter, Alonzo Hall Quint, Isaac Pendleton Langworthy, Christopher Cushing, Samuel Burnham, 1875
