Authority, Passion, and Subject-Centered Teaching Christopher J. Richmann, 2024-08-27 This book asserts that authority is a contested category and explores why traditional notions of authority are increasingly in tension with progressive and postmodern claims devolving into stalemate schizophrenia or power plays Offering a Christian framework as a philosophically coherent and practical alternative for teachers the author argues that Jesus provides a pattern from which to reconstruct our conception of teaching authority in ways that align with evidence informed teaching practices and cultivate intellectual virtues Rather than examine Jesus as teacher the book instead applies the central insight on authority that Jesus embodies This authority with which Jesus taught it argues stemmed from his passion that is passive even suffering experience The author aligns this to a subject centered conception of teaching as opposed to student centered or teacher centered in which the subject is the authority and knowing is identified with being acted upon by the subject Teaching with authority thereby becomes a matter of unveiling suffering with students and inviting them into their own suffering encounter with the subject Building on the work on Parker Palmer and exploring pedagogical practice from a Christian perspective this book will appeal to scholars and researchers with interests in higher education evidence based teaching educational theory religion and education and Christian history and thought New International Version Application Commentary James David P.
