The Shape of the Past Gordon Graham, 1997 Can human history as a whole be interpreted in any meaningful way Has there been real progress between stone age and space age Does history repeat itself Is there evidence of divine providence Questions such as these have fascinated thinkers and some of the greatest philosophers notably Kant and Hegel have turned their minds to philosophical history As a branch of philosophy however it has received little attention in the analytical tradition This pioneering work aims to bring the methods of analytical philosophy to the critical examination of some of these questions In addition to Hegel and Kant the discussion ranges over the writings of Augustine Machiavelli and Alasdair MacIntyre The ideas of historical progress secularization and the decline of religion cultural cycles historical rupture and God in history are all subjected to careful analysis Gordon Graham argues that although unfashionable the claim that history is the story of progress under the guidance of providence is one of the most plausible accounts of the shape of the past

American Schism Seth David Radwell, 2021-06-29 An enlightened exploration of history to unite a deeply divided America The political dialogue in America has collapsed Raw and bitter emotions such as anger and resentment have crowded out any logical debate In this investigative tracing of our nation s divergent roots author Seth David Radwell explains that only reasoned analysis and historical perspective can act as salves for the irrational political discourse that is raging at present Two disparate Americas have always coexisted and Radwell discovered that the surprising origin of these dual Americas was not an Enlightenment but two distinct Enlightenments that have been fiercely competing since the founding of our country Radwell argues that it is only by embracing Enlightenment principles that we can build a civilized progressive and tolerant society American Schism reveals the roots of the rifts in America since its founding and what is really dividing red and blue America the core issues that underlie all of today's bickering a detailed effective plan to move forward commencing what will be a long process of repair and reconciliation Seth David Radwell changes the nature of the political debate by fighting unreason with reason allowing Americans to firmly ground their differing points of view in rationality

The Shape of Irish History A.T.Q. Stewart,2001-10-10 In an exploration of the essential structure of what is called Irish history A T Q Stewart looks at some shadowy areas and asks provocative questions about popular misconceptions Even where such misconceptions have been refuted by academic research Stewart argues the information has not percolated into the general domain because modern historians writing mainly for one another have lost the wider audience Criticizing his own profession for purporting to be scientific while largely ignoring the implications of for example scientific archaeology Stewart also opens up the closed shop of Irish history for the general reader The result is a landmark book the terrain of Irish history will never be the same again

Captain Richard Ingle Edward Ingle,2021-04-24 In Captain Richard Ingle Edward Ingle offers a compelling historical narrative that intertwines the life of Richard Ingle a controversial figure of the 17th century with the tumultuous backdrop of colonial America Ingle skillfully employs vivid prose and meticulous research to explore themes of rebellion piracy and the clash of empires illustrating not only Ingle's exploits but also the broader implications of his actions during a period ripe with political tension and social upheaval The literary style is both engaging and informative weaving together detailed accounts and rich characterizations that bring the era to life Edward Ingle a dedicated historian and descendant of Richard Ingle draws on his familial ties to delve into the complexities of his ancestor's life Educated at esteemed institutions he has devoted his career to uncovering obscure yet significant historical narratives His personal connection to the subject matter imbues the text with a sense of intimacy and authenticity allowing readers to appreciate the nuances of Ingle's life and legacy This book is highly recommended for readers interested in the intricacies of American colonial history as well as for those drawn to adventure and the moral ambiguities of piracy Ingle's adept storytelling combined with his rigorous scholarship makes Captain Richard Ingle an essential addition to the library of any history enthusiast

A Cultural History of Climate Change Tom Bristow,Thomas H. Ford,2016-04-20 Charting innovative directions in the environmental humanities this book examines the cultural history of climate change under three broad headings history writing and politics Climate change compels us to rethink many of our traditional means of historical understanding and demands new ways of relating human knowledge action and representations to the dimensions of geological and evolutionary time To address these challenges this book positions our present moment of climatic knowledge within much longer histories of climatic experience Only in light of these histories it argues can we properly understand what climate means today across an array of discursive domains from politics literature and law to neighbourly conversation Its chapters identify turning points and experiments in the construction of climates and of atmospheres of sensation They examine how contemporary ecological thought has repoliticised the representation of nature and detail vital aspects of the history and prehistory of our climatic modernity This ground breaking text will be of great interest to researchers and postgraduate students in environmental history environmental governance history of ideas and science literature and eco criticism political theory cultural theory as well as all general readers interested in climate change

Tropical Despotisms David Allen Harvey,2024-09-15 Tropical Despotisms reveals the alarm that spread among France s Caribbean possessions during the period between the Seven Years War and the Revolution and the determination to cultivate a new patriotic community rooted in the Enlightenment principles of honor and civic virtue Following France s humiliating defeat at the hands of the British a loose coalition of frustrated and enlightened reformers hoped to promote imperial regeneration in order to restore France s wounded national pride stabilize and strengthen the Antillean colonies and bind the colonies more closely to the metropole David Allen Harvey describes the historical relationship between capitalism and slavery in the making of the modern world economy and moves beyond simplistic arguments by discussing the contingent and evolving dynamic between the two As a result he reveals how capitalism and slavery developed in tandem in the eighteenth century Caribbean but explains that reformers sought to enact a gradual transition to a free wage labor regime more in keeping with capitalism s ideal of free and voluntary contractual relationships between formally equal parties Tropical Despotisms provides a new perspective on the social and demographic structure in the French Antilles and the wider French Atlantic world Harvey uncovers not only the deep and critical debates around the issues of slavery and race but also the efforts by enlightened reformers as they proposed rethinking the political and economic structures by which the empire had been ruled rationalizing governing institutions and liberalizing trade

Encountering Earth Trevor George Hunsberger Bechtel,Matt Eaton,Tim Harvie,2018-05-14 One day Matthew Eaton was walking through an impromptu animal shelter display at his local pet store when suddenly an eight month old kitten dug his claws into Eaton s flesh Eaton recognized that the eyes of this cat and the curve of his claw compelled a response analogous to those found in the writings of Buber Levinas and Derrida And not just Eaton but a whole community of theologians have found themselves in an encounter with particular places and animals that demands rich theological reflection Eaton enlisted fellow editors Harvie and Bechtel to collect the essays in this volume in which theologians listen to horses rats snakes cats dogs and the earth itself who become new theological voices demanding a response In this volume the voice of the more than human world is heard as making theology possible These essays suggest that what we say theologically represents not simply ideas of our own making subsequently superimposed onto the natural world through our own discovery but rather flow from an expressive Earth With additional contributions from Kimberly Carfore Lisa E Dahill Celia Deane Drummond Heather Eaton Nathan Kowalsky Abigail Lofte Jame Schaefer Cristina D Vanin Mark Wallace Grace Y Kao Chris Carter John Berkman Laura Hobgood Teaching for Historical Literacy Matthew T. Downey, Kelly A. Long, 2015-07-30 Teaching for Historical Literacy combines the elements of historical literacy into a coherent instructional framework for teachers It identifies the role of historical literacy analyzes its importance in the evolving educational landscape and details the action steps necessary for teachers to implement its principles throughout a unit These steps are drawn from the reflections of real teachers grounded in educational research and consistent with the Common Core State Standards The instructional arc formed by authors Matthew T Downey and Kelly A Long takes teachers from start to finish from managing the prior learning of students to developing their metacognition and creating synthesis at the end of a unit of study It includes introducing topics by creating a conceptual overview helping students collect and analyze evidence and engaging students in multiple kinds of learning including factual procedural conceptual and metacognitive This book is a must have resource for teachers and students of teaching interested in improving their instructional skills building historical literacy and being at the forefront of the evolving field of history education
