Futures

The logo consists of the words "Shaping" and "Futures" stacked vertically. "Shaping" is in a dark teal, rounded sans-serif font, and "Futures" is in a light green, rounded sans-serif font. To the right of the text, there is a graphic element: a light green curved line that starts below "Futures" and curves upwards and to the right, ending near three small green leaves. The leaves are arranged in a small cluster, with one leaf pointing upwards and two pointing downwards.

The Future Knowledge Compendium Peter Ellyard, 2023-03-03 THRIVING IN THE 21ST CENTURY Humans have a unique capability to both understand their situation in the world and to envision and act to realise their aspirations in the emerging world And most of us would welcome knowing how we can become ever more skilful at both understanding and shaping the future of our emerging world so that we can thrive in it The 21st century is very different from the 20th century Globalisation the greatest economic prosperity uplifting machine humanity has ever invented and mass education are combining to sweep humanity into an emerging interdependent global village It is creating a global educated middle class that will number 5 billion in 2030 In this emerging world a world where our future prosperity will be increasingly based on metaphysical wealth on what we know 20th century nation first competitive win lose mindsets and agendas can no longer work These now yesteryear mindsets will instead undermine our best endeavours including making our future ever more climate and pandemic safe Humanity is now beginning to learn that it now has no option but to adopt planet first collaborative win win values and mindsets if it wishes to shape our emerging global village so that it can become liveable for all ever more prosperous harmonious inclusive sustainable healthy and secure Meeting these challenges successfully will require that humanity innovates for itself a new future knowledge curriculum so that it can economically thrive in a sustainable and humane manner Peter Ellyard has asked the question what would be the contents of such a curriculum In The Future Knowledge Compendium A Curriculum for Thriving in the 21st Century he has sought to answer this question

Foundations of the Planning Enterprise Patsy Healey, 2017-03-02 Planning Theory has a history of common debates about ideas and practices and is rooted in a critical concern for the improvement of human and environmental well being particularly as pursued through interventions which seek to shape environmental conditions and place qualities The first volume in this three volume series Foundations of the Planning Enterprise includes articles and papers which offer a unique general introduction to planning theory The authors review the subject's development its recurrent themes its contemporary preoccupation as rational scientific management and its relations to other fields The editors supplement the collection with an introductory overview as well as detailed introductions to each part This will be an essential purchase for planning libraries around the world

The De Gruyter Handbook of Automated Futures Vaike Fors, Martin Berg, Meike Brodersen, 2024-09-23 How does automation affect us our environment and our imaginations What actions should we take in response to automation Beyond grand narratives and technology driven visions of the future what more can automation offer With these questions in mind The De Gruyter Handbook of Automated Futures provides a framework for thinking about and implementing automation differently It consolidates automated futures as an inter and transdisciplinary research field embedding the imaginaries interactions and impacts of automation technology within their social historical societal cultural and political contexts Promoting a critical yet constructive and engaging agenda the handbook invites readers to collaborate with rather than resist automation agendas It does so by pushing the agenda for social science humanities and design beyond merely assessing and evaluating existing technologies Instead the handbook demonstrates how the humanities and social sciences are essential to the design and governance of sustainable sociotechnical systems Methodologically the handbook is underpinned by a pedagogical approach to staging co learning and co creation of automated futures with rather than simply for people In this way the handbook encourages readers to explore new and alternative modes of research fostering a deeper engagement with the evolving landscape of automation

Constructing Futures Paul Chan, Rachel Cooper, 2010-09-29 There is growing interest in future scenario planning of the construction industry but a disconnect between thinking about the future at the policy making level and implementing real change Constructing Futures industry leaders and futures thinking in construction takes a thematic approach to the future of the UK construction industry by presenting the results of a series of in depth interviews conducted with leading construction figures and structuring this material into chapters addressing the key contemporary issues in the industry These high profile figures are drawn from a wide range of stakeholder groups representing the realities of construction including architects client organisations public sector and private sector consultants contractors developers lobby groups with special interests policy makers professional institutions and trade unions A total of 15 influential figures were interviewed for the book from Sir Michael Latham and Bob White to Wayne Hemmingsway and Kevin McCloud Part One looks to the past by reviewing a series of foresight studies undertaken of the construction industry and re presenting stories of our interviewees lives to explain the development of leadership in the context of the construction industry In Part Two the authors look at the present and discuss two fundamental issues sustainable development and governance of the construction industry In Part Three the book concludes with an afterthought for the future highlighting key lessons learnt putting forward a series of research questions derived from this scholarly reflection of futures thinking in construction Throughout the authors juxtapose the views of the 15 influential figures interviewed with a review of the salient points found in the relevant and authoritative sources of theoretical literature both in the mainstream literature and the field of construction management This allows the reader to benefit from the practical insights of those interviews whilst gaining a rapid understanding of the key debates of the theoretical subject under scrutiny

European Futures Gilles Bertrand, Anna Michalski, Lucio R. Pench, 2000-11-27 This book is an innovative and highly original exercise in scenario building the aim of which is to investigate the future of Europe The scenarios investigated by the authors include triumphant markets turbulent neighbourhoods the hundred flowers shared responsibilities and creative societies These are five coherent and thought provoking images of Europe in 2010 Rather than present a definitive picture of the future of Europe the authors highlight the range of possible futures and the factors and actors that are likely to shape them Written in a narrative style the scenarios are grounded in a rigorous analysis of the main trends affecting Europe's future including demography technology globalisation and post modernity Footnotes to the Future Richard Parr, Footnotes to the Future asks a deceptively simple question how do we imagine what comes next In this bold and thoughtful work Richard Parr explores how our visions of the future are shaped not only by grand predictions and sweeping theories but by the small often overlooked footnotes we carry with us memories assumptions habits and the quiet traces of history From utopias and dystopias to personal daydreams of tomorrow Parr shows that the future is never a blank page but a palimpsest written over countless earlier drafts Drawing on philosophy literature and science he uncovers how the way we think about tomorrow reveals who we are today Insightful imaginative and deeply human Footnotes to the Future is a guide to rethinking possibility itself It reminds us that the future is not something waiting to happen it is something we are already writing line by line in the margins of the present

Eritrea's Quest for Freedom Russom Teklay, Its journey to independence etched in the annals of the 20th century reflects the aspirations of a people who dared to dream of sovereignty and freedom This exploration begins by tracing the roots of Eritrea s identity delving into the historical echoes that resonated with calls for Storytelling and the Future of Organizations David M. Boje,2011-04-26 Storytelling is part of social action and interaction that actually shapes the future of organizations Organization and management studies have overwhelmingly focused to date on rational narrative structures with beginnings middles and ends where narrative has proved to be a handy concept in qualitative studies Far less attention is given however to the more spontaneous and non staged storytelling that occurs in organizations Storytelling and the Future of Organizations explores the science and practice of antenarrative because that is how the future of organization is shaped Antenarrative is a term invented by David M Boje in 2001 and is defined as a bet on the future as before narrative linearity coherence and stability sets in Antenarrative is all about prospective sensemaking betting on the future before narrative retrospection fossilizes the past Antenarrative storytelling is therefore agential in ways that traditional narratology has yet to come to grips with This handbook contribution is bringing together a decade of scholarship on antenarrative It is the first volume to offer such a varied but systematic examination of non traditional narrative inquiry in the management realm organizing and developing its approach and providing new insights for management students and scholars

Designing Transformative Change Bori Fehér,Janka Csernák,2025-02-08 Design as a discipline has historically demonstrated responsiveness to societal developments and crises However amidst the multifaceted challenges of our times there is a growing discourse surrounding the potential for design to not only react but also serve as a catalyst for transformative change This discourse raises pivotal questions about the role of design in fostering hope generating realistic solutions and mitigating global and local crises Drawing upon interdisciplinary perspectives and empirical research as well as case studies the contributors to this volume critically examine the evolving role of designers in responding to contemporary crises
