Schweizer, Laura Hollengreen, Rebecca Rouse, 2014 Together with the Olympics world's fairs are one of the few regular international events of sufficient scale to showcase a spectrum of sights wonders learning opportunities technological advances and new or renewed urban districts and to present them all to a mass audience Meet Me at the Fair A World's Fair Reader breaks new ground in scholarship on world's fairs by incorporating a number of short new texts that investigate world's fairs in their multiple aspects political urban architectural anthropological sociological technological commercial popular and representational Contributors come from eight different countries and represent affiliations in academia museums and libraries professional and architectural firms non profit organizations and government regulatory agencies In taking the measure of both the material artifacts and the larger cultural production of world's fairs the volume presents its own phantasmagoria of disciplinary perspectives historical periods geographical locales media and messages mirroring the microcosmic form of the world's fair itself Technology, Pessimism, and Postmodernism Yaron Ezrahi, E.

Mendelsohn, Howard Segal, 2013-03-07 HOWARD P SEGAL FOR THE EDITORS In November 1979 the Humanities Department of the University of Michigan's College of Engineering sponsored a symposium on Technology and Pessimism The symposium included scholars from a variety of fields and carefully balanced critics and defenders of modern technology broadly defined Although by this point it was hardly revolutionary to suggest that technology was no longer automatically equated with optimism and in turn with unceasing social advance the idea of linking technology so explicitly with pessimism was bound to attract attention Among others John Noble Wilford a New York Times science and technology correspondent not only covered the symposium but also wrote about it at length in the Times the following week As Wilford observed Whatever their disagreements the participants agreed that a mood of pessimism is overtaking and may have already displaced the old optimistic view of history as a steady and cumulative expansion of human power the idea of inevitable progress born in the Scientific and Industrial Revolutions and dominant in the 19th century and for at least the first half of this century Such pessimism he continued is fed by growing doubts about society's ability to rein in the seemingly runaway forces of technology though the participants conceded that in many instances technology was more the symbol than the substance of the problem Experiencing Cities Mark Hutter, 2015-12-22 This extraordinary text for undergraduate urban students is a reflection of Mark Hutter's academic interests in urban sociology and his life long passion for experiencing city life His deep academic roots in the Chicago School of Sociology help inform and appreciate the variety of urban structures and processes and their effect on the everyday lives of people living in cities This text however extends the Chicago School perspective by combining its traditions with a social psychological perspective derived from symbolic interaction and also with a macro level examination of social organization social change stratification and power in the urban context informed by political economy This entirely new 3rd Edition has a global outlook on city life and a visual presentation unmatched among books in this genre National Geographic Traveler - New York Michael Durham, 2015 Fold out maps printed on inside front and back covers Exhibitions, Trade Fairs and Industrial Events Warwick Frost, Jennifer Laing, 2017-09-22 This book is the first to take an in depth examination of the breadth and scope of exhibitions trade fairs and other industrial events as a marketing tool or channel Industrial Events are planned events that are staged with the primary aim of marketing businesses industries and products This may lead to direct sales through these events as well as the development of brand image or building brand awareness penetration of new markets trials of new products and knowledge diffusion These business goals might be future focused with meetings of strategic players from across an industry or sector contributing to the shaping of future innovations and development Industrial events act as a marketplace but rather than seeing them as temporary or isolated activities they can be understood as cyclical clusters This is a multidisciplinary book written by an international group of leading academics offering a wide range of case studies that feature countries such as the United Kingdom United States of America Japan South Korea Saudi Arabia Australia and New Zealand It will appeal to students and researchers in the fields of cultural studies history tourism sociology economics and management The Glyndebourne Émigrés Nils Grosch, Beth Snyder, 2025-06-30 In its first years of existence in the 1930s the Glyndebourne Festival Opera set out to internationalize English opera culture both by attracting international artists and by giving migr s the chance to further hone skills developed in Central Europe and beyond This book writes the history of those immigrants into the history of Glyndebourne The 1964-1965 New York World's Fair: Creation and Legacy Bill Cotter, Bill Young, 2008-07-21 The 1964 1965 New York World s Fair Creation and Legacy uses rare previously unpublished photographs to examine the creation of the fair and the legacies left behind for future generations When the gates of the 1964 1965 New York World s Fair swung open on April 24 1964 the first of more than 51 million lucky visitors entered ready to witness the cutting edge of worldwide technology and progress Faced with a disappointing lack of foreign participants due to political contention the fair instead showcased the best of American industry and science While multimillion dollar pavilions predicted colonies on the moon and hotels under the ocean other forecasts such as the promises of computer technology have surpassed even the most optimistic predictions of the fair Paris Fashion and World War Two Lou Taylor, Marie McLoughlin, 2020-01-09 Winner of the Association of Dress Historians Book of the Year Award 2021 In 1939 fashion became an economic and symbolic sphere of great importance in France Invasive textile legislation rationing and threats from German and American couturiers were pushing the design and trade of Parisian style to its limits It is widely accepted that French fashion was severely curtailed as a result isolated from former foreign clients and deposed of its crown as global queen of fashion This pioneering book offers a different story Arguing that Paris retained its hold on the international haute couture industry right throughout WWII eminent dress historians and curators come together to show that amid political economic and cultural traumas Paris fashion remained very much alive under the Nazi occupation and on an international level Bringing exciting perspectives to challenge a familiar story and introducing new overseas trade links out of occupied France this book takes us from the salons of renowned couturiers such as Edward Molyneux and Robert Piguet French Vogue and Le Jardin des Modes and luxury Lyon silk factories to Rio de Janeiro Denmark and Switzerland and the great American department stores of New York Also comparing extravagant Paris occupation styles to austerity fashions of the UK and USA parallel industrial and design developments highlight the unresolvable tension between luxury fashion and the everyday realities of wartime life Showing that Paris strove to maintain world dominance as leader of couture through fashion journalism photography and exported fashion forecasting Paris Fashion and World War Two makes a significant contribution to the cultural history of fashion
