Adaptation Jack Boozer, 2009-06-03 Authoring a film adaptation of a literary source not only requires a media conversion but also a transformation as a result of the differing dramatic demands of cinema. The most critical central step in this transformation of a literary source to the screen is the writing of the screenplay. The screenplay usually serves to recruit producers, director and actors to attract capital investment and to give focus to the conception and production of the film project. Often undergoing multiple revisions prior to production, the screenplay represents the crucial decisions of writer and director that will determine how and to what end the film will imitate or depart from its original source. Authorship in Film Adaptation is an accessible provocative text that opens up new areas of discussion on the central process of adaptation surrounding the screenplay and screenwriter-director collaboration. In contrast to narrow binary comparisons of literary source text and film, the twelve essays in this collection also give attention to the underappreciated role of the screenplay and film pre-production that can signal the primary intention for a film. Divided into four parts, this collection looks first at the role of Hollywood's activist producers and major auteurs such as Hitchcock and Kubrick as they worked with screenwriters to formulate their audio-visual goals. The second part offers case studies of Devil in a Blue Dress and The Sweet Hereafter for which the directors wrote their own adapted screenplays. Considering the variety of writer-director working relationships that are possible, Part III focuses on adaptations that alter genre, time and place, and Part IV investigates adaptations that alter stories of romance, sexuality and ethnicity.

Books in Motion Mireia Aragay, 2005 Books in Motion addresses the hybrid interstitial field of film adaptation. The introductory essay integrates a retrospective survey of the development of adaptation studies with a forceful argument about their centrality to any history of culture, any discussion that is of the transformation and transmission of texts and meanings in and across cultures. The thirteen especially composed essays that follow are organised into four sections headed: Paradoxes of Fidelity, Authors/Auteurs, Adaptation Contexts, Intertexts, Adaptation and Beyond. Adaptation variously illustrates that claim by problematising the notion of fidelity, highlighting the role played by adaptation in relation to changing concepts of authorship and auteurism, exploring the extent to which the intelligibility of film adaptations is dependent on contextual and intertextual factors, and making a claim for the need to transcend any narrowly defined concept of adaptation in the study of adaptation. Discussion ranges from adaptations of established classics like A Tale of Two Cities, Frankenstein, Henry V, Le temps retrouvé, Mansfield Park, Pride and Prejudice, The Dead or Wuthering Heights to contemporary popular texts, films like Bridget Jones's Diary, Fools, The Governess, High Fidelity, The Hours, The Orchid Thief. Adaptation of the work of Doris Derricotte, the first Harry Potter novel, film or the adaptations made by Alfred Hitchcock, Stanley Kubrick and Walt Disney. This book will appeal to both a specialised readership and to those accessing the dynamic field of adaptation studies for the first time.

Charlie Kaufman Doreen Alexander Child, 2010-07-01 This revealing study looks at the influences and creative impulses that shape one of today's most progressive, thoughtful filmmakers. Charlie Kaufman got his start in television, but it was his first film, the eccentric Being John Malkovich, that won notice for his unique storytelling style With the aid of a plethora of contributions from those with whom the writer has worked Charlie Kaufman's Confessions of an Original Mind presents the intriguing story of that movie and others as it examines one of the most innovative voices in modern film This exhaustive study of Kaufman's life and work is organized chronologically to cover his early influences as well as his most recent ventures Highlights include explorations of Kaufman's collaboration with Being John Malkovich director Spike Jonze who stood him up for their first meeting and the writer's conflict with George Clooney about whom Kaufman says I can tell you that George Clooney is my least favorite person There are analyses of Human Nature Adaptation and the hauntingly beautiful Eternal Sunshine of the Spotless Mind which led to an Academy Award The book also studies Kaufman's sound plays for Theatre of the New Ear and his directorial debut Synecdoche New York

Beyond Adaptation Phyllis Frus, Christy Williams, 2010-03-16 Some film and novel revisions go so far beyond adaptation that they demand a new designation This critical collection explores movies plays essays comics and video games that supersede adaptation to radically transform their original sources Fifteen essays investigate a variety of texts that rework everything from literary classics to popular children's books demonstrating how these new stand alone creations critically engage their sources and contexts Particular attention is paid to parody intertextuality and fairy tale transformations in the examination of these works which occupy a unique narrative and creative space

Who Wrote That Movie? Chris Wehner, 2003 Before the director or actors can work their magic onscreen a writer often working alone faces the blank page and must be the first to create the magic Yet the writer is usually ignored by critics eager to give credit to the director or sometimes an actor Not only that the original vision of the screenwriter rarely makes it to the screen intact

Imagine if your favorite movie could have even been better had that image conscious actress not demanded changes to the script The screenplays and movies discussed include A Beautiful Mind Adaptation Almost Famous Ararat Black Hawk Down Blade 2 Cast Away Catch Me if You Can City by the Sea The Cell Dancer in the Dark Far From Heaven Frailty The Gift Gladiator John Q Insomnia In the Bedroom Memento MIB2 Minority Report Monster s Ball Ocean s Eleven Panic Room Pay it Forward Pearl Harbor Proof of Life Road to Perdition Signs Spy Game We Were Soldiers Windtalkers Traffic Unbreakable
