Records and Database Management Jeffrey Robert Stewart, Judith Scharle Greene, Judith A. Hickey, 1989 Records Management in the Computer Age Terry D. Lundgren, Carol A. Lundgren, 1989 Effective Document and Data Management Mr Bob Wiggins, 2012-08-01 Effective Document and Data Management illustrates the operational and strategic significance of how documents and data are captured managed and utilized Without a coherent and consistent approach the efficiency and effectiveness of the organization may be undermined by less poor management and use of its information The third edition of the book is restructured to take this broader view and to establish an organizational context in which information is management Along the way Bob Wiggins clarifies the distinction between information management data management and knowledge management helps make sense of the concept of an information life cycle to present and describe the processes and techniques of information and data management storage and retrieval uses worked examples to illustrate the coordinated application of data and process analysis and provides guidance on the application of appropriate project management techniques for document and records management projects In addition to the extensive references in the text the author is maintaining a companion website www.cura.org.uk where further information is provided The book will benefit a range of organizations and people from those senior managers who need to develop coherent and consistent business and IT strategies to information professionals such as records managers and librarians who will gain an appreciation of the impact of the technology and of how their particular areas of expertise can best be applied to system designers developers and implementers and finally to users The Application of Database Management to General Practice Records S. Kay, 1980 Aspects of the Computer-based Patient Record Marion J. Ball, 1992 In a recent study the Institute of Medicine IOM concluded that the computer based patient record is an essential technology for health care and recommended its prompt development and implementation This volume contains the position papers that formed the basis for the IOM's recommendations incl Information Technology and Computer Applications in Public Administration G. David Garson, 1999-01-01 Information Technology and Computer Applications in Public Administration Issues and Trends constitutes a survey of many of the most important dimensions of managing information technology in the public sector In Part I chapters address general policy and administrative issues The chapters of Part II represent applied information technology skills needed by public managers Provided by publisher Trust and Records in an Open Digital Environment Hrvoje Stančić, 2020-12-30 Trust and Records in an Open Digital Environment explores issues that arise when digital records are entrusted to the cloud and will help professionals to make informed choices in the context of a rapidly changing digital economy Showing that records need to ensure public trust especially in the era of alternative truths this volume argues that reliable resources which are openly accessible from governmental institutions e services archival institutions digital repositories and cloud based digital archives are the key to an open digital environment The book also demonstrates that current established practices need to be reviewed and amended to include the networked nature of the cloud based records to investigate the role of new players like cloud service providers CSP and assess the potential for implementing new disruptive technologies like blockchain Stan i and the contributors address these challenges by taking three themes state citizens and documentary form and discussing their interaction in the context of open government open access recordkeeping and digital preservation Exploring what is needed to enable the establishment of an open digital environment Trust and Records in an Open Digital Environment should be essential reading for data information document and records management professionals It will also be a key text for archivists librarians professors and students working in the information sciences and other related fields The Design of a Relational Database Management System for Historical Records Timothy James King,1979 Records and Database Management IBM Simu Stewart,1989-01-01 DATA SCIENCE FOR SALES ANALYSIS, FORECASTING, CLUSTERING, AND PREDICTION WITH PYTHON Vivian Siahaan,Rismon Hasiholan Sianipar,2023-07-28 In this comprehensive data science project focusing on sales analysis forecasting clustering and prediction with Python we embarked on an enlightening journey of data exploration and analysis Our primary objective was to gain valuable insights from the dataset and leverage the power of machine learning to make accurate predictions and informed decisions We began by meticulously exploring the dataset examining its structure and identifying any missing or inconsistent data By visualizing features distributions and conducting statistical analyses we gained a better understanding of the data s characteristics and potential challenges The first key aspect of the project was weekly sales forecasting We employed various machine learning regression models including Linear Regression Support Vector Regression Random Forest Regression Decision Tree Regression Gradient Boosting Regression Extreme Gradient Boosting Regression Light Gradient Boosting Regression KNN Regression Catboost Regression Na ve Bayes Regression and Multi Layer Perceptron Regression These models enabled us to predict weekly sales based on relevant features allowing us to uncover patterns and relationships between different factors and sales performance To optimize the performance of our regression models we employed grid search with cross validation This technique systematically explored hyperparameter combinations to find the optimal configuration maximizing the models accuracy and predictive capabilities Moving on to data segmentation we adopted the widely used K means clustering technique an unsupervised learning method The goal was to divide data into distinct segments By determining the optimal number of clusters through grid search with cross validation we ensured that the clustering accurately captured the underlying patterns in the data The next phase of the project focused on predicting the cluster of new customers using machine learning classifiers We employed powerful classifiers such as Logistic Regression K Nearest Neighbors Support Vector Decision Trees Random Forests Gradient Boosting Adaboost Extreme Gradient Boosting Light Gradient Boosting and Multi Layer Perceptron MLP to make accurate predictions Grid search with cross validation was again applied to fine tune the classifiers hyperparameters enhancing their performance Throughout the project we emphasized the significance of feature scaling techniques such as Min Max scaling and Standardization These preprocessing steps played a crucial role in ensuring that all features were on the same scale contributing equally during model training and improving the models interpretability Evaluation of our models was conducted using various metrics For regression tasks we utilized mean squared error while classification tasks employed accuracy precision recall and F1 score The use of cross validation helped validate the models robustness providing comprehensive assessments of their effectiveness Visualization played a vital role in presenting our findings effectively Utilizing libraries such as Matplotlib and Seaborn we created informative visualizations that facilitated the communication of complex insights to stakeholders and decision makers Throughout the project we followed an iterative approach refining our strategies through data preprocessing model training and hyperparameter tuning The grid search technique proved to be an invaluable tool in identifying the best parameter combinations resulting in more accurate predictions and meaningful customer segmentation In conclusion this data science project demonstrated the power of machine learning techniques in sales analysis forecasting and customer segmentation The insights and recommendations generated from the models can provide valuable guidance for businesses seeking to optimize sales strategies target marketing efforts and make data driven decisions to achieve growth and success The project showcases the importance of leveraging advanced analytical methods to unlock hidden patterns and unleash the full potential of data for business success
