Henning's Scholarly Works on Chinese Combative Traditions Stanley Henning,2018-03-09 What we think are Asian martial arts is usually derived by Hollywood images fanciful novels and a superficial idea of what role combatives played in the long histories of Far Eastern countries There are only a few people in the world who can truly be called scholars in this field A leading figure in the USA for the study of Chinese martial traditions is Stanley Henning This special anthology is a collection of Henning s superb articles that were previously published in the Journal of Asian Martial Arts including one he co wrote with Marnix Wells a leading British scholar on Chinese martial traditions Henning has little patience for those who miss the original essence of practical martial arts and who fell under the enticement of flowery boxing True combative arts are not play although they influenced other practices In the fifteen chapters included here you ll find a strong historic base for what the martial arts meant in old China and how they changed over the centuries In order to understand martial arts as they were evolving over dynastic periods it is necessary to look at the political and social settings technology and even geography and linguistics When it comes to research Henning presents clear facts and accurate conclusions At the same time he wisely states what is open to debate and requires further research Why is the chapter on Korean martial arts included in this anthology Because the Chinese had tremendous influence on their neighbors including Japan and Korea Thanks to a few scholars like Henning and Wells we are getting a clearer picture of just how much Chinese martial arts have influenced the fighting arts in other countries Leading scholars are having an impact on how Asian martial traditions are perceived understood and practiced Henning introduces the new wave of Chinese scholars who have presented their findings in various articles and books opening new vistas for all interested in this growing field of study at least for those who ready Chinese Fortunately Henning s work is in English This anthology is not an easy read for those unfamiliar with Chinese history the various dynasties the terminology and variety of martial systems However it will no doubt benefit the serious scholar of Chinese martial arts and hopefully others will likewise benefit by patiently reading each chapter to broaden their understanding of the rich martial culture of China

Art and Revolution in Latin America, 1910-1990 David Craven,2006-01-01 In this uniquely wide ranging book David Craven investigates the extraordinary impact of three Latin American revolutions on the visual arts and on cultural policy The three great upheavals in Mexico 1910 40 in Cuba 1959 89 and in Nicaragua 1979 90 were defining moments in twentieth century life in the Americas Craven discusses the structural logic of each movement s artistic project by whom how and for whom artworks were produced and assesses their legacies In each case he demonstrates how the consequences of the revolution reverberated in the arts and cultures far beyond national borders The book not only examines specific artworks originating from each revolution s attempt to deal with the challenge of socializing the arts but also the engagement of the working classes in Mexico Cuba and Nicaragua with a tradition of the fine arts made newly accessible through social transformation Craven considers how each revolution dealt with the pressing problem of creating a dialogical art one that reconfigures the existing artistic resource rather than one that just reproduces a populist art to keep things as they were In addition the author charts the impact on the revolutionary processes of theories of art and education articulated by such thinkers as John Dewey and Paulo Freire The book provides a fascinating new view of the Latin American revolutionaries from artists to political leaders who defined art as a fundamental force for the transformation of society and who bequeathed new ways of thinking about the relations among art ideology and class within a revolutionary process
